HEAVY DAMAGE CAUSED BY STORM

Vivid Flashes of Lightning Almost Changed Night Into Day

Reports From Many New England Cities Tell of Damage Caused by Storm

BOSTON, July 9.—An electrical storm which weather bureau officials described as more severe than any within their recollection passed over this city and suburbs early today and was still rumbling with rain accompaniment this forenoon. Vivid flashes of lightning almost changed night into day at times in the early morning hours and day was turned into night when darkness shut in later.

Lights were necessary for the conduct of business and automobile headlights flashed through the streets. Within a brief period more than two and a half inches of rain descended flooding the city streets and doing some damage to growing crops in the suburbs. The lightning caused a number of fires, but no serious loss.

Telephone and telegraph service was badly crippled by the storm and commuters' trains were long delayed.

The storms followed two days of extreme heat and humidity.

COMMISSIONER SALMON BACK AT CITY HALL

Commissioner John P. Salmon, out of St. John's hospital less than 24 hours, was at his office in city hall this morning and attended his first municipal council meeting in nearly two months.

Mr. Salmon came to the hall in his automobile, driven by William McShea, his private secretary, and walked about the building with the assistance of crutches. The commissioner seemed to be in excellent health despite his long confinement following a serious automobile accident in Tewksbury and told his friends that he was feeling fine.

The commissioner is able to walk easily with the aid of the crutches and in a pinch could get along without them, but he is taking no chances. The leg which was injured in the accident is still rather stiff, but is fast nearing recovery.

The commissioner was given a regular reception by his friends at the building and after the special meeting of the municipal council he divided right into work in his office on the first floor, received many callers and disposed of many routine matters.

BOMB CREATES PANIC IN MADRID

Gate of Ritz Hotel Shattered — Nobleman Blinded by Explosion

British Ambassador, Struck Lightly on Arm by Fragment of Bomb

MADRID, July 9.—(By the Associated Press)—The gate of the Ritz hotel here, was shattered by a bomb at midnight last night, creating a panic among the diners in the hostelry. One nobleman was blinded by the explosion.

The British ambassador, Sir Esme Howard, was struck lightly on the arm by a fragment of the bomb, but was not hurt.

SCHOONER ASHORE ON HOUSE ISLAND

PORTLAND, Me., July 9.—While trying to make this port in the fog during the night, the two-masted schooner Odell ran ashore on House Island, and at low tide today was on her beam ends, high and dry on the ledges. Her headstalls were carried away shortly before this misadventure, which she can be saved.

Captain C. G. Hurd and his crew of two men had no difficulty getting ashore. The schooner was bound to Boston from Winterport with 130 tons of coke. She was built at Bowdoinham in 1873, registered 141 tons gross, and is owned by the Boston ship Brokerage Co.

COUNCIL MAY ACT ON GAS CONTRACT

It is probable that the municipal council next Tuesday will vote to enter into a short-term contract with the Lowell Gas Light Co. for the furnishing of illuminating gas for the city's streets. Although it has been the custom of the city in the past to make such contracts for a period of five years, the present unsettled economical conditions will make it more or less of a gamble for either the company or the city to enter into an agreement for so extensive a period.

Mayor Thompson has conferred with President George S. Motley of the Gas company and has received the latter's assurance that the company will be willing to enter into a contract for whatever number of years the city wishes, the rate to continue as now. President Motley has told the mayor that the furnishing of gas to the city is but a small part of its business and that it does not expect to make money on its contract. In fact, it lost thousands of dollars on its last contract, he says, because of the sudden jump in the price of coal during the war.

Premier Agrees to Meet de Valera and Discuss Basis for Formal Conference

Irish Leader Last Night Consented to Go to London—Bloodshed Near End

Britain Seething With Peace Talk — Takes Precedence Over All Other Matters

LONDON, July 9.—Military patrols were withdrawn from the streets of Dublin last evening, says a Central News despatch. Many of the police auxiliaries were walking the streets leisurely fraternizing with civilians.

The truce between the Sinn Féin and the crown forces may, therefore, be said to be already begun, although the time for commencing it officially has been set for Monday noon.

The Irish office stated this afternoon that Eamon de Valera had issued instructions to his supporters to cease all attacks upon crown forces and civilians and discontinue military maneuvers of all kinds.

The instructions from Mr. de Valera, the Irish office said, also were to prohibit the use of arms, to abstain from interference with public or private property, and to discontinue all and prevent action likely to cause disturbance of the peace which might necessitate military interference.

The instructions, it was added, were effective from noon on Monday.

An air of the greatest optimism this morning pervaded No. 10 Downing street, the premier's official residence, and the Irish office, where the belief was freely voiced that there was every reason to hope the bloodshed in Ireland was nearing an end.

Lloyd George Accepts

LONDON, July 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Lloyd George will accept Eamon de Valera's proposal and meet the Irish republican leader to discuss the basis for a formal conference. The meeting will probably occur next week.

The only thing remaining is the fixing of the date, which Mr. Lloyd George will name in his reply to Mr. de Valera's letter.

The government is subordinating all other problems of state to the question of Irish peace, and is making every effort towards preparations for the meeting.

LIQUOR CASES IN COURT

Liquor cases netted two fines, totaling $250, in the police court this morning, while one defendant was defaulted and the case of another was continued. The officers of the raiding squad testified that last night, about 11:30 o'clock, they invaded the home of William Sleson, and found a 10-gallon still in operation, twenty-five bottles of homebrew, and a gallon of moonshine, together with sundry "empties." "Personal use" was the plea of the defendant, who was nevertheless fined $150.

Michael Vergos was fined $100, when Officers Winn, Clarke and Cooney told of entering his Adams street residence and finding moonshine under the sink and in a closet. The "personal use" was again invoked, and again invoked in vain.

Wladislaw Karkota, charged with unlawful keeping of liquor, failed to appear when his case was called this morning, and it was said that he has departed from Lowell. Judge Enright ordered a default, and a capias warrant for his arrest will be issued. The liquor squad visited his home on Winter street, July 1, and seized 100 bottles of Jamaica ginger, together with a quantity of moonshine.

The case of Vasillos Bassinos, charged with unlawful keeping of liquor, was continued to July 11. His abode was entered June 29, and several quarts of hooch were discovered, together with a number of empties.

GETS AFTER THE AUTHORITIES

Court Does Not Like Way Some Cases Are Being Handled

Government, He Says, Does Not Present Witnesses It Should Present

"Expense Saving" Excuse Does Not Appeal to His Honor

Mrs. Elizabeth Hammer paid a fine of $25 in the local police court this morning on a charge of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. A complaint charging her with driving away after causing damage without giving her name and address, was dismissed.

Judge Enright commented with some severity on the fact that the government put on its case without using as a witness Robert Hamilton, driver of a Ford with which Mrs. Hammer's machine collided. "There was a case the other day," he said, "involving a charge of manslaughter, in which the government went to trial without one of the principal witnesses." His Honor indicated that the verdict in that case might have been different, in the event that the absent witness had been heard. He criticized the authorities for not having Hamilton in court, saying "he ought to be here." Deputy Downey explained that the government's reason was "to save expense," and the court advised that no effort to save expenses be made under circumstances of this nature.

Officer Sullivan and another witness testified that on the night of June 24, when the fender of Mrs. Hammer's car was damaged by a crash near Middlesex and Thorndike streets, the defendant came down the hill at a rate of about 15 miles an hour. Judge Enright ruled that this was too fast. The defendant at first took an appeal, but later decided to pay the fine.

ELEMENTS AT THEIR WORST

Electrical Storm One of the Most Severe in the History of City

Two Days of Intense Heat Followed by Uproar in the Heavens

Many Places in and About the City Were Struck by Lightning

Many Telephones Put Out of Commission — Woman Struck by Lightning

Crashing, incessant claps of thunder, which followed a continuous series of sharp lightning flashes, and a down-pour of rain awoke most Lowell people from slumber shortly after two o'clock this morning and for nearly two hours held the city in the grip of one of the worst electrical storms in its history.

Rarely has this section been visited by so terrifying an exhibition of the elements at their worst. Women and children shuddered while vivid flashes of lightning played about their homes and reverberating crashes of thunder seemed to boom over their heads like a series of artillery regiments in action.

Not only was the storm exceptionally terrifying but it was also one of the most disastrous on record. Many places in and about the city were struck by lightning, at least one person was struck and seriously burned, trees were felled in all sections of the city and the paths in the city's parks washed away by the heavy downpour. Even more serious was the effect of the storm on the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s system here. Fully 500 lines were put out of order affecting between 1000 and 1200 subscribers. Every available man was pressed into service by the company this morning in an effort to remedy conditions.

Fortunately, the storm came during the few hours of the 24 that the street railway company does not operate its cars and thus, this company escaped the effects of the disastrous visitation.

STOCK MARKET

The following is a complete report, giving high, low and closing quotations:

NEW YORK, July 9.—Further price concessions were recorded in the early part of today's stock market session. Selling again centered around shares of doubtful dividend status. Sentiment was more bearish because of weakness in foreign exchange, especially the British rate. Extreme reactions of 1 to almost 4 points were made by prominent oils, motors, steels, equipments and specialties. These were largely retrieved with some substantial gains in the final hour when calls served to stabilize the list. The closing was strong. Sales approximated $30,000,000 shares.

Cotton Market
NEW YORK, July 9.—Cotton futures opened steady, July 12.04; Oct. 12.81; Dec. 12.57; Jan. 13.33; March 13.62 bid.
NEW YORK, July 9.—Spot cotton quiet; middling 12.65.
Cotton futures closed firm. July 12.23; Oct. 12.93; Dec. 13.33; Jan. 13.40; March 13.66.

Liberty Bonds
NEW YORK, July 9.—Liberty bonds closed: 2 1/2's $8.85; first 4's $7.04; second 4's $6.92 bid; first 4's $7.14; second 4's $7.00; third 4's $6.90; fourth 4's $7.05; victory 3 1/2's $8.35; victory 4's $8.24.

Money Market
NEW YORK, July 9.—Prime mercantile paper 6 1/4 at 6 1/4. Exchange weak. Sterling 60-day bills and commercial 60-day bills on banks 3.52 1/2; commercial 60-day bills 3.62 1/2; demand 3.67; cables 3.63 1/2. France demand 7.84; cables 7.86. Belgium demand 7.70; cables 7.72. Gold demand 4.67; cables 4.69. Silver demand 1.30; cables 1.31. Greece demand 3.50. Argentina demand 23.75. Brazilian demand 11.00; Montreal 12 1/2 per cent. discount. Government bonds easy; railroad bonds steady.

Foreign Exchanges
NEW YORK, July 9.—Exchange on London today fell to $3.65 for demand bills in this city. The fall was due to an overnight loss of two cents in the pound sterling and approximates the lowest quotation for this form of confidence for the year. Dealers in exchange reported only a nominal market.

Weakness in British exchange, which sympathetically affected virtually all continental rates, is ascribed to Great Britain's adverse trade balance, in which imports far exceed exports.

Cables received by international banks also indicate further selling of sterling exchange in London and Paris with heavier purchases of dollar or American exchange.

Demand sterling dropped to $3.67 before the close here on small offerings.

French, Belgian and Italian rates lost about 10 points, Swiss, 12, Dutch 22 to 25, Norwegian and Swedish 20 to 25.

to his home in this city today by Undertaker Joseph Alberi.

Ireneus Loran was well and favorably known in this city. He was born in Lowell and received his early education at St. Joseph's college. He attended high school for a year or two and then entered the vocational school, graduating from there last year after having completed a course in drafting and cabinet making. During the library loan drive he was a member of Troop 28, Boy Scouts, and his services in the drive were such that Uncle Sam awarded him a bronze medal.

The young man was an amateur actor, having taken part in numerous plays staged here and in other cities by Troupe Joyeuse. He was employed in the drafting department of the Saco-Lowell shops and was completing a two-weeks' vacation as the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guertin at Holyoke, when the accident occurred. On his vacation he was accompanied by his grandmother, Mrs. Theophile Guertin of this city. Deceased is survived by his parents, three brothers, Leon, who is at the O.M.I. convalescent at Lachine, Que., Omer and Roland, both of this city and two sisters, Solange and Therese.

Ireneus was a good swimmer and his parents' friends can only account for the accident, unless that he was stricken with cramps or got fast in something on the bottom of the lake. Grandly, the place where the accident occurred, is in the western part of the state.

JACK JOHNSON RELEASED FROM PRISON TODAY

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 9.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight pugilistic champion, was released from Leavenworth federal prison here shortly before 10 o'clock this morning after serving 10 months of a year's sentence for violation of the Mann act.

Johnson said today that he thought he still was good enough for two more years at or near the top of the heavyweight division. Then he would retire to California to watch over his business affairs from there, he said. Johnson declared that he did not like boxing, but that he wanted to get back in the game for two years at least.

"What I mean by I don't like boxing," Johnson said, "is that if there were an automobile race or a bull fight on one side and a big boxing bout on the other side of the street, you never would find me at the glove contest."

Pres. Harding Confers for Hour With Mellon, Hoover, Clark and Davis

WASHINGTON, July 9.—President Harding set aside an hour today for discussion of the railroad situation with Secretaries Mellon and Hoover, Chairman Clark of the Interstate Commerce commission and Director General Davis of the railroad administration.

Negotiations between the railroads and the treasury department under which the government would advance $500,000,000 to the carriers on account of the earnings spent in betterments during the federal control, are expected to be concluded soon. The expedient of railroad claims is another subject to which attention has been given.

OFFICE OF BURIAL AGENT

Salary and Authority to Care for Soldiers and Sailors Graves Recommended

A petition calling upon the municipal council to make the office of burial agent a salaried office and to empower the agent to take care of the graves of soldiers and sailors in the local cemeteries is being circulated among members of the G.A.R., the Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion, Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans, Ladies of the G.A.R., members of the Women's Relief corps and other residents who have friends or relatives who died in any of this country's wars.

The petition asks that arrangements be made to have a record of the death and place of burial of the veterans kept so that those who wish to do so may have the graves marked and cared for. The petitioners further ask that the burial agent be authorized to record all veterans' names, together with the outfit with which they served, the date of death, lot in which burial took place, etc., in a book which will later become the property of the city of Lowell.

EXAMINATION OF SACCO COMPLETED TODAY

DEDHAM, July 9.—Examination of Nicola Sacco in his trial for the murder of a South Braintree newspaper editor, was completed today. Sacco, whose illness necessitated adjournment of the afternoon session of the court yesterday, had recovered sufficiently to permit resumption of the trial.

Regarding the motions for a separate trial for Sacco, it became known that his counsel has requested the court to defer action on them.

Walter Nelles of New York, who was employed as attorney in the interests of Andrea Salsedo before his death, testified that he had been consulted in April, 1920, by a representative of the Italian Workers' Defense committee of New York and that a conversation with the defense committee, he had advised that all persons having radical tendencies get rid of it as soon as possible. On cross-examination, Mr. Nelles said that he had given this advice some time within a week before Salsedo's death. He could not place the time more definitely.

Sacco testified that it was as a result of what he learned on his way to New York prior to May 2 that he and Sacco wanted to get an automobile at West Bridgewater the night of May 5, to collect radical literature from several Italians in various parts of Plymouth county.

Felice Guadagni, editor of an Italian newspaper published in Boston, testified that he saw Sacco in a Boston restaurant on May 12, 1920, and at 1 o'clock, on April 16, 1920, the day of the murder. On cross-examination he said he was a member of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee.

At the conclusion of his testimony, court adjourned until Monday morning.

An Easy Way For Thin People to Put on Flesh and Gain Weight

Strong, straightforward advice to thin, undeveloped men and women.

If you are thin, scrawny and undeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, it's almost certain that your nervous system is at the bottom of the trouble. You can eat three, yes, four, substantial, fat producing meals a day but as long as your stomach has an insufficient supply of nerve force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little or no benefit.

In order to assimilate properly the nourishing food you eat and convert it into healthy tissue and fat the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first class shape. And until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh. Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy, stay-the-flesh and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty nervous digestion.

Thin, nervous, run-down people, however, with impoverished blood and half-starved looks are hailing with delight a quick and certain maker of solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for repairing faulty digestion and correcting nervous digestive troubles. In fact the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and within ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Fred Howard and leading druggists everywhere have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: While Evans' Triple Phosphates accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of solid, stay-the-flesh.

Lloyd George Accepts Offer

reported to the king details of yesterday's momentous conference at Dublin at which a truce in Ireland was arranged and steps were taken to bring together Eamon de Valera and Prime Minister Lloyd George. The whole country this morning was seething with talk over peace in Ireland.

The earl said that he and his colleagues had achieved their object, and that further progress toward peace in Ireland was a question to be discussed by Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. De Valera.

"Sentiment in Ireland," he said, in referring to the public attitude there, "is overwhelmingly in favor of a settlement and there is fervent hope it will be possible to arrive at a solution that will be permanent."

London Papers Comment

LONDON, July 9.—The result of the conference held in Dublin yesterday, at which Mr. De Valera decided to meet Mr. Lloyd George, was announced last evening, and several of this morning's newspapers did not comment on the new development. The London Times observed that Mr. De Valera's letter to the prime minister, in which he accepted the plan of a conference, was guarded and non-committal, adding:

"The fact remains, however, that Mr. De Valera has chosen the path of negotiation in preference to that of continued warfare."

The newspaper noted that Mr. Lloyd George "seems clearly to have understood the danger of continued warfare," and concluded by expressing belief that "the end of this secular trouble, ruinous to Ireland and humiliating to this country, is within measurable distance."

Warning was given by the Daily Herald, organ of labor, that a truce was not a peace, and that it would be folly to rejoice prematurely. The newspaper admitted, however, that the Irish truce should be the prelude of peace, and declared that ultimate responsibility rested upon British statesmen. It asked if those statesmen would show "the courage and generosity the situation demands."

Truce Declared

LONDON, July 9.—(By Associated Press)—A truce has been declared between England and Ireland. Eamon de Valera, Irish republican leader, contrary to the general expectation, has consented to come to London to discuss with Mr. Lloyd George the basis on which a settlement of the Irish question might be reached by the prime minister's proposed London conference.

General's Visit a Surprise

The principal events of this important day, however, occurred not in London, but in Dublin, and the most striking was the sensational appearance of De Valera and leading southern unionists.

The appearance of Sir Nevill came as a decided surprise. He arrived in an open car without an escort shortly before 6 o'clock. He was loudly cheered by crowds outside the Mansion House.

Sir Nevill was greeted by the lord mayor and conducted to the conference chamber, where he remained until 7 o'clock. When he left, the conferees were still in session.

Before the coming of Sir Nevill his aid-de-camp, Capt. Wright, visited the Mansion House and spent half an hour in the conference chamber. When he left the building to enter his automobile he was conducted through the crowd by the lord mayor.

Macready Meets De Valera

Gen. Sir Nevill Macready, British military commander in Ireland, appeared at the de Valera conference and it was not many hours later that the announcement was made that the prime minister's official residence in London that, in accordance with the premier's offer, and Mr. De Valera's reply, arrangements were going forward for the cessation of hostilities from Monday noon.

The king of England has been a leading figure in the developments up to the present, while Gen. Smuts, the South African premier, has acted as the pivot on which the peace movement has turned.

There is hope in London, and in Dublin, too, that peace must come out of the forces which are now engaged in seeking a settlement.

De Valera's Acceptance

The letter of Eamon de Valera to Prime Minister Lloyd George reads: "Sir—The desire you express on the part of the British government to end the centuries of conflict between the people of these two islands and to establish relations of neighborly harmony is the genuine desire of the people of Ireland."

"I have consulted with my colleagues and secured the views of representatives of the minority of our nation in regard to the invitation you have sent me. In reply I desire to say I am ready to meet and discuss with you on what basis such a conference as that proposed can reasonably hope to achieve the object desired. I am, sir, faithfully yours."

May Withdraw Troops

Another matter that has been widely discussed, arising out of the visit of the secretary of war, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, to the king Thursday, was the possibility that the military evacuation of Ireland is under consideration.

This, it is recalled, has been advocated by many prominent statesmen, including Viscount Grey, former secretary for foreign affairs.

Smuts Likely to Preside

Opinion still inclines to the idea that Gen. Smuts, owing to the important part he has taken in the preliminary negotiations, will be the first chairman of the London conference, even if Mr. Lloyd George presides during the later stages, as would be almost inevitable if constitutional questions were under discussion.

One of the witnesses called in told the court he used a genuine American blade on the left cheek and a German imitation on the right side of his face with the result that the latter produced unsatisfactory results.

Text of Premier's Letter

In his letter, Prime Minister Lloyd George said:

"The government fully realizes it would be impossible to conduct negotiations with any hope of achieving satisfactory results if there is bloodshed and violence in Ireland. It would disturb the atmosphere and make the attainment of peace difficult."

"As soon as we hear Mr. De Valera is prepared to enter into conference with the British government and to give instructions to those under his control to cease from all acts of violence, we should give instructions to the troops and police to suspend active operations against those who are engaged in this unfortunate conflict."

VICTOR FORTUNA HERO

Collinsville Boy Rescues 13-Year-Old Girl From Drowning

Victor Fortuna, 13 years old, proved himself a hero late yesterday afternoon when he rescued Katherine O'Brien, also 13 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. O'Brien of Mammoth road, Collinsville, from drowning in Beaver brook, Collinsville.

The O'Brien girl, who could not swim, was endeavoring to learn to do so with the aid of water wings. She had gone considerable distance from shore when the wings broke and she became helpless in the water. There were a number of very young children in the neighborhood but the Fortuna boy was the only one able to help the unfortunate bather. She was "going down for the last time when he became aware of her plight and without divesting himself of his clothing, he dived in and brought her to safety. Resuscitation was effected after she had been brought to shore. Young Fortuna lives in Pine avenue, Collinsville.

TWO MORE CHILDREN KIDNAPPED IN N. J.

NEW YORK, July 9.—While the cities and hills of northern New Jersey and even the piers of New York were being searched yesterday for the kidnapped baby, Margaret Eloyne Torrens, carried off on Thursday for the summer home of her grandfather, James Simpson, near Pompton lakes, it became known that two children had been stolen under similar circumstances at the other end of the state—Cape May.

They were Jack Woodland, 3 1/2 years old, and Margaret Woodland, 2 years old, the children of Mrs. Robert Emmet Woodland of 511 Hughes street, Cape May. They disappeared Thursday. Their mother is a grand-niece of John Wilbraham, a retired Philadelphia manufacturer who lives in Myrtle avenue, West Cape May, and is locally reputed to be worth half a million dollars. Like the mother of the Torrens baby, Mrs. Woodland has been living apart from her husband. She said yesterday that she left him a year and a half ago and that he is now supposed to be working for the Terminal railroad in Atlanta, Ga.

COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING

At a special meeting this morning, the municipal council adopted an order to lay a sewer in Fort Hill avenue, to drain the new addition being erected on the Rogers Hall school property.

The sewer was petitioned for by the trustees of the school who waived their right to a hearing in the matter. Commissioner Murphy, after an investigation, recommended that $40 feet of ten-inch pipe, leading from the end of the present sewer near Astor street, be laid at an estimated cost of $1515. The probable amount of the bill on the abutter, the Rogers Hall school, is $250.

The council received and ordered placed on file a protest from the local union of the United Leather Workers of America, against the employment of contract labor on city work.

It was voted to approve the purchase of an Alpert lamp at the city of the isolation hospital for $150 and a requisition for 20 tons of hay for the health yard was also approved.

A petition from residents of Middlesex park asking that cinders be laid on the sidewalks and street in that section. Referred to Commissioner Murphy.

Monthly bills, including a number from the isolation hospital, which were unusually large because of the fact that several items which were classified under maintenance should have come under loans, according to Mayor Thompson, were approved and the city auditor was directed to issue a warrant on the city treasurer for their payment.

All members of the council with the exception of Commissioner Murphy were present at the meeting which was called at 11:20 and adjourned at 11:40 until Tuesday next at 10 o'clock.

WHEN ENGINE MISSES SPARK PLUG DEFECTS

Spark Plug Is the First Thing to Test Out

KNOWLEDGE OF THIS PART ESSENTIAL TO DRIVERS

Knowledge of the spark plug is most essential for the proper operation of an automobile. Yet this simple little instrument has sent many motorists to garages for help just because they hadn't learned its construction and function.

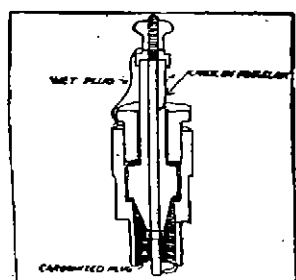

The spark plug is the first thing to test when the engine misses fire. The spark gap may be too wide or the points may touch. The plug may reach too far into the cylinder or not far enough. The terminal may not be tight. There may be a carbon deposit on the plug inside the cylinder. The porcelain may have cracked or moisture may have accumulated on the plug.

One way to detect the missing spark plug is to open the relief cocks, one at a time, while the engine is running. If a flame is visible and a sharp explosion is heard, the cylinder is working well. If there is no flame and a hiss is heard, the spark plug should be taken out and examined.

To test the spark plug, place it on the cylinder head, with wire connected and switch on. Crank the engine slowly. If there is a spark at the gap, the plug is good.

Otherwise, the spark plug should be taken apart and, if it is not cracked, should be cleaned and the spark gap set properly.

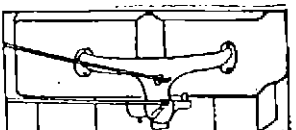

A French curate still does his rounds in an automobile that was built in 1891.

SIMPLE GAS SAVER

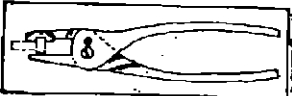

Owners of light cars can fit up this contrivance to save gas. Drill and tap a small hole in the intake manifold and screw in a petcock to fit. Attach a red to reach to the dashboard, so that the cock can be adjusted from the seat. After the engine is warmed up, this cock may be opened to let in more air and cut down the amount of gasoline.

The number of deaths from automobile accidents has dropped from 2.5 for every 1000 cars in 1915, to 1.2 in 1920.

PLIER HOLDS TIGHT

The inventor of a small attachment to plier jaws claims nothing can slip in its grip. It is fitted to pivot or rock so that it may be adjusted to grasp any irregular object.

VISIBLE INTENSIFIER

The latest spark plug sold is one with transparent insulation and a visible intensifier gap. The width of the gap can be varied by an adjusting stem at the top. The driver can always tell whether current is passing through the plug. If the plug is fouled the first gap accumulates enough current to jump the carbonized gap in the cylinder.

Youngest Monarch, Who Reigns But Does Not Rule, Coming to U. S.

BORIS, TSAR OF BULGARIA

BY MILTON BRONNER
LONDON, July 9.—If Boris Third, Tsar of Bulgaria, comes to America this fall as announced, Americans will see not only the youngest monarch in Europe, but one who is at the head of the most democratic people in Europe.

Boris reigns, but does not rule. As a matter of fact, the rulers of Bulgaria today are the peasants acting through the Agrarian party. Peasant farmers constitute 85 per cent. of the population. Their wheat and pigs are the country's chief source of wealth.

Boris came to the throne when his country was all shot to pieces. It had been in two wars in recent years and lost both. The first was when Bulgaria battled with Serbia and Greece and was thoroughly trounced. Then in the recent war, Boris' father, Tsar Ferdinand, was so pro-German that he took his country in on the side of the Central powers and once more Bulgaria was wrecked.

THE STRAND

Another Big Three-Feature Program First Three Days of the Week at the Strand

Besides the assurance of "cool and comfortable" surroundings, the Strand management announces another excellent three-feature program for the first three days of the week. Ralph Ince will present one of his latest Sennick productions, "Red Foam," and Carmel Myers will be shown in "The Dangerous Moment." The third and not the least enjoyable feature on the bill will be Larry Semon in "The Rent Collector." The program for the last three days of the week will be made up of Alice Joyce in "Her Lord and Master," and human comedy in "The Mystery Road." "Red Foam," brings to light an unusual story of small town life. The basic structure of "Red Foam" is said to be purchased with a view to appeal, and the general atmosphere of the plot creates a feeling of expectancy for the tremendous climax which is to come. It chronicles faithfully the workings of a small town community, and the resultant clash that develops in the unfolding is said to reveal Mr. Ince at his best as a director. The human philosophy of "Red Foam" is said to be the leading feature in the picture, is said to have greater opportunity than has hitherto been given her for striking characterization. Other members of the cast include Huntley Gordon, Harry Tighe, Freeman Barnes, Peggy Worth, John Butler and Daniel Ray. William H. Barry is known among thousands of readers because of his regular and frequent contributions to the leading fiction magazines. Edward Montague, author of the story which was published in the Saturday Evening Post.

"The Dangerous Moment," Carmel Myers' most recent screen success, will have its initial local showing during the first three days of the week. Picturesque Greenwich Village, the Bohemian quarter of New York, serves the story as a background and the plot develops amid an atmosphere that enhances the dramatic values of the material. With the opening of play Miss Myers is seen as a waitress in a dingy little Greek restaurant. One place is frequented by literateurs, artists, writers and interesting community descriptions of the life of the neighborhood are applied art. So save herself from the advances of the son of the woman who owns the cafe, she hits him in the chin. The lights go out from the police, she takes refuge in the studio of an artist where for several days she lives in fear and trembling. The story ends happily, but not until she has had some rather trying experiences. There are some real surprises promised during the progress of the piece.

Larry Semon in "Rent Collector" is one of his funniest comedy creations. It shows the dumbest Larry at the best, and guarantees a genuine surprise in laugh-making.

"For the last three days of the week, starting with matinee on Thursday, Alice Joyce, always a prime favorite here, will be shown in 'Her Lord and Master,' a production of exceptional worth. The charming star is seen in Line" and Mae Murray in "Idols of Clay." He also played important roles in other Paramount pictures and something ago he was sent to England to head the Paramount company in London. His first appearance in a British-made Paramount picture was in "Appearances" in which he had the leading role. In "The Mystery Road" he is seen as the son of an English Earl, who becomes the central figure in a tragic story filled with scenes that thrill.

Gerald Dombey, son of the Earl of Farrington, while spending his vacation in the south of England, meets Vera Lynaugh, a girl of a town in the vicinity. A flirtation starts and Vera becomes infatuated with Gerald. On the eve of his departure for home, the inevitable happens. Reaching his home, he is filled with remorse, for there has come to him a vision of the mystery road—the road of life, that leads one knows not whither.

To add to his troubles, he thinks of Edward, his childhood friend, to whom he is betrothed. In desperation he confesses his sin to her. She is broken hearted and leaves him. Gerald returns to college, later goes abroad. As time passes, Susan grows into a beautiful woman and is awaiting Gerald's return from France where he has been motoring with his chum, Christopher. They stop at Nice and on a road they see lying in the road the form of a young woman. She is Myrtle Sargent, who, persecuted at home by a cruel father and stepmother, has sought relief in flight.

Gerald installs Myrtle in a fine hotel suite and provides her with new clothing and a maid. He promises to meet Myrtle. At a fashionable restaurant, Gerald meets Vera and they plan further meetings. That night, on going to her villa, he discovers it to be a gambling resort, conducted by Vera's brother. Vera protests the meeting of Gerald, but she finally acquiesces. When the picture closes, Gerald is robbed through her connivance.

From this point on, the action becomes increasingly absorbing and a most unusual denouement is reached.

TO CAMP AT CAPITAL TILL HE GETS MONEY

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Mayor Bradford of Quincy, Mass., presented a bill to Secretary Davis yesterday for $60,000 for money which he says the government agreed to pay in lieu of taxes on the assessed valuation of the housing project built in the city during the war.

Senator Lodge and other congressmen from Massachusetts have interested themselves in collecting the money, and Secretary Davis said yesterday that Mayor Bradford had indicated his intentions of remaining in Washington until he got the money.

CHAS. A. PROUTY DEAD

Prominent Vermont Man on Interstate Commerce Commission 17 Years

NEWPORT, Vt., July 9.—Charles A. Prouty, aged 53 director of valuation of the interstate commerce commission, a member of that body for more than 17 years, died at his home here yesterday morning.

Mr. Prouty arrived here from Washington about two months ago in a private car. He has been failing steadily since that time.

Mr. Prouty was the man who gave the commission a standing both in law and government, and organized it into the force it has become; the man who, in 1912, conducted the investigation into the affairs of the New York, New Haven and Hartford system which resulted in the retirement of President Mellen; the man through whose efforts something like an equitable rate system was established on all the railroads, and finally the man on whom was placed the responsibility of figuring out the valuation of the roads of the entire country—one of the biggest jobs ever placed on the shoulders of one man in this country.

He was born in this city in 1833 and was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1855. He taught school for several years, practiced law here and served one two-year term in the Vermont house of representatives. For some time he was general counsel for the Rutland and the Central Vermont railroads. In 1915 Dartmouth college conferred upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

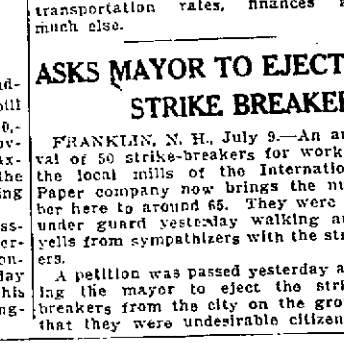

In his capacity as Interstate Commerce Commissioner Mr. Prouty presided over many hearings of the utmost importance to New England's complicated railroad affairs. He thoroughly understood railroad conditions in this section of the country, having also a remarkable grasp of the details of railroad management, through his long association with the Central Vermont and Rutland roads, as well as a knowledge of the problems of transportation rates, finances and much else.

DEBATE ON SOLDIER BONUS IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Passage by the senate of the Willis-Campbell anti-beer bill was believed to be indicated by the vote of 43 to 16 yesterday to begin debate on the measure. Ten republicans and six democrats voted against beginning discussion of the bill, which passed the house last week. They were:

Democrats—Broussard, Gerry, King, Pomeroy, Walsh of Massachusetts and Watson of Georgia.

Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota, in charge of the bill, insisted upon opening debate yesterday, despite the time limit of one hour.

Attacks on the bill were made by Senators Spencer and Wadsworth. Senator Knox wanted to know whether the government could legally guarantee the purity of liquor prescribed. The Pennsylvania senator said he planned to propose an amendment which would make sure that the sick obtained pure liquor. Senator Gerry,

Home of Jacob's Sisters in Kansas City Is Refuge For Animals

She spends her days as an accountant in Kansas City, in the midst of a busy clicking of typewriters and crisp columns of figures.

But as the cool of evening comes and she seeks her home on the outskirts of Kansas City, Miss Henrietta H. Jacobs forgets the figures, and the typewriters and the office routine and becomes a ministering fairy.

For there at her home, hugged on all sides by foliage and colorful flowers, a little world of animal folk await the coming of Miss Jacobs. They know that then it is time for dinner and perhaps to show off a new stunt or two taught them during the day by Miss Jacobs' sister, Miss Sarah.

Families

The Jacobs home is a sort of refuge for animals which have come, as humans sometimes do, wanderers. There are now about ten dogs, 20 cats and two parrots budding around together on the enclosed acre which the sisters own. It isn't at all unusual to see a family of kittens napping between the huge shaggy paws of Peter. Indeed Peter feels a sort of responsibility in their up-bringing and if he can't purr to the family he does the best he can with a low fatherly growling.

Peggy has a downright affection for the parrots and instead of following the feline tendency toward feathered folk, she shares her chair with them and when they are caged puts a dainty paw in for friendly inspection.

Animals

Harmona, an English shepherd dog, lost his sight defending Miss Sarah Jacobs from a rattlesnake. The dog pounced on the snake and suffered the poisonous bite which was intended for Miss Jacobs. Cinderella, when she limped into the home, was so wounded that they believed chloroform would have to be given her. But

Fighting Disease Germs

There is a popular idea that most sickness is caused by a germ of the disease finding entrance to our bodies through the food we eat, the water or milk we drink or the air we breathe. This is true as far as it goes, but it is also true that disease germs are entering our bodies every day without causing disease.

The reason for this is that there are forces within the body that are constantly fighting these disease germs and it is only when this defense is weakened that the germs get the upper hand and we become ill. One of the most powerful of these forces that work for health is rich, red blood. Good, healthy blood increases the resistance of the body to the diseases that are always threatening. It is easier to keep up this resistance by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, eating proper food, avoiding articles of food that do not agree with us and getting plenty of fresh air day and night, than it is to cure the disease after it gets a foothold. Keep up the resistance of your body to disease by these tonic pills, which you can get at any drug store, and you will avoid such sickness.

REPUBLICANS IN TURMOIL OVER TARIFF BILL IN CONGRESS

Senator Walsh On Speaking Tours—Mrs. Rogers Popular Worker for Disabled Soldiers—President Harding Travels In Pullman Like a Private Citizen

(Special to The Sun.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9th.—With the republicans sparring and fencing for sectional advantage, the top-heavy majority in the house shouting for recognition of the one hundred or more new and inexperienced members, it's not all a great and glorious feeling that the leaders of that party are experiencing. President Harding is unquestionably a great hand to smooth out difficulties, and is doing his best to cut in and save the day, but even then Senator Lodge in the senate and Mr. Mondell in the house are not leading an easy path. Take the matter of a senate adjournment for instance. Mr. Lodge proposed a four weeks' adjournment while the house backed and heaved the tariff bill into shape. That suggestion met the favor of the old timers, who knew the uselessness of trying to get miscellaneous legislation through congress in a mid-summer session called to consider the revenue and tariff. But the new man balked and joined in with senators who have an axe to grind in the way of bills already out of committee, and the proposed recess or adjournment fell through, although the plan may be revived in short time. Norris of Kansas is apt to kick over the traces, and in this case proved a powerful "off-horse," declining to enter into any such agreement until the farmers of his section have secured certain legislation for which they are clamoring. Kenyon of Iowa, another man who often refuses to follow in the path laid out by congress, is dealing with uplift and welfare movements must be given to the front before he would consent to a recess. This upset all the plans of the leaders and now other tactics must be employed to bring about the July-August recess, for which congress, as a whole is still hopeful.

Senator Walsh's Statement

Senator David I. Walsh, who is one of the most forceful democrats in the senate, has been away most of the week, on a speaking trip which took him to New York and elsewhere. Mr. Walsh was selected to sound the keynote of the next campaign. He did not hesitate to put the defeat of the democratic party last fall squarely on the shoulders of supporters of the Wilson League of Nations. Before leaving for his New York trip Senator Walsh said: "I shall urge democrats to return to old fashioned democracy, to defend the country against class legislation, to work against the spread of radicalism and oppression and to bring about the return of true democratic principles and policies."

Senator Walsh has been foremost in advocating an investigation of the very important subject of the care of wounded and sick veterans of the great war, including coal and meat. The latter topics commanding his special attention.

Congressman Rogers' Speech

Congressman Rogers of Lowell made a stirring speech in favor of the peace resolution, when it was up for final passage. He praised the democratic floor leader for his support of the measure and urged the dissenting democrats to change their views and follow the path that leads to peace. Flood of Virginia, an original League of Nations man, and former chairman of the foreign affairs committee, worked hard to keep his man in line, against the resolution, or Mr. Rogers would have made many converts and the democratic score in favor of the peace resolution would have been much larger.

HIGHWAY NEWS FOR MOTORISTS

(Special to The Sun.)

BOSTON, July 9.—Two important state highway improvement projects have been completed during the past week, the highway commission state house announces today, and two routes, which are in great demand with motorists are once more open to travel.

One of these is the route between Boston and Plymouth via Hanover. This route, seven miles shorter than the shore route and practically free from dangerous curves, has recently been reconstructed or resurfaced, and now presents a fine smooth means of approach to the festivities at Plymouth.

The second is the Newburyport turnpike which, while not open throughout its length, nevertheless at

Mrs. Rogers Aids Soldiers

Hon. John Jacob Rogers, member of congress from the 5th Massachusetts district has the double good fortune to be a man of prominence and recognized ability and also to have a wife who holds a position second to none in the hearts of the wounded soldiers out at the Walter Reed military hospital. Mrs. Rogers donned a Red Cross uniform and began work at the hospital when the United States entered the war. Since then she has been a daily attendant there, notwithstanding the temptation to let-up when the armistice was signed. Early every day Mrs. Rogers visits her little charge and comfort to the mained boys who so tenderly "mother."

A little while ago they had a big celebration out at the hospital, under the auspices of the Massachusetts club, which is composed of residents of that state, temporarily living in Washington. It was Mrs. Rogers, Secretary of War John W. Weeks, who were the star guests, and every speaker paid a tribute to the work done by Mrs. Rogers. After the routine speech-making was over, Congressman Rogers got the floor and said he was perfectly content to shine in the reflected glory of Mrs. Rogers, especially since it saved him from a trip to the quarantined house as a suspect for summer brides. Mrs. Rogers was suddenly challenged by the sentry, who called "Who goes there?" Rogers said the only reply that popped into his head was "I am the husband of Mrs. Rogers" and he got him past the lines without trouble.

New Pace For Summer Brides

When Mrs. Reginald Forster of Boston, step-daughter of Speaker Gillett, was recently married in Washington as one of its most exclusive fashionable social set, she set quite a new pace for summer brides. Mrs. Forster not only wore silver sandals instead of high heeled slippers but her train of cloth of silver was spread out and artistically adjusted by the colored butler of the family who followed the bride procession up the aisle, and after bending low and spreading out the gown at a proper angle, quietly melted from view through a side door, leaving the guests in wide-eyed astonishment over the innovation.

President Travels In Pullman

President Harding has set a new pace in the matter of railroad travel. No one can remember a president who did not travel either by special train or private car when going from place to place, but President Harding has changed the custom.

When he went to New York to deliver an address, and when he spent the Fourth with Senator Frelinghuysen in New Jersey, he made the trip in a Pullman, taking Mrs. Harding and his senatorial friends who made up the holiday party, along with him. Just as any ordinary traveler would do. President Harding is not lacking in dignity or a sense of his high position as president, but there isn't a trace in him of what Senator Stone used to call "upper-mindness."

Neither he nor Mrs. Harding are afraid to be cordial and friendly to all those they meet.

THE BICYCLE AND THE MOTORCYCLE

Some 25 years ago the bicycle was condemned by the Women's Rescue League of Washington as one of the great instruments for the degradation of girls and women who used that mode of conveyance. The following from the old Sun indicates how strongly the bicycle was condemned at that time on account of the supposed dangers into which it brought the women who used it.

"The Women's Rescue League intends to begin a national crusade against the use of the bicycle by women. There are fully forty-five thousand bicyclists in Washington, and fifteen thousand are women. Soon there will be a bicycle parade there in which 40,000 wheelmen are expected to participate."

Miss Charlotte Smith, president of the league, has achieved considerable notoriety on account of her effort in the lobby of congress to secure legislation to protect fallen women. She has been in the city about two months and in that period has devoted herself exclusively to bettering their condition.

From a long series of resolutions the following is taken:

"Whereas, even moderate bicycling by young women is to be deplored, because of evil associations and opportunities offered by cycling sports;

"Whereas, bicycling by young women has helped to swell the ranks of reckless girls, who finally drift into the standing army of outcast women of the United States more than any other medium;

"Therefore, we condemn the use of the bicycle by women as a fruitful source of degradation as yet unsuspected by the general public."

I wonder how the women of the Rescue League feel today over the use of the automobile which is very commonly driven by where they go or who their companions may be. There was a truth in what the women of the Rescue League said at that time in regard to the bicycle, but nowadays the bicycle has been discarded for the motorcycle with the side car so that the woman can bring her companion with her or perhaps take a seat in the side car while her companion drives the machine.

Bryan Nominated

It was just 25 years ago on July 1 that William Jennings Bryan was nominated for president by the democratic convention at Chicago. Mr. Bryan carried the convention by storm by his memorable speech, entitled "The Cross of Gold." He was regarded as a very brilliant man and undoubtedly he was; but when tried out, he lacked the qualities of a real statesman. He seemed to lack more than anything else, the manly character shown by some men such as Roosevelt.

Quarter Century Ago

Twenty-five years ago there was a balloon ascension at Lakeview and the wife of the "professor," Mrs. Roberto, in making a parachute jump alighted in the lake. Something happened as the balloon was released from its moorings so that she was dragged through trees and was nearly pulled out of the basket.

The incident is thus described by the old Sun:

"The airship sailed away towards mountain rock. When near the woods Mrs. Roberto pulled the cut cord and the parachute began to descend directly over the lake. The spectators rushed to the shore amid the greatest excitement and all held their breath when she shot into the water with a loud splash. She came to the surface in a few seconds, but so tangled up in the ropes of the parachute that she could neither swim nor float."

Finally Joseph Farley, John Stanton and John Weeks in a flat boat went to her assistance and finally succeeded in rescuing her when she had come to the surface after sinking a second time.

"When Mrs. Roberto recovered after her experience she gave this explanation of the accident:

"It was all on account of a yellow dog that ran into the enclosure just as I was about to ascend. A similar occurrence happened in Ohio a few years ago, when I broke my hip. She declared that she would never go up again with a yellow dog in the enclosure, not if she lost an engagement and disappointed ten thousand people."

Twenty-five Years Wed

The marriage of John J. Cahill and Miss Mary C. Short occurred at St. Peter's parochial residence last evening (July 6), Rev. Fr. Roman performing the ceremony. Miss Katie Short, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Edward F. Toye was best man.

Leslie G. Hill and Miss Alice G. Sanderson were united in marriage Tuesday, July 7, by Rev. George Kennington at his residence, 236 Liberty street.

Robert J. Beals of Epping, N. H., and Miss Daisy E. Hadley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hadley, were married Monday, July 5, at the home of the bride, 294 Teath street, Rev. J. M. Greene performing the ceremony.

In a floral bower, for into such was the parlor transformed, in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sheldon of North Chelmsford, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Alice Sheldon, Henry W. Reynolds, a successful young jeweler in Boston, at high noon yesterday, July 8. Rev. S. I. Briant performed the happy ceremony.

A very pretty wedding service occurred in St. Anne's church yesterday noon, July 8, the happy couple being Edward M. Waterhouse and Miss Viola Campbell, both of Cambridge.

The wedding of Robert H. Cutler and Miss Lizette Ferguson occurred last evening, July 8, at the residence of Thomas H. Boyle, 591 Bridge street.

Bear Escaped on Common

One of the features in the midway on the South common in observance of the Fourth quarter of a century ago, was entitled Noah's Ark. It was supposed to have a specimen of every animal in creation and to convince the outsiders that it did have some fierce animals, the management had a mechanical arrangement for making a noise resembling the growling of a lion and various other sounds supposed to come from wild animals. After the show one of the bears escaped from the ark and created considerable excitement as indicated from the following from the old Sun:

"One of the huge grizzly bears that performs in Noah's Ark in the South common became tired of his surroundings and without the formality of leaving, he took himself to the outer world with a dash.

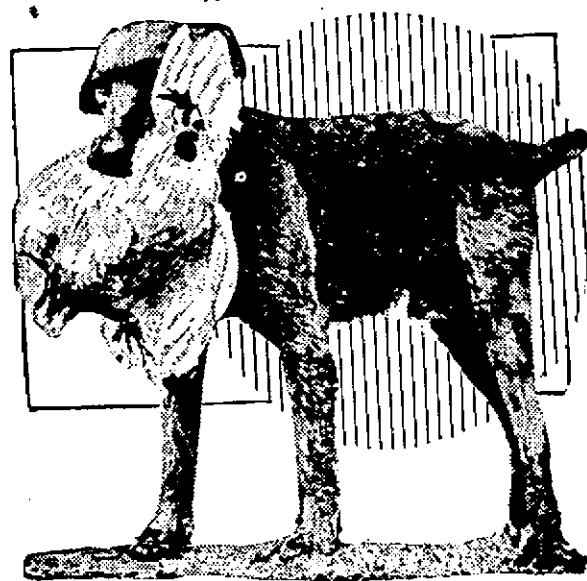

"There were thousands on the common at the time, but it just took one sight of bruin to make them clear off.

"The attendants of the ark chased him all over the common and finally captured him. During the excitement several women fainted and one woman, a party of three who disappeared, was found hours afterwards under a peanut stand afraid to look out lest the bear should grab her."

San Francisco, July 9—Dash, go get us a chicken for dinner.

And "Dash," being a well-trained Airdale, dashes into the pen, selects the plumppest one in the flock, chases it down and brings it to his master, T. Anderson, chicken rancher of Petaluma, Cal. He makes his catch without harming a single feather, and fetches in the chicken by grasping a wing in his mouth. "Dash" is claimed to be the only dog chicken-catcher which can be thus trusted.

RIBBONS! RIBBONS! MORE RIBBONS

NEW YORK, July 8.—In her hair she wore a yellow ribbon, but it was only the beginning of the ribbon story.

Ribbons, this year, are more than holding their own. Not only the summer gowns with their ribbon loop trimmings show the popularity of this form of trimming, but the new models for fall and winter are very much beribboned.

One striking model by Grauer Brothers is of the new and popular satin-faced crepe. Its color scheme alone is startling, but the use of pleated ribbon is something to make youth look longingly at this particular frock. Although this gown has the appearance of a straight-

IT'S AWFUL SAD TO BE FUNNY!

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Peck's famous mischief-maker is welcome to all the renown he has won, so far as Billy Brownlee, amateur "bad" boy, is concerned.

Billy, 7, tried to emulate Jackie Coogan, juvenile film comedian, with a number of extra innovations thrown in.

Jackie gets oodles of money for being mischievous. Billy got spanked and sent to bed, to say nothing of stern looks from the cops.

"Shucks," spoke Billy, "what's the use of trying to be funny? Jackie Coogan gets about a billion dollars for doing things, and all I get is a paddling."

"I just sneaked away from home and acted up and showed off to some other kids, and then Ma missed me and sicked the police onto me, and they chased me and had longer legs. I guess you got to get into the movies for that stuff. Being funny isn't much fun. I'm through. 'Jiggs,' my dog pal, and I are going to be serious—until I get older."

fool, who practiced boxing, wrestling, football and other manly sports in their college days. Bryan was a natural prankster, but his effeminate character was shown when he abandoned his office as secretary of state as soon as he saw the war cloud looming dark on the horizon. THE OLD TIMER.

TRUSTEES HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the trustees of the United Real Estate trust took place yesterday afternoon, at the office of the trustees in the Hildreth building, at which a financial report of the year's business and financial condition of the present date were submitted. A dividend of twelve percent on each share was declared, leaving an earned increment of 35 percent, which will be devoted to the extension and operation on a larger scale of the purposes for which the trust association has been formed. The financial report as agreed upon and accepted by the trustees, shows a rapid growth in the year's business and indicates a healthy condition of the holdings of the trust. The purpose of this trust association as outlined by E. Gaston Campbell, founder and one of the trustees, is to operate and develop attractive real estate

Real Estate Transactions—Building Notes and Permits Issued

CONDITIONS FAVORABLE FOR BUILDING

That fundamental conditions are favorable to building operations, is indicated by the attitude of S. W. Straus
& Co., who continue to provide capital for building purposes when the borrowers comply with the requirements and safeguards set up by the lending institution.With the underwriting of a first mortgage six per cent, bond issue of
Chicago, S. W. Straus & Co. have rounded out approximately $10,000,000
in new building loans recently made in various parts of the country, the larger share of which have been on residential structures. The new loan is made on the same basis as the store and office building, which will be erected at once. In commenting on the building situation S. W. Straus &
Co. say:"We have attested our faith in the building situation in this country by the continuous loans we are providing on new structures where the borrower is able to comply with such requirements as we believe necessary to safeguard completely the interests of the bond holder and make ample and adequate provision for the payment of principal of the debt and the interest thereon."There is no fundamental reason why building operations in a large way should not go forward. While construction work has been conducted this year on a scale of considerable magnitude, taking into consideration the operations throughout the country, the housing shortage is still alarming. Our American cities have continued to grow and develop no matter what general conditions have been either domestic or world-wide, and, with the unbuilding of these cities and communities there is an ever present demand for new building. It is the policy of this house to do what is possible, consistent with sound business practice, in assisting in the unbuilding of the nation through providing funds for buildings. We are happy to say that we have found the present season productive of many splendid opportunities for underwriting building loans which comply with our requirements. In our opinion the general conditions, so far as building work goes,
is improving and we anticipate considerable activity between the present time and the close of the building season."

WORLD'S GREATEST GUN

This is the mightiest gun ever invented. Though it looks like a bicycle pump, noted American inventors and engineers, who gave a public test in the Woolworth tower, New York, call it a weapon that will make war "too terrible for nations to risk." The invention, in the form of a small riveting gun (as shown here) drove three-inch steel slugs through a three-quarter-inch steel plate.
Thus in peace-time it can be used as a riveter in building construction and shipbuilding—and in war-time its giant counterpart, experts say, can hurl five-ton projectiles or explosive gas bombs from 200 to 300 miles. It uses smokeless powder, makes no more noise than the click of a cash register, and dwarfs "Big Bertha."Charles S. Barrette, interior alterations, two-family dwelling, 212 Salem street, $5.
Albert Holisvert, two-family dwelling, 505-11 Lakeview avenue, $1000.

Woman Made Long Pilgrimage to Secure Authentic Christ Life Play

LOS ANGELES, July 9—Mrs. York Stevenson, authority on sacred history, has just returned from a nine months' pilgrimage of the Holy Land with authentic atmosphere costumes and settings, to be woven into her Christ Life play soon to be produced here. Mrs. Stevenson's research took her through Egypt, Turkey, India, Ceylon, Palestine and every nook in the territory known to have been frequented by Jesus.

Mrs. York Stevenson

In producing her pilgrimage play on "The Life of the Christ," Mrs. Stevenson says she will not deviate a hair's breadth from history. She has written the play herself, and has secured the most eminent actors and actresses in the country to assist her in the production.

The play will be shown only in Los Angeles, and will run indefinitely. Henry Herbert of New York, an actor of note, accompanied Mrs. Stevenson and her party on the trip, gathering data on types. Mr. Herbert's impersonation of the Christ has been declared the most wonderful ever witnessed on any stage.

$5,774,065,000 IN CIRCULATION IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 8—Money in circulation in the United States July 1, amounted to $5,774,065,000, according to a statement by the treasury. The total was $5,774,065,000. A year ago the per capita amount was $57.18, and the total $6,084,854,000, the reduction being brought about through the decreased issue of Federal Reserve bank notes.

MRS. I. A. McALLISTER

(By Newspaper Enterprise)
MISSOULA, Mont., July 8—The voice of the people, by the people, and for the people.

That is the controlling policy of the "New Northwest," new community daily newspaper, which is being published here.

Under its charter society is classified in 13 groups, each of which must be represented on the board of directors. Readers themselves will pick one director, and take a hand in running the sheet.

"The columns of the 'New Northwest' says Mrs. I. A. McAllister, board member for professional women, 'are open to all within the limitations of space and there is no censorship save that of good taste.'"

She contends that the national future rests upon freedom to think, to act and to worship. "A newspaper, to function properly, must stimulate these prerogatives," she says.

"The 'New Northwest' is a paper which owns its own soul and dares to say so. With us there are business men, laborers, farmers, professional people and white collar workers. There are already nearly 400 stockholders.

"The board of directors is pledged to place before readers uncolored facts. We give them credit for having brains enough to think for themselves."

Thus far the paper has been printed in four pages. A jump to twice that size will be made shortly.

BE YOUR OWN LIFE SAVER

Nothing that we recall having been done by the park department, deserves quite so much praise for its vital and practical benefit to the community as the arrangements made for teaching young girls and women to swim. The Sun most cordially congratulates Supt. Kernan and the members of the park board for taking this step to enable every man and woman in Lowell to learn the life-saving art of swimming. The men had previously been provided for. It was but right that the women should have equal consideration. Women are daily entering more and more into the avocations of men, and more and more are they exposed to the dangers of accidents of various kinds. Among these are the accidents by which people are thrown into deep water and consequently drown if they are unable to swim. Women should be prepared to save themselves of the pleasures of boating and canoeing without the risk of immediate death if their craft be overturned. The ability to swim is the only real protection in such cases; and this art should be made compulsory for the reason that if, as occasionally happens, a small child falls into deep water in view of its mother, the latter should be able to go in and save it.

There was a child drowned in the Concord river in full view of its mother on Thursday afternoon. As it happened, she saw the accident from the third story of a building; but if she had been on the bank, she would have been unable to rescue the child, as she cannot swim; but she would undoubtedly have risked her own life in the attempt.

Accidents of this kind are heart-rending, and yet they are not uncommon. At Providence, R. I., also on Thursday afternoon, a thirteen-year-old girl was drowned under the eyes of her mother who, because of her inability to swim, was unable to save her child.

It would seem that it should be wholly unnecessary to urge girls and women who cannot swim to avail themselves of this opportunity placed within their reach by the park department. The engagement of a special instructor in swimming to teach the women and girls at certain periods, should appeal strongly to all those who have not already learned to swim; and this should show their appreciation of this offer by attending in large numbers.

There was great sympathy for the families of the two young ladies who were drowned up the river recently and there was also deep sympathy for the poor mother who saw her child drown in the Concord. Yet such a sad fate may overtake any girl or woman at some future date, if through carelessness, thoughtlessness, or any other cause, she fails to take advantage of the opportunity now offered at the public bathhouse on the Merrimack river.

"How much is this service worth?" some may ask. How much is a life worth? Answer that question and then you can answer how much the ability to swim may be worth to you if you get over your depth in the river or at the beach, or if you should happen to be dumped from a boat with no life-saver at hand. The service that provides every man and woman with a pangloss against certain forms of death, cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. The city is now providing this protection for its people and all who need such service should gratefully embrace the opportunity.

When a man, woman or child who cannot swim is rescued from drowning by a young man, he is hailed as a hero; but through this new move by the park board, every woman and girl can be her own life-saver if she should happen at any time to be carried into deep water by the undertow or from any other cause. Be your own life-saver.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS

Postmaster General Hays has announced a reorganization of the Postal Savings bank of far-reaching importance. He says that if congress will back him up with the necessary legislation he can add hundreds of millions to the country's usable wealth. This money, he says, is now hoarded because its possessors are foolishly afraid of private banks and do not consider the Postal bank's terms sufficiently attractive.

Hays proposes to raise the Postal bank's interest rate from two to three per cent, and to so liberalize the bank in other ways that hoarded money will flow into it.

The Postal bank now has 508,000 depositors, 70 per cent of whom are of foreign extraction. Mr. Hays may be mistaken as to the amount of money hoarded and also as to efficacy of a slightly higher rate of interest to bring hoarded money from its hiding place.

Now is the time to give due attention to the babies so as to save them from the summer maladies that usually cause a large infant mortality in August and September. The baby needs relief from the roasting heat and it should not be exposed to the direct heat of the sun. Some babies left with older children are carried about the streets in the broiling sun or taken to the parks and commons during the hottest hours of the day. That alone is sufficient to bring on illness. The baby taken out in a carriage in hot weather should at least be well protected by a shade.

The best time to take little ones to the parks is in the early morning or in the evening. A day's outing in the hot weather would save the lives of many of the waifs that will otherwise fall victims of cholera infantum or some other disease due to the intense heat.

If the work of the Lowell Guild were generously supported by the public the rate of infant mortality might be greatly reduced. Much has been done in the past but much more can be done by education, co-operation and practical sympathy for the mothers who have to battle against adverse conditions to save the lives of their infants in small tenements where the heat becomes almost unbearable and where there is not a breath of fresh air.

TO SAVE CONSTANTINOPLE
England and France are changing their minds in reference to the conflict between Turkey and Greece. They are not caring particularly for Greece because of the recall of Constantine to the throne; but they find that Russian Bolshevism is backing the Turks. Here, then, is a menace almost as bad as that for which all Europe went to war. If Turkey should win, then the Bolshevik horde would support her in any campaign she might enter in an effort to find a pathway to the Mediterranean, and the Indian ocean.

To prevent any such possibility, the allied powers must move quickly in the Near East in order to protect their mutual interests. Greece would prove unequal to the task of defeating the Turks, backed, as they are, by the Russians. Hence this move by the allies is meant to deal with a very vital problem—that of saving the Dardanelles and holding the Bolshevik within the boundaries of Russia.

TARIFF BILL ATTACKED
That was a very severe arraignment made against the republican tariff bill by the democratic members of congress. It appears that the bill was concocted in private in collaboration with the various interests to be served, and that its provisions are flagrantly unjust to some interests while offering to others an advantage little short of the power of levying taxes.

It seems that opposition to the measure is not at all confined to democrats inasmuch as the alarm has been sounded by Gov. Cox that the bill, if passed in its present form, would be highly detrimental to New England industrial interests. The republicans, however, have the majority and they can carry the measure in whatever form they may be able to agree upon. It is quite probable that the party may split up during the discussion of the measure, so that the democratic members will be liberally reinforced by republicans in opposing the worst features of the bill.

TAR AND FEATHERS
The men who resorted to the use of tar and feathers for a fellow townsman whose conduct they considered scandalous, have learned that no coterie of citizens are allowed to take the law into their own hands in such cases. If the man whom they treated in this rather disrespectful way was doing wrong or violating any law, there was a legal remedy that would assuredly reach the culprit. One crime is not atoned or amended by another. The tar and feather experts, with a jail sentence hanging over their heads on appeal, will have time to meditate upon the orderly processes of law as applied in the courts of Massachusetts and as opposed to the application of the unwritten law as practiced in the Pepperell case. If the lynching mobs of the south were similarly brought to justice, the lynching disgrace would soon be wiped out.

THE LUMBER BUSINESS
The lumber business is now suffering from the mid-summer lull. There is much small building under way in various parts of the country, but in most cases the retailers have been able to take care of this from their stock on hand, so that the lumber mills have not received the orders they expected. The retailers by supplying material for small jobs, will soon exhaust certain dimensions of lumber and have on hand only the larger and less used. It is this condition that has caused many of the mills to curtail and that holds production to 29 per cent, below normal. Nevertheless, it is expected that as the season advances, the business will show greater activity. The announcement has gone out that building materials are not likely to be much lower next year, and as for wages, opinions differ as to whether they will be reduced below the present level.

THE SALES TAX

Whether for better or worse, both branches of congress seem to be veering toward a sales tax as a substitute for the present tax system framed to produce revenue during the war. Senator Smoot believes that a sales tax of 1 per cent on all goods, wares or merchandise sold or leased would bring the necessary amount of revenue to supplement that accruing from the income tax, the inheritance tax, the amounts collected at ports of entry, and the proceeds of a normal tax upon business. This is a great question and one that congress must tackle very soon. The excess profits tax is killing business all over the country, but this tax problem will not be reached until the tariff question has been settled in some form. Then haste the tariff talk.

LAUNDRY PRICES

It does seem rather strange that the cost of laundry service should have reached such high figures, and hence the commission on the necessities of life has started a thorough investigation of the prices charged by laundries throughout the state with a view to ascertaining whether their present charges are justified. The increase in some cases reported to the commission has reached 600 per cent, over the rates prevailing in the same establishments in 1914, which seems to be excessive.

PRESIDENT IMPATIENT

President Harding is reported to be getting impatient at the slow gait at which congress is moving. He certainly has reason to be perturbed. He is a man of calm temperament, but when the delays of congress are considered in reference to the widespread business depression, it is not surprising that he shows impatience. He may find it necessary to get hold of that big stick formerly wielded by Roosevelt and swing it occasionally. It is about the only thing that will bring the politicians to a realization of what the nation expects of them.

If the supreme court of Massachusetts should decide against District Attorney Tufts, we suggest that the supreme court of the United States would not be likely to find any cause for revising the decision, should the case be brought before that tribunal.

Mothers whose babies are sick as a result of the heat may get valuable aid by applying at the Lowell Guild. It is generally conceded that the Guild nurses are great life-savers in baby-land.

News from the western states shows that there are cities much worse off than Lowell from the effect of the business depression. That, however, is no consolation to the Lowell people, who are out of work.

Still the drivers of death cars escape serious penalty. If death results from reckless driving, what degree of recklessness could have any worse consequence?

SEEN AND HEARD

When an electric car gets a hot box now, they just switch it over on the Fletcher street line to cool off.

A lumberer, awakened by a police officer on the common, early Friday morning, rubbed his eyes and said: "Get it! I didn't intend to fall asleep with so much money in my pocket. He then produced a wallet containing over $100.

Movies
In Paris recently, gendarmes used a lasso to capture a fugitive when they couldn't get him in any other way. They learned the art from Will Rogers, Tom Mix, et al. Girls in Italy are reported to be dressing their hair like the actresses in those examples well illustrating the power of movies for world-wide dissemination of knowledge.

Dancing
In a municipal dance pavilion in an Ohio town, there were, despite orders, some who insisted on teedling and cat-stepping and camel-walking. And so all were called together and given this speech: "Dance as you would if your mother were here!" This is the best that has yet been said in behalf of clean dancing. There is not much danger of a girl dancing the wrong way if she can be made to visualize the reptiling eyes of her mother watching her.

Playing
Wilhelm Hohenzollern is reported to be wearing again the glittering forms that he loved to display when he was a prince. He is now 80, the last of the autocrats for whom millions died, is playing soldier, still feeding the vanity that wrecked him. It was the French philosopher-prophet, or Pascal, who said: "Vanity is the great enemy of man; but those whom it hath betrayed never cease to love it. Such is the folly of man."

Figuratively Speaking
At dancing Alice didn't shine—She spurned the merry ball;—She said it wasn't in her line, And sat against the wall.

She said she didn't care to ride, And golf she didn't play; At tennis games she stood aside And watched the time away.

But when upon the beach she sat, In bathing suit each day—The men folks left the others flat And Alice held full sway.

Walter H. Haydock, in New York Sun.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

How beautiful is the tolerance of woman! Unruffled she regards the newspaper jests relative to her slavery to fashion. Unperturbed she listens while the vaudeville pantaloon makes supposedly humorous remarks about her obedience to the least demand of style. Yet the fact of the matter is that, compared to man, she is sublimely, utterly free from convention. She is liberty itself in the matter of dress, when compared to the poor idiotic male, who fancies that he is the bird superior to the regulations of attire. All of the foregoing was thought forth by my mind today as I watched men in office, courtroom, on street cars and trains, and in restaurants and other places, going about with the aspect of boiled live lobsters,—and wearing heavy, dark coats, and stiff, torturing collars. The women were coolly arrayed in light shirt-waists; the men could have been analogously dressed by discarding coats and turning down the necks of shirts. But how many did so? A few desperate Democrats, vile rebels, in tropical souls. The remainder perched and suffered, as slaves and craven, millions of fashion, deserve to suffer. How dare we make sport of women as the lackeys of dress! They are goddesses of liberty, every one of them, when placed beside an ridiculous man.

It is really astounding what imbecities the earth is found to contain. At a local movie house, strangely enough, there is an excellent film which embodies clearly and impressively the latest scientific developments in the treatment of insanity. Daringly it projects itself into the very mind of a madman, speculates upon the world as he sees it, and finally sheds the light of hope for recovery which modern experiments have made possible. What a cheering thing is this play, "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," for those beyond hope have been aided measurably. And yet I heard a man say yesterday that he did not like this film, that there was no sense to it, that it was all Greek to him. There is no accounting for tastes.

GATHERING DATA ON PLUMBERS' STRIKE

Perley Knight, agent for the state board of arbitration and conciliation, was in Lowell yesterday gathering data from both sides in the local plumbers' strike. Mr. Knight came here solely on his own initiative, neither side having taken any action toward calling upon the state board to investigate the difficulty. Mr. Knight said that the agents of the state board endeavor to bring about a settlement, after weighing all the facts in the matter, but if they fail sometimes to execute a plan and publishes its findings, placing the blame on one side or the other. The resultant effect of public opinion usually brings the strike to a close, he said. Mr. Knight visited Mayor Thompson during his stay here.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

The two most important articles in the warrant for the special town meeting of the residents of Tyngsboro, which will be held next Wednesday evening, are as follows: To see if the town will authorize the selecting of a committee to execute a contract with the Tyngsboro Electric Light Co. for a continuation of street light service; and to see if the town will vote to raise an appropriation of $5000 to sum not exceeding $5000 for rebuilding the Hudson road from the Dracut line to the Hildon line, providing the county and state will each provide a like sum.

STUCK IN TIME

The Eastern Massachusetts street railway company is rebuilding a section of the track between the Lowell and Dracut boundary. The track in that vicinity has not been renewed since it was built and it is felt that a little repair work will not be amiss.

FIGHTS REMOVAL AS MASS. DRY DIRECTOR

BOSTON, July 9.—"I shall either return from Washington as state director of prohibition or I shall return looking for a new job, was the emphatic declaration of war made by Harold D. Wilson, state director of prohibition, last night, speaking of the order he received from Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair, relieving him of his office and instructing him to turn over his records and property to Elmer C. Potter, at present federal supervising agent for New England.

The telegram from Commissioner Blair, which was received by Mr. Wilson Thursday night, follows: "Effective 9 a. m. July 9 you will be relieved of your duties as federal prohibition director for the state of Massachusetts. Please turn over all property and records and have director's force report to Elmer C. Potter, who will assume duties as director."

"Blair," "Commissioner,"
But Mr. Wilson does not intend to do any such thing without a fight. He promptly wired to Commissioner Blair protesting his refusal to accept his "primary dismissal" until informed of the reasons for it and requesting permission to go to Washington last night.

Before this permission was received, Mr. Wilson got Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes on the long distance telephone and was advised by Mr. Haynes to wait and come to Washington Sunday. This Mr. Wilson consented to do.

The removal of Mr. Wilson as director was part of the new plan of consolidating the prohibition law enforcement agencies under one head in each state. Mr. Potter was recently named state director in charge of all prohibition activities in Massachusetts, and Mr. Wilson, it was understood, was to be chief of the field forces, acting under Mr. Potter's direction.

Everything worked out smoothly until Mr. Wilson threw a crowbar into the machinery yesterday, and not only threw it in but began to gather the forces which had endorsed him for appointment to assist the board in carrying out the transportation act. It cannot consistently comply with the law and at the same time carry out recent rulings of the board which it regards as opposed to the law as well as the best interests of the railroad, the public and employee.

The board exceeded authority given it under the transportation act when it continued in effect such rules, ruling conditions and national agreements promulgated by the United States railroad administration. Mr. Wilson said and asserted that this ruling repudiated the decision ordering railroads and employees to formulate working agreements. He said the railroad has offered its employees a plan whereby all classes may have a voice in the management in matters affecting their welfare, through representatives of their own selection, whether union or non-union, and pointed out that the system was popular with the employees.

Who find in rain or golden sun
A tonic draft of glowing fun,
Who love with tenderness and fire
Who toll to win their heart's desire,
Who help to lift the world from

Who laugh and love and do their

And whether famous or obscure,
And whether very rich or poor,
Somehow these vital folk express
The largest meaning of Success;
Their laughter rings so clean
And clear
Their love makes living sweeter

They drive away dull/woes that

So earth would be a place of

Were all its people like to this,
If all mankind—with none to

Would laugh and love—and do its

ATTACK RULING OF U. S. RAILROAD LABOR BOARD

CHICAGO, July 8.—Recent rulings of the United States railroad board were criticized today by representatives of the Pennsylvania railroad who appeared before the board to reply to allegations of the Federated Shop Crafters that the Pennsylvania had failed to make proper efforts to hold conferences and negotiations with employees for rules to replace national agreements under the federal control.

Negotiations were directed by the board in its decision, No. 119, issued April 14, 1921. In a summary of the Pennsylvania railroad's reply, E. T. Whitely, assistant to the vice president in charge of personnel, stated that while the Pennsylvania is anxious and willing to assist the board in carrying out the transportation act, it cannot consistently comply with the law and at the same time carry out recent rulings of the board which it regards as opposed to the law as well as the best interests of the railroad, the public and employee.

The board exceeded authority given it under the transportation act when it continued in effect such rules, ruling conditions and national agreements

British Invader Golfing Dynamo

GEORGE DUNCAN

George Duncan, English professional, thinks he has a good chance to cap America's National open golf title this fall.

He won the English National open a year ago at Blandford. But the peppery Jack Hinchman took his measure in the recent matches at St. Andrews.

Hutchinson is a fast golfer, but Duncan is faster.

Like Ball Player

His idea of driving the ball is the same as that of the ball player who like the first ball pitched.

Ted Ray, present holder of the American National open title, plans to return to defend his honors.

In Duncan he'll face a worthy rival. He toured this country in 1911, playing over 70 matches on this side. Together with Abe Mitchell, England's long distance driver, Duncan will tour again.

They have scheduled 65 exhibition matches, most of which will be played in the east and middle west.

If it is possible to arrange a flying trip to the Pacific coast, the flying invaders will take it.

Good Team

Duncan and Mitchell as a team are rated higher than the Ray-Vardon combination which invaded America last summer.

Ray and Vardon traveled over 40,000 miles and played 26,000 holes of golf while they were here.

Everywhere they went they were big drawing cards. They reaped a harvest of nearly $50,000 on the American links.

American golf fans will see more speed when Duncan sails around the course than they've ever watched.

HOBOKEN'S BODY IS Brought HOME

HOBOKEN, N. J., July 9.—The body of Capt. Robert A. H. Baker, ex-Trincom, football and hockey star, is among the war dead brought from France on the transports Somme and Wheaton. He was killed in December, 1918, near Toul, the day before he was to start for home. His airplane, developed engine trouble at low altitude and crashed before he could regain control. He brought down three German airplanes in the last 10 days of the war. The French government awarded him the Croix de Guerre.

Memorial services for the 7254 veteran whose body was here will be conducted Sunday afternoon. General Pershing will be present, as will Major General Robert Lee Bullard, Major General C. B. Sumner, Major General David C. Shanks and National Commander John C. Emery of the American Legion. Every overseas division is represented among the dead.

REPORT MAYOR BADER TO MANAGE DEMPSEY

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 9.—Jack Dempsey emphatically denies reports originating in Atlantic City that Mayor Edward Bader of this county would supplant Jack Kearns as his manager. Dempsey was seen here last night en route to his home in Salt Lake City.

"Jack Kearns will be my manager as long as I am a fighter," the champion said.

Mayor Bader is a fine fellow and a fine sportsman, but I don't manage him, well, and Dempsey shrugged his shoulders.

SOCCER STARS TOUR

NEW YORK, July 9.—The Lanark soccer team from Scotland has opened an exhibition tour of this country following the successful invasion of Canada.

The Scots played 11 games against the best teams in Canada and won them all.

They are greeted by soccer critics to be the strongest aggregation of players in the world. Their men receive no salaries other than their actual expenses.

Canada called them a "team of Babe Ruths."

SPEAKER IS LEADER

Pilot of Indians Has De-throned Heilman for Battery Honors in A. L.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Tia Speaker, pilot of the Cleveland world's champion, has dethroned Harry Heilman, the Detroit slugger, as the American league's best batter, according to figures released today which include games of Wednesday. The averages are those of players who have participated in 45 or more games. He increased his batting mark from .402 a week ago to .415, while Heilman suffered a slump, and now is batting at .402.

Babe Ruth has advanced to fourth position, batting .391, after he was clouting .374 before he was forced out of the game because of an injury. Ruth is hitting .375. He cracked out three home runs during the past week and brought his string to 31. Ruth also is proving the best run-getter in the Johnson circuit, having scored 51. He has made 57 runs for a total of 225 bases, which include 11 four-ply knucks, include 22 doubles and seven triples.

Other leading batters: Sisler, St. Louis, .384; Williams, St. Louis, .361; Tobin, St. Louis, .360; Veach, Detroit, .355; Severfield, St. Louis, .357; E. Collins, Chicago, .351.

The veteran George Cuthshaw of the Pirates enjoyed a great week with the willow and has become the runner-up to Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, among the batters of the National league. Although numerous players are ahead of the slugging Pittsburgher, they have not played in as many games. Cuthshaw, who was in 10th place a week ago, boosted his average from .347 to .365. Hornsby, however, fared well at bat, and jumped from .407 to .428. Cy Williams, the Philadelphia outfielder, also moved from 18th place to fourth with a mark of .357, compared with .332 a week ago. He is four points behind Emil Meusel, a teammate, who is third with .351.

George Kelly, the Giants' home run slugger, cracked out a brace of circuit drives and has caught up with Meusel, who added only one to his string. They have a dozen each.

Other leading batters: Young, New York, .355; Roush, Cincinnati, .354; McHenry, St. Louis, .353; Grimes, Chicago, .351; Marsden, Pittsburgh, .350; Fournier, St. Louis, .347; Mann, St. Louis, .347.

BEARVILLE PULLING FOR PIRATES TO WIN

WILBUR COOPER, Bearville, Va., is pulling for the Pirates to clinch the National league pennant this year.

Pitcher Wilbur Cooper was born there 28 years ago.

He's the best year he has had with the Gibraltars since he came up to Smoke Town in 1912 from the Columbus American association club. Cooper just now is the National league ace. Up to July 1st he had won 15 starts and lost 2 for an average of .567.

Last season he worked in 44 games, winning 24 and losing 15.

Cooper is not a giant for size. He weighs just about the same as George Carpentier, striped when he fought the battle of Jersey—172 pounds. He is 5 feet 11 1/2 inches tall.

But Cooper has uncommonly long arms and tapering fingers. This gives him an excellent leverage and grip on the ball which most pitchers this year are finding so lively.

The Pittsburgher has a good lead to be the first 30-game winner in either league this year.

DEMPSEY DRAWS THE COLOR LINE

OMAHA, Neb., July 9.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion pugilist, who passed through here yesterday on his way to Salt Lake City, in a statement to newspapermen said he was unwilling to fight Jack Johnson, "or any other negro fighter."

"I will never fight a colored man," Dempsey said. "There is nothing to this talk of me fighting Jack Johnson. I am confident the public don't want this fight and while I will govern myself to a large extent according to the public wishes I can't see my way clear to fight Johnson or any other colored man."

"I will meet anyone else that Kearns pleads for me. I understand that is a good man, although I have never seen him work. As I have drawn the line I am free to say that I think Harry Williams is a great fighter, and will whip the very best of them. As for William I'll fight him any time, and lick him, too."

HUTCHISON HOME WITH GOLF TROPHY

NEW YORK, July 9.—For the first time in history the trophy emblematic of the British open golf championship today began a year's residence in the United States. It was brought by Jack Hutchison of Chicago, who with the other American golfers arrived on the Carmania, after their matches with the Britons at St. Andrews.

LOWELL BOXER MAKING GOOD IN BIG TOWN

Al Diamond, the local flyweight boxer, who is enjoying great success in the rings in New York and New Jersey, is looked up by the experts in the "big town" as a coner.

Since going to New York several months ago, Diamond has appeared in a number of bouts, meeting some of the best boys of his weight in the vicinity and he has piled up a splendid record.

When performing in and around Lowell he made a great impression and he has won two decisions, to Billy Murphy and one to Steve Gustin, all his other bouts resulted in victories. His bouts here with Murphy were real thrillers, and while he lost out in both he made many friends by his classy work.

In New York Diamond is under the management of Tom Stanley, Scott of the Detroit Americans and well-late states that he is ready to match him against any boy in the country at his weight.

RECORD HOME RUN

Heilman of Detroit Drives Ball 610 Feet — Good Pitching in Friday's Games

NEW YORK, July 9.—A home run which landed 610 feet away from home plate was credited to Harry Heilman of the Detroit Tigers in the eighth inning of the game with the Boston Braves yesterday.

Good pitching was displayed by Nelt of the New York Nationals, Alexander of the Chicago Cubs, Scott of the Boston Braves and Bush of the Chicago Americans and Bush of the Boston Americans. Nelt won over Alexander by shutting out the Cubs with three hits while an error in the ninth kept the Cubs from scoring.

Williams of the St. Louis Americans made his 25th home run of the season. He is six ahead of his 1920 grand total.

The New York Americans had won their 11th game in a row yesterday.

DEMANDS PROBE OF ICE CREAM SODA PRICE

BOSTON, July 9.—An immediate investigation of the current high prices for ice cream soda has been demanded of the commission on the necessities of life by Representative Paul H. Hines in a letter to Chairman Eugene C. Hullman.

Mr. Hines makes the following point: "When ice cream sells for $1.40 a quart, ice cream soda for 22 cents, a plain soda for 11 cents and an ice cream soda for 14 cents, it is time for the commission on the necessities of life to sit up and take notice."

Contenting that these things are necessities and not luxuries, Mr. Hines says: "We have installed on the streets shower baths to relieve suffering, but the ice cream dealers have placed beyond reach this method of alleviating the parched throats of the little ones of the tenement districts."

The plea that the price of ice cream soda cannot be reduced is of no avail. The ingredients of ice cream are milk, sugar and eggs. Sugar has jumped from 22 cents to 44 cents a pound, eggs from $1.20 to 35 cents a dozen, and every week reductions in the price of milk are heralded.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACE

New Racing Record for Season Established in Free-for-All Event

NORTH RANDALL, O., July 9.—A new racing record for the season was established in the free-for-all number, the feature of the closing program of the Grand Circuit meeting here yesterday.

Single G, the Hoosier stallion, veteran of dozens of great turf battles and making his ninth campaign, paced away from the other stars in the first heat in 2:01 1/2, coming back the second heat only half a second slower.

It was the 10th race in which the horse has participated and he has never been out of the money. In each of the heats yesterday he was in front all the way and he paced the last quarter of the second heat in 29 seconds, the last half in 50 1/2.

In the auction of the race Single G was a $200 to $300 favorite over the field. Itai Mahone was easily the best of the balance of the field.

The 2:20 pace was not much of a race, the In-miller Black Burns winning handily.

The local four-year-old Peter Bell was in a soft spot in the 2:20 trot and took a record of 2:01 1/2 in the first heat.

One of the classic pacers which has shown up at the meeting appeared in the 2:14 pace, in Lord Bushey, with which Valentine landed first in the two necessary heats, the first in 2:03 1/2.

The pacer Governor Durbin, Jr., which in the 2:20, was protested and his winnings held up, Secretary Halsted of the Union Trotting association demanding that the horse be identified.

Practically all of the horses have been shipped to Toledo, where the Grand Circuit meeting opens on Monday.

BABE RUTH LIKES HIS BASE HITS, TOO

BY DEAN SNYDER

Babe Ruth likes his base hits as well as his home runs.

In a game with Philadelphia the other day, Big Bam socked one so high it had snow on it. Jimmy Dykes had time to run in and take a shower bath before grabbing the comet, but he missed it when it finally settled back to earth.

They gave Dykes an error for failing to pitch camp in the right spot. "How do you get hits around here, anyway," yelled the disgruntled Babe. "By breaking a guy's leg, huh?"

Yeah, the big fellow likes his hits as well as the 150 hitter.

Nothing would please him better than to make Harry Heilman, Ty Cobb and Tristram Speaker take a back seat in the hit column.

Gibbons Sentiment

Since the Jersey City einbroglit there has been a rising sentiment all over the country that Tom Gibbons be given a chance to prove his steam against either Dempsey or Carpentier.

And Gibbons is mighty willing.

He has been after Bill Brennan for several months. Brennan wanted $30,000 to risk what rating he now holds among heavies. But no promoter could be found to handle it.

Gibbons believes he is ready for Dempsey. And he may be.

It's our opinion that he is better than Brennan, that he and Carpentier would put up a really good show, and seeing and that in another year he can meet the champ at even money.

Speed Limit

Charley Paddock seems to be able to equal the 100-yard record most any day he kicks up his heels.

But the standing record of 9.3 seconds apparently is the maximum for human speed.

The California flier stands the best chance of any man living to clip it down another fraction of a second.

Some day Paddock will get all the breaks of the start, wind, etc., and plunk his name down beside a new record on the world's record book.

Speed is a variable thing depending on the running gears.

This chap, Paddock, will step on a new gear one of these days and fly faster than the watches have so far credited him.

No False Alarm

Long George Kelly of the Giants has come back to the life again in the home run manufacturing business.

He had a long layoff after his glorious home run in the eighth inning of the game with the Boston Braves.

He's far from being a false alarm as a socker.

"Highpockets" George has a fancy about home runs, just the same.

It took him all year to garner 11 in 1920. He's already passed the dozen mark this season.

But he's got the home run knack now. He ought to get half as many as Babe will this year.

In another year or two, after Babe has quit knocking heads off of fences, Kelly may all on the great throne.

Say It in "Blah"

Pitcher Carl Mays of the Yankees has coined a new word to hurl at umpires. It's "Blah."

When his umpire ruffles the sublimated pitcher, he gets the "Blah" stuff.

Umpire Chilly contends that this newly coined word for baseball players is okay with him as it doesn't mean anything.

That's a good tip to other quick-spoken ball players.

Just say "Blah." It gives you the satisfaction of showing the umpire you feel about a thing without having to take a vacation and a fine.

$514,325 PAID TO BOXERS AND REFEREES

NEW YORK, July 9.—Promoter Tex Rickard announced yesterday that he paid $514,325 to the boxers and referees at the Dempsey-Carpentier bout last Saturday.

Dempsey and Carpentier received $300,000 and $200,000 respectively. The boxers in the preliminaries received $13,550. Billy Wolfe and Gene Tunney were the highest paid, receiving $2000 each.

Before Harry Eddy received $1000, and the other referees, including an alternate, a total of $275.

Kid Alton took a town to town. Around from town to town. He used him to tumble down.

Warships Withdrawn From Tampico

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The situation in the Mexican port of Tampico is not at this time such as necessitates the maintenance there of an American naval guard to protect American interests. This was the explanation given in official circles today of orders returning the cruiser Cleveland and the gunboat Sacramento now at the port to their home stations.

More Senators Favor Bonus Delay

WASHINGTON, July 9.—With the senate in recess today, developments in soldier bonus legislation were not expected before next week, when President Harding will send to congress a special message giving his views upon this, as well as tariff and tax legislation. In the meantime the number of senators favoring recumment of the bonus bill appeared to be steadily growing.

U. S. FIRM FOR OPEN DOOR IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Formal declaration of the intention of the United States to continue its support of the principle of the open door is contained in a note from the state department to the Chinese minister here in respect to a contract entered into with the Chinese government by the Federal Telegraph company, an American concern, for the erection of wireless stations at Shanghai and other points in China.

The note, which was dated July 1, was in reply to one of June 3 from the Chinese minister, inquiring whether the United States intended to withdraw its support from the Federal Telegraph company in its rights according to the contract, in view of protests which have been made in the British, Japanese and Danish governments.

The reply not only makes it clear that the United States does not propose to withdraw from the position, hitherto taken in support of the rights of the American company as a result of the protests of the three governments, but carries the assurance that "it is the purpose of this government neither to participate nor to acquiesce in any arrangement which might purport to establish in favor of foreign interests any superiority or rights with respect to commercial or economic development in designated regions of the territories of China, or which might seek to create any such monopoly or preferences as would exclude other nations from undertaking any legitimate trade or industry, or from participating with the Chinese government in any category of public enterprise."

The protest of the British government was in behalf of the Marconi built was installed in the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, New York.

A Little Bit One THE SPECTACULAR A flash of white light and a burst of flames startled pedestrians in Merimack square shortly after nine o'clock this morning when a large depot and Car House car had been derailed by a defective wheel. The trouble was located between the cars, so that "first aid" could not be administered. After being shunted to Central street, to allow traffic to proceed, the car was towed to the barn. It is stated that the heavy rain of last night caused some large puddles in Billerica, and while the car was passing through the wet street water got in and resulted in the accident. The car has been newly made over. It would have been possible to continue to run it after the grounding of the contractor, but this would have involved danger, as it would have to be propelled under direct power and could not reverse.

SAFETY ZONES IN LOWELL

New Traffic Regulations Recently Formulated Will Supersede Present Rule

A new set of traffic regulations for the downtown section of Lowell and for several of the dangerous crossings in the Highlands will soon be put into effect here. Among the features of the new regulations, which have been outlined by George F. Wells and Henry A. Smith of the chamber of commerce and Arthur F. Woodles, private secretary to Mayor Thompson, are "safety zones" and "safety approaches" for pedestrians.

The new rules will supersede the ordinance now in effect. They will govern the following territory: Central street from Hurd street to Merrimack, all of Prescott street, all of Merrimack square, East Merrimack street to the railroad tracks, the Massachusetts mills, Bridge street to Paige street and Keith's theatre alley and a Myrick street to Kirk and Palmer streets.

The new regulations provide that there shall be no parking whatsoever on both sides of Central street from Hurd street to Merrimack street, all of Prescott street, all of Merrimack square, East Merrimack street to the railroad tracks, Merrimack street to John street, Bridge street to Keith's theatre alley and Paige street. Vehicles will be allowed to stop in these districts only long enough to take on or let off passengers or merchandise.

The territory in Merrimack street between John and Kirk and Palmer streets will be open for 30-minute stops only. There must be no parking on either side of any fire hydrant in any street in the city for a distance of 15 feet.

The new regulations will be in effect every weekday from 9 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. They will not be effective Sundays and holidays.

At the end of each of these no-parking limits signs will be erected on poles with the following inscription: "No Parking Zone Begins Here. Park Only Beyond This Sign in Direction of Arrow. Per Order, Police Department."

The sign in Prescott street will read as follows: "Absolutely No Parking in This Street Between the Hours of 9 a. m. and 6:30 p. m."

In Merrimack square there will be signs reading: "Absolutely No Parking or Stopping in This Area."

Other suitable signs will be erected on other streets which come under the new rules. The signs will be 10 or 12 feet from the ground and will be in black letters with a white background on boards about three feet square.

In Smith street, about 300 feet above Westford street, there will be a sign notifying drivers that there is a dangerous crossing 300 feet beyond and warning them to drive slowly and sound horn.

Right at the intersection of Smith and Westford streets, the scene of many accidents, there will be a sign saying: "Dangerous Crossing: All Vehicles Must Come to Full Stop. Proceed Slowly. Sound Horn."

There will be other signs at Smith and Branch streets, Nichols and Westford streets, Westford and Stevens, etc.

Unlimited parking areas under the new regulations will include John, Kirk, Ann and Lee streets, Paige street except at the corner station and in front of the Merrimack Square theatre, East Merrimack street beyond the railroad tracks, Bridge street beyond Paige street on one side of Keith's alley, on the other side of Merrimack and Palmer street, except in front of the fire department headquarters. Other side streets leading off the restricted areas, such as Hurd, Warren and Jackson streets, will also be unrestricted.

Safety zones will be established in Merrimack square. These will consist of two white lanes, six feet in width running from the United Cigar store to Green's drug store, thence to Dow's drug store, to Willis' market and back to The Sun building. Persons wishing to cross the street must stay within these lanes.

White safety zones on either side of the square leading to the electric car tracks, will also be established. The new rules will soon go into effect.

TO PROCLAIM PEACE WITH

CENTRAL POWERS

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Although President Harding and his legal advisers are understood to have virtually decided upon a presidential proclamation as a means of promulgating the state of peace with the central empires, it was indicated yesterday that the document would not be ready for issuance until some time next week.

A partial draft of a proclamation was taken to the cabinet meeting yesterday by Atty. Gen. Daugherty, together with a number of memoranda prepared by department of justice officials relative to the points of law. It developed, however, that so many considerations were involved as to make further study of the statutes necessary.

The president and many of his advisers were represented as holding that so far as actual termination of the war was concerned, the peace resolution passed by congress and signed last Saturday by the president was sufficient. In a number of the emergency laws passed during the war, however, specific reference is made to a peace proclamation as the instrument which will terminate the war powers conferred on the executive branch of the government. It is understood that this latter consideration has weighed heavily as an argument in favor of issuance of a proclamation.

Accompanying Picture Shows New High School Well On Its Way to Completion

With work on the roof of the new building well under way and all other exterior work practically completed, it will be but a matter of a few weeks when workmen on the new high school addition in Kirk and Anne streets will be able to concentrate all their efforts on the interior of the building and start on the last lap of the race against time to have everything in readiness for high school students in September, 1922.

A portion of the staging which has surrounded the new building for many months past has been removed and one can now get a very clear idea of what the structure will look like when completed. The staging has been removed from that part of the new building which adjoins the old high school in Kirk street and gradually the labyrinth of wood which covers the other walls of the new structure will be torn down. One of the prettiest features of the building now discernible is the ornamental design worked into the stone near the roof. There is nothing blatant or over-rought in the decorations, but rather a quiet exhibition of the skill of an artist in stone arrangement.

design of the various entrances to the building. A pretty arch-entee has been employed here and is most attractive to the eye.

A glance at the roof of the building from a distance discloses scores of workmen busily engaged in putting the final touches on the exterior of the structure. The mammoth elevator erected by Contractor Daniel H. Walker in Kirk street soon after operations on the new building started is still in position and is conveying bricks, cement and other supplies to the top of the building as needed.

The territory surrounding the site of the new school addition is more congested with materials and supplies than ever before. In Anne, Kirk and Paige streets and portions of French street there are piles of stone and various other materials that will be used before the building is finished. Added gangs of sewer department workers in French street who are now installing the sewer that will drain the big building. A few weeks ago some fear was expressed by the high school building commission that the basement of the new building would be flooded in the event of heavy rain because of the lack of proper sewerage, but City Engineer Kearney at once made arrangements for a temporary drain in Kirk street and thus the impending difficulty was eliminated. The new sewer will be ready for use early next September.

Although there is no set time specified for the completion of the building in his contract with the high school building commission, Contractor Walker says he has every reason to believe that the new addition will be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall term in September, 1922. There is a great deal of interior work to be done before that time but it is believed this can be accomplished as weather conditions will not interfere with interior work in any way.

With the completion of the roof in the near future, attention will be turned to the basement and the heating apparatus. Then will come the finishing and equipping of the three floors of the structure.

The completion of the new building is being looked forward to eagerly by the high school authorities. Next fall the school will face the most crowded condition of its career and various temporary arrangements will have to be made until the massive addition can be used.

The new building makes the present high school building look very small and miniature in comparison.

MRS. MARGARET CONWAY

Estimable Old Lady Passes Away at Her Home in Billerica

A large circle of friends in Lowell and Billerica will feel with regret the death of Mrs. Margaret Conway, widow of the late Martin Conway and mother of Chief Martin Conway of the United States Cartridge Co., which occurred last evening at her home in High street, North Billerica, after an illness of three days. Mrs. Conway was 90 years and 4 months old. Death resulted from permanent pneumonia, following a shock. Mrs. Conway was taken seriously ill last Tuesday and gradually became worse until Thursday morning when she lost consciousness.

Possessed of an admirable character and a loving disposition, Mrs. Conway readily made friends whose respect and esteem she always maintained. She was one of the best known residents of Billerica and had hundreds of friends and acquaintances in this city. She had been a resident of Billerica since 1856 and always took a keen interest in the activities of the community.

Her long span of years gave her many opportunities to do little acts of kindness that were known usually only to herself and the beneficiaries. She was an ideal mother and brought up a family of five children, all of whom have won places of respect and esteem in the communities where they live. She leaves three sons, Martin Conway, deputy sheriff and the well known chief of police of the Cartridge Co. here, John R. Conway of North Billerica, Capt. Thomas F. Conway of the Lowell fire department, and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Reilly of 68 Varnum street and Mrs. Thomas J. Callaghan of North Billerica. She also leaves seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mrs. Conway was a native of Ennis, County Clare, Ireland, and in 1856 she emigrated to America with her husband and settled in Lowell. Six months later she moved to North Billerica and resided there until the time of her death.

Throughout her life Mrs. Conway took a great and active interest in the affairs of her native land. Last February she observed the 90th anniversary of her birth at a family reunion in North Billerica and at that time she was one of the liveliest and most light-spirited of those present.

CASES CALLED IN THE POLICE COURT

Emile Demers, charged with larceny of $15 from Dona Doucette, was given a two months' sentence to the house of correction in police court today. The sentence was suspended for six months in order to afford him an opportunity to make restitution. Doucette testified that the defendant sold her a sewing machine for $15, and that he afterwards learned that the machine is the property of Demers' sister, with whom the latter has been living, while out of work during the past six weeks. The sister, as stated, was not concerned with Demers' fate, and did not appear in court. Demers promised to repay the money as soon as possible.

The case of Jan Jagala, of Brown's court, charged with neglect of his wife, was continued for a month to give him a chance to make amends. The wife testified that he has given her no money since June 15, and that when she asked him for funds he responded that he had plenty of time in which to present her with some. The defendant explained that he needed new clothes, and for that reason had failed to contribute to the finances of his household.

Sarah Cryan and Frank Desautel were each sentenced to two months in the house of correction on drunkenness charges. They both appealed, and were held in $200 bonds. It was testified that together with Joseph McGann, who was fined $10, they were acting in a disgraceful manner on the South side of the city. They were released by the probation officer.

The case of Stanislaw Trzaskiewicz, charged with assault and battery on William Pupkis, a small boy who exhibited to the court a large bruise on his right leg, was continued to July 14. Both parties in the case are Tewksbury residents.

William E. McCarthy and Edward F. Walters were defaulted, and George McDonald and William F. Hansworth had their cases filed in connection with glass breaking at two Middlesex street stores. Continuance was taken some time ago to permit of restitution by the defendants, the latter two of whom settled today to the amount of $1372 each.

The case of Frank P. Curtis, charged with drunkenness and also with driving an automobile while intoxicated, was put over to July 12 at his request. He was advised to get counsel, as

Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Pitts of Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y.—"My trouble was a weak back and I could not walk two blocks without being tired out. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a newspaper and decided to give it a trial. Now I can do my own work and walk with ease. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house. It certainly is my best friend and I could not keep house without it. I have recommended it to many and always shall. You may use this letter if you wish."—Mrs. EDWARD PITTS, 2 High St., Newburgh, N. Y.

People Sought Refuge on the South Common From the Intense Heat Last Evening

the time of the storm say that there were really two storms. The first began at 2:10, when rain fell and the second, the more serious, started shortly after 2:30. The downpour accompanying the second storm followed a terrific crash of thunder that seemed to rend asunder the earth. It was this crash that aroused most people and for the next hour or so sleep was out of the question.

Despite the fury of the storm and the abundance of lightning in the air, not a single alarm of fire was sounded here this morning. The lightning seemed to have the faculty of striking places and doing its damage without causing any ignition.

The electrical display was one of the most vivid ever seen here and an outstanding feature was the almost unrelenting consistency with which flashes of lightning followed one another, each accompanied by a blast of thunder.

Gardens Laid Low

The storm pelted down with such fury that gardens in all parts of the city and in most of the surrounding towns were laid low and much damage caused. Corn, which was just beginning to attain a considerable height, was flattened to the ground out with the return of the sun they will rise again, expert gardeners say. However, other more delicate growths were uprooted and destroyed in many places.

Man Narrow Escape

Miss E. Helena Rivet, stenographer in the office of the city solicitor at city hall and residing at 271 Beacon street, escaped with a narrow escape from a fire that broke out in the municipal building today.

When the storm broke out early this morning, Miss Rivet went on the piazza to move a couch hammock to the rear of the piazza. When she touched the wet ropes of the hammock there was a crash and she was thrown forcibly to the floor. She was stunned for the moment, but soon regained her feet. She felt a numbness in her arm and later found a black mark on the upper arm, which proved to be a burn caused by lightning. It seems that the bolt struck a tree in the vicinity of the Rivet home at about the same time that Miss Rivet was struck.

Bolt Strikes Barn

A bolt struck the barn of Patrick Cogger in Riverside street this morning and caused damage to the building to the extent of about $200. The 24 horses that were in the barn escaped without injury, while tons of hay that were stored in the hayloft were not ignited, although the bolt struck directly over the hay.

The bolt struck the weather vane on the cupola, ripping a part of the eave and boring a hole in the roof. It then directed its course to the ground, following the roof and the side of the building. A good portion of the roof was torn off, while the side of the building was also damaged. There was no fire.

A Pole of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. in Phoenix street was struck by a bolt and torn down to the ground, and as a result the entire electric lighting system through Riverside street and part of Deane street was out of commission.

Residents of Fifth street, Centralville, were aroused from sleep when a huge, zigzag bolt crashed from the sky and apparently landed squarely in a yard a short distance from Bridge street. Lights were lit, and men and women hastened to verandas and doorsteps, thinking that a fire had resulted from the lightning, which was of dazzling brilliance and came at the same second as the thunderclap which accompanied it and shook the earth.

A man whose home is in the Fort Hill section told today of seeing what appeared to be a vast ball of fire falling from the clouds. When a short distance from the earth it broke into a shower of sparks and scattered in all

Damage to Telephones

Manager Charles J. Leathers of the local office of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. reported this morning that 500 lines, affecting between 1000 and 1200 subscribers, had been reported out of order as a result of the storm. This was based merely on reports expressed the belief that fully 2500 subscribers will be found to have been affected when all the reports are in.

The telephone company's troubles accumulated during the long dry spell and when the rain came last week hundreds of cables were put out of commission. The company was just getting the loose ends together when last night's storm broke.

Every available man in the employ of the company went to work this morning, in an effort to clear up the damage as soon as possible, but the job will necessarily be a slow one. For that reason, Manager Leathers asks the indulgence of subscribers who have been inconvenienced by the storm.

Many Trees Damaged

Many trees in all parts of the city and in the suburbs were either struck by lightning or their branches torn off by the heavy wind which accompanied the storm. The park department office received many reports of this nature and the employees of the department will be kept busy until tomorrow night, cleaning up fallen limbs. Among the places where trees were struck or their branches blown down were Fort Hill and Shedd parks, Chestnut and Willow streets, Middlesex street, near Weber, Lyons street, near the Lyons street school, Fay street, School street, Coburn street and many others.

The storm had the effect of clearing the air to a considerable extent, although at noon today the thermometer in Northbrook square was at the 57 mark, only three degrees below the mark it had attained at the same hour yesterday. However, there was less humidity in the air. The sky remained overcast all day and there were brief showers this forenoon.

PARADE IN NEW YORK

16,000 Christian Endeavors Sweep Down Fifth Avenue, Singing Hymns

NEW YORK, July 9.—Thousands of Christian Endeavors from all parts of the world, swept down Fifth avenue today, singing martial hymns in a great Christian citizenship parade.

The marchers, numbering more than 16,000 young men and women, many wearing brilliant costumes, flying banners and flags, and singing all the way, presented one of the most colorful spectacles ever witnessed in this city.

More than a score of floats were in the procession, 11 of which depicted scenes of episodes from Pilgrim's Progress.

Nearly a dozen bands playing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and other martial hymns headed the vast delegations, while Homer Rodehorst, former Billy Sunday choir leader, pranced up and down the line with his famous horn and kept the marchers singing.

The thousands that thronged the streets along the line of march to Central park, were given an added thrill in the costumes of the big state delegations, especially those from New England and middle western states. Besides their brilliant colored marching uniforms they all carried American flags, the only flag allowed in the parade.

The marching columns were headed by Dr. Francis E. Clark, president of the World's Christian Endeavor society, William Jennings Bryan and other officials.

Worst Electrical Storm on Record Passed Over Boston and Suburbs Today

Vivid Flashes of Lightning Almost Changed Night Into Day

Reports From Many New England Cities Tell of Damage Caused by Storm

BOSTON, July 9.—An electrical storm which weather bureau officials described as more severe than any within their recollection passed over this city and suburbs early today and was still rumbling with rain accompaniment this forenoon. Vivid flashes of lightning almost changed night into day at times in the early morning hours and day was turned into night when darkness shut in later.

Lights were necessary for the conduct of business and automobile headlights flashed through the streets. Within a brief period more than two and a half inches of rain descended flooding the city streets and doing some damage to growing crops in the suburbs. The lightning caused a number of fires, but no serious loss.

Telephone and telegraph service was badly crippled by the storm and commuters' trains were long delayed.

The storm followed two days of extreme heat and humidity.

NEWEST THING IN SUMMER SPORTS

Here is absolutely the newest thing in summer sports. It combines the thrill of a roller coaster and a fearful wheel with possibilities of a chute the chutes. And, of course, it is the invention of Lowell kids. It bears for novelty their "Way Down East" exhibit of last winter, when they paddled alone the Merrimack on ice cakes. Here it is: a long swing attached to a tree located at the very verge of the river near Centralville bridge. The youngster whose turn it is to occupy the seat gets a push which carries him far out over the water, at a height of about 20 feet in the air. Of course, if he slips it means an unwilling dive half way to mid-stream. But this apparently is not considered a cause of worry, although the small boys who were enjoying the sport this afternoon were fully clothed, and would have gone flying out into the river, shoes and all, had the ropes snapped or had they lost their hold on the rope and been hurled from the precarious seat.

SUING LABOR UNIONS

Petition Asking Suspension of Law Filed at City Hall Today

A petition bearing between 900 and 1000 signatures, asking that the recently enacted law, which will allow labor unions to be sued, be suspended and that the matter be referred to the people on a referendum at the state election in 1922, was filed with the local election commission at city hall, at 11.30 this morning. The petition was given to Hugh C. McOsker, chairman of the commission, by Timothy P. O'Rourke, president of the Lowell Trades and Labor council.

Similar petitions are being circulated all over the state. If 15,000 signatures are obtained, the operation of the law will be suspended until the people have a chance to vote on it.

The election commission will start checking up the signatures Monday morning.

DE VALERA URGES NATIONAL UNITY

DUBLIN, July 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Eamonn de Valera, the republican leader, issued a manifesto this afternoon urging national unity during the peace negotiations, with "unbending determination to endure all that is still necessary." Premier Agrees to Meet de Valera and Discuss Basis for Formal Conference

Britain Seething With Peace Talk—Takes Precedence Over All Other Matters

DUBLIN, July 9.—(By the Associated Press)—A general order directing the suspension of hostilities during the peace negotiations, the order to be effective from noon July 11, was issued this evening by Richard Mulcahy, chief of staff of the Irish republican army.

LONDON, July 9.—Military patrols were withdrawn from the streets of Dublin last evening, says a Central News despatch. Many of the police auxiliaries were walking the streets leisurely fraternizing with civilians.

The truce between the Sinn Fein and the crown forces may, therefore, be said to be already begun, although the time for commencing it officially has been set for Monday noon.

The Irish office stated this afternoon that Eamonn de Valera had issued instructions to his supporters to cease all attacks upon Crown forces and civilians and discontinuous military maneuvers of all kinds.

The instructions from Mr. de Valera, the Irish office said, also were to prohibit the use of arms, to abstain from interference with public or private property, and to discontinue and prevent action likely to cause disturbance of the peace which might necessitate military interference.

The instructions, it was added, were effective from noon on Monday.

An air of the greatest optimism this morning pervaded No. 10 Downing street, the premier's official residence, and the Irish office where the belief was freely voiced that there was every reason to hope the bloodshed in Ireland was nearing an end.

Lloyd George Accepts
LONDON, July 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Lloyd George will accept Eamonn de Valera's proposal and meet the Irish republican leader to discuss the basis for a formal conference. The meeting will probably occur next week.

The only thing remaining is the fixing of the date, which Mr. Lloyd George will name in his reply to Mr. de Valera's letter.

The government is subordinating all other problems of state to the question of Irish peace, and is making every effort towards preparations for the meeting.

Liquor cases netted two fines, totaling $250, in the police court this morning, while one defendant was defaulted and the case of another was continued.

The officers of the raiding squad testified that last night, about 11.30 o'clock, they invaded the home of William Sleason, and found a 10-gallon still in operation, twenty-five bottles of homebrew, and a gallon of moonshine, together with sundry "empties." "Personal use" was the plea of the defendant, who was nevertheless fined $150.

Michael Vergos was fined $100, when Officers Winn, Clarke and Cooney told of entering his Adams street residence and finding moonshine under the sink and in a closet. The "personal use" was again invoked, and again invoked in vain.

Vladislav Karkela, charged with unlawful keeping of liquor, failed to appear when his case was called this morning, and it was said that he has departed from Lowell. Judge Enright ordered a default, and a capias warrant for his arrest will be issued. The liquor squad visited his home on Winter street, July 1, and seized 100 bottles of Jamaica ginger, together with a quantity of moonshine.

The case of Vasilios Bassinos, charged with unlawful keeping of liquor, was continued to July 11. His abode was entered June 29, and several quarts of hooch were discovered, together with a number of empties.

Court Does Not Like Way Some Cases Are Being Handled

Government, He Says, Does Not Present Witnesses It Should Present

"Expense Saving" Excuse Does Not Appeal to His Honor

Mrs. Elizabeth Hammer paid a fine of $25 in the local police court this morning on a charge of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. A complaint charging her with driving away after causing damage, without giving her name and address, was dismissed.

Judge Enright commented with some severity on the fact that the government put on its case without using as a witness Robert Hamilton, driver of a Ford with which Mrs. Hammer's machine collided. "There was a case the other day," he said, "involving a charge of manslaughter, in which the government went to trial without one of the principal witnesses." His Honor indicated that the verdict in that case might have been different, in the event that the absent witness had been heard. He criticised the authorities for not having Hamilton in court, saying "he ought to be here." Deputy Downey explained that the government's reason was "to save expense," and the court advised that no effort to save expenses be made under circumstances of this nature.

John Sullivan and another witness testified that on the night of June 24, when the fender of Mrs. Hammer's car was damaged by a crash near Middlesex and Thorndike streets, the defendant came down the hill at a rate of about 15 miles an hour. Judge Enright ruled that this was too fast. The defendant at first took an appeal, but later decided to pay the fine.

ELEMENTS AT THEIR WORST

Electrical Storm One of the Most Severe in the History of City

Two Days of Intense Heat Followed by Uproar in the Heavens

Many Places in and About the City Were Struck by Lightning

Many Telephones Put Out of Commission—Woman Struck by Lightning

Crashing, incessant claps of thunder, which followed a continuous series of sharp lightning flashes, and a down-pour of rain awoke most Lowell people from slumber shortly after two o'clock this morning, and for nearly two hours held the city in the grip of one of the worst electrical storms in its history.

Rarely has this section been visited by so terrifying an exhibition of the elements at their worst. Women and children shuddered while vivid flashes of lightning played about their homes and reverberating crashes of thunder seemed to boom over their heads like a series of artillery regiments in action.

Not only was the storm exceptionally terrifying but it was also one of the most disastrous on record. Many places in and about the city were struck by lightning, at least one person was struck and seriously burned, trees were felled in all sections of the city and the paths in the city's parks washed away by the heavy downpour. Even more serious was the effect of the storm on the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s system here. Fully 500 lines were put out of order affecting between 1000 and 1200 subscribers. Every available man was pressed into service by the company this morning in an effort to remedy conditions.

Fortunately, the storm came during the few hours of the 24 that the street railway company does not operate its cars and thus, this company escaped the effects of the disastrous visitation.

Clears the Air
The storm came after 48 hours of the most oppressive heat and humidity and was not a wholly unheralded. Occasional lightning flashes before midnight, which had the appearance of heat lightning, gave an indication of the electricity in the air, but it was not until the early morning hours that the storm broke out in its real fury.

People who had occasion to be up at night were startled by the storm.

The following is a complete report, giving high, low and closing quotations:

NEW YORK, July 9.—Further price concessions were recorded in the early part of today's stock market session. Selling orders centered among shares of doubtful dividend status. Sentiment was more bearish because of weakness in foreign exchange, especially the British rate. Extreme fluctuations of 1 to almost 4 points were made by prominent oils, motors, steels, equipments and specialties. These were largely relieved with some substantial gains in the final hour when bulls served to stabilize the list. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 300,000 shares.

Foreign Exchanges
NEW YORK, July 9.—Exchange on London today fell to $3.63 for demand bills in this market. That figure represents an overnight loss of two cents in the pound sterling and approximates the lowest quotation for this form of remittance for the year. Dealers in exchange reported only a nominal market.

Weakness in British exchange, which sympathetically affected virtually all continental rates, is ascribed to Great Britain's adverse trade balance, in which imports far exceed exports.

Cables received by international bankers also indicate further selling of sterling exchange in London and Paris with heavier purchases of dollar or American exchange.

Demand sterling dropped to 13.67 before the close here on small offerings.

French, Belgian and Italian rates lost about 10 points, Swiss 12, Dutch 25, Danish, Norwegian and Swedish 20 to 25.

to his home in this city today by Undertaker Joseph Albert.

Ernest Lonsager was well and favorably known in this city. He was born in Lowell and received his early education at St. Joseph's college. He attended high school for a year or two and then entered the vocational school, graduating from there last year, after having completed a course in drafting and cabinet making. During the Liberty loan drive he was a member of the troop 26, Boy Scouts, and his services in the drive were such that Uncle Sam awarded him a bronze medal.

The young man was an amateur actor, having taken part in numerous plays staged here and in other cities by Troupe Joyeuse. He was employed in the drafting department of the Saco-Lowell shops and was completing a two-weeks' vacation as the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guertin at Holyoke, when the accident occurred. On his vacation he was accompanied by his grandmother, Mrs. Theophile Guertin of this city. Deceased is survived by his parents, three brothers, Leon, who is at the O.M. hospital at Lechmere, Que., Omar and Roland, both of this city, and two sisters, Solange and Theres.

Ernest was a good swimmer and his parents and friends cannot account for the accident, unless that he was stricken with cramps or got fast in something on the bottom of the lake. Grandby, the place where the accident occurred, is in the western part of the state.

FATHER DECIDES TO SPEND HIS VACATION AT HOME.

JACK JOHNSON RELEASED FROM PRISON TODAY
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 9.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight pugilist champion, was released from Leavenworth federal prison here shortly before 10 o'clock this morning after serving 10 months of a year's sentence for violation of the Mann act.

Johnson said today that he thought he still was good enough for two more years at or near the top of the heavyweight division. Then he would retire to California to watch over his business affairs from there, he said. Johnson declared that he did not like boxing, but that he wanted to get back in the game for two years at least.

"What I mean by I don't like boxing," Johnson said, "is that if there were an automobile race or a bull fight on one side and a big boxing bout on the other side of the street, you never would find me at the glove contest."

RECORD SALE OF PULP TIMBER
PORTLAND, Ore., July 9.—The largest sale of pulp timber made on northwestern national forests was announced today by the forest service.

The sale involves about 100,000,000 cubic feet of spruce, cedar and hemlock, about 60 miles north of Keelick, Alaska.

The buyer is the Alaska-American Paper corporation of New York, which has applied for power rights on Orchard lake and plans to erect pulp and paper mills there, the announcement said.

OUTING AT WILLOWDALE
The Swedish Congregational church held an outing this afternoon at Willowdale park. A special car bearing many of the members of the church left the square at 1:45 o'clock, bound for the park where a program of sports, including races and other athletic games, was run off.

Abrahamson was served late in the afternoon and the party was scheduled to return to the city at an early hour this evening. The affair was under the general direction of Mr. Victor Hedlund and Mr. A. P. Swanson of the congregation.

The Craigrowne, a tugboat, was reported to have been stranded on the shore of Norton Shoal. The vessel is listed in the shipping register with a gross tonnage of 2500 and is owned in Boston.

WHEN ENGINE MISSES SPARK PLUG DEFECTS

KNOWLEDGE OF THIS PART ESSENTIAL TO DRIVERS

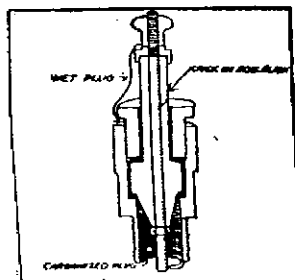

Knowledge of the spark plug is most essential for the proper operation of an automobile. Yet this simple little instrument has sent many motorists to garages for help just because they hadn't learned its construction and function.

The spark plug is the first thing to test when the engine misses fire. The spark gap may be too wide or the points may touch. The plug may reach too far into the cylinder or not far enough. The terminal may not be tight. There may be a carbon deposit on the plug inside the cylinder. The porcelain may have cracked or moisture may have accumulated on the plug.

One way to detect the missing spark plug is to open the relief cocks, one at a time, while the engine is running. If a flame is visible and a sharp explosion is heard, the cylinder is working well. If there is no flame and a hiss is heard, the spark plug should be taken out and examined.

To test the spark plug, place it on the cylinder head, with wire connected and switch on. Crank the engine slowly. If there is a spark at the gap, the plug is good.

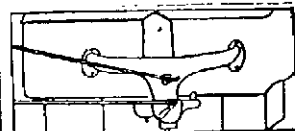

Otherwise, the spark plug should be taken apart and, if it is not cracked, should be cleaned and the spark gap set properly.

Construction of a spark plug and three causes of misfiring.

SIMPLE GAS SAVER

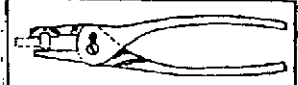

Owners of light cars can fit up this contrivance to save gas. Drill and tap a small hole in the intake manifold and screw in a petcock to fit. Attach a rod to reach to the dashboard, so that the cock can be adjusted from the seat. After the engine is warmed up, this cock may be opened to let in more air and cut down the amount of gasoline.

PLIER HOLDS TIGHT

The inventor of a small attachment to plier jaws claims nothing can slip in its grip. It is fitted to pivot or rock so that it may be adjusted to grasp any irregular object.

VISIBLE INTENSIFIER

The latest spark plug sold is one with transparent insulation and a visible intensifier gap. The width of the gap can be varied by an adjusting stem at the top. The driver can always tell whether current is passing through the plug. If the plug is fouled the first gap accumulates enough current to jump the carbonized gap in the cylinder.

Youngest Monarch, Who Reigns But Does Not Rule, Coming to U. S.

HE SERVED WITH THE SOLDIERS OF BULGARIA

HE ALWAYS STOPS HIS CAR TO GIVE THE PEASANTS A LIFT

BORIS, TSAR OF BULGARIA

BY MILTON BRONNER
LONDON, July 9.—If Boris Third, tsar of Bulgaria, comes to America this fall as announced, Americans will see not only the youngest monarch in Europe, but one who is at the head of the most democratic people in Europe.

Boris reigns, but does not rule. As a matter of fact, the rulers of Bulgaria today are the peasants acting through the Agrarian party. Peasant farmers constitute 55 per cent. of the population. Their wheat and pigs are the country's chief source of wealth.

Boris came to the throne when his country was all shot to pieces. It had been in two wars in recent years and lost both. The first was when Bulgaria battled with Serbia and Greece and was thoroughly trounced. Then in the recent war, Boris' father, Tsar Ferdinand, was a pro-German that he took his country in on the side of the Central powers and once more Bulgaria was licked.

Ferdinand fled. His oldest son, born January 30, 1894, was called to the throne.

THE STRAND

Another Big Three-Feature Program First Three Days of the Week at the Strand.

Besides the assurance of "cool and comfortable" surroundings, the Strand management announces another of those excellent three-feature programs for the first three days of the week. Ralph Ince will present one of his latest Selznick productions, "Red Foam," and Carmel Myers will be shown in "The Dangerous Moment." The third and final feature of the program on the bill will be Larry Semon in "The Rent Collector." The program for the last three days of the week will be made up of three features, "Her Lord and Master," and human Harry Carey in "The Freeze Out."

The latest Ralph Ince production, "Red Foam," is a story of a small town life. The basic structure of "Red Foam" is said to be surcharged with vibrant appeal, and the general atmosphere of the plot creates a feeling of expectancy for the tremendous climax which is to come. It chronicles faithfully the workings of a small town community, and the resultant clash that develops in the unfolding is said to reveal Mr. Ince at his best as a director of really human photoplays. Zena Keefe, who plays the leading feminine role in "Red Foam," is said to have greater opportunity than has hitherto been given her for striking characterization. Other members of the cast include Harry Carey, Henry Borgeaux, Fredman Barnes, Percy Worth, John Butler and Daniel Hayes. The author, William H. Hamby, is known among thousands of readers, because of his regular and frequent contributions to the leading fiction magazines. Edward Montague dramatized the story from the original of the same name which was published in the Saturday Evening Post.

"The Dangerous Moment," Carmel Myers' most recent screen success, will also have its initial local showing during the first three days of the week. Picturesque Greenwich Village, the Bohemian quarter of New York, serves the story as a background. "The Dangerous Moment" is a story of a woman who, in the face of a community where indifference toward one's neighbor is an applied art, so save herself from the advances of the son of the woman who owns the cafe, she hits him in the chin. The fight she goes out and the fall to the floor and the fleeing from the police, she takes refuge in the studio of an artist where for several days she lives in fear and trembling, but until she has had some rather trying experiences. There are some real surprises promised during the progress of the piece.

troubled country's throne October 4, 1918. He has made good. His father had been a little autocrat who changed his title from prince to king and from king to tsar. Boris found a parliament in which the peasants dominated, and was content to have it so.

Ferdinand sent M. Stambouliski, the leader of the peasants, to prison for warning him against taking Bulgaria into the war on the side of Germany. Under Boris this same Stambouliski is premier and he has the farmers' back of him.

Ferdinand was always dreaming of territorial aggrandizement which meant war with Balkan neighbors. Boris dreams of peace with his neighbors and development of the resources of his country.

Ferdinand was a physical coward who shrank from mingling with his subjects for fear of assassination. Boris doesn't know the word fear and mingles freely with his people. He lives almost a monastic life in the palace, part of which he has closed up. He is practicing the economy he feels is necessary for Bulgaria if it is to pull itself out of the hole into which it fell during the war.

It is a role that could easily be over-rated and spoiled, but this artist brings a temperance in drawing his character with a result that is entirely satisfactory.

His first appearance in a British-made Paramount picture was in "Appearances" in which he had the leading role. In "The Mystery Road," he is seen as the son of an English Earl, who becomes the central figure in a tragic story filled with scenes that thrill.

Gerald Dombey, son of the Earl of Farrington, while spending his vacation in the south of England, meets Vera Lypshai, a girl of a town in the vicinity. A flirtation starts and Vera becomes infatuated with Gerald. On the eve of his departure for home, the inevitable happens. Reaching his home, he is filled with remorse, for there has come to him a vision of the mystery road—the road of life that leads one knows not whither.

To add to his troubles, he thinks of Susan, his childhood sweetheart, to whom he is betrothed. In desperation he confesses his sin to her. She is broken hearted and leaves him. Gerald returns to college, later going abroad. As time passes, Susan grows into a beautiful woman and is awaiting Gerald's return from France where he has been motoring with his chum, Christopher. When they stop at Nice and on a road they see lying in the road the form of a young woman. She is Myrtle Sargent who, persecuted at home by a cruel father and stepmother, has sought relief in flight.

Gerald installs Myrtle in a fine hotel suite and provides her with fine clothing and a maid. He persuades Susan, who is in France with the Earl, to meet Myrtle. At a fashionable restaurant, Gerald meets Vera and they plan further meetings. That night, on going to her villa, he discovers it to be a gambling resort, conducted by Vera's brother. Vera protests the feeding of Gerald, but she finally acquiesces when threatened with exposure, and Gerald is robbed through her connivance.

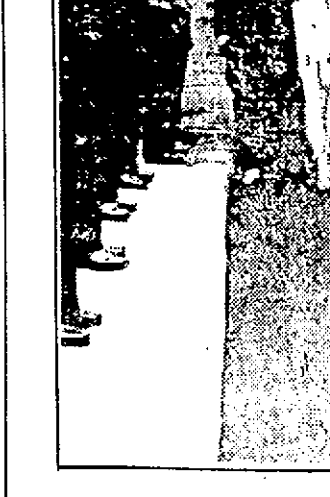

From this point on, the action becomes increasingly absorbing until a most unusual denouement is reached.

TO CAMP AT CAPITAL TILL HE GETS MONEY

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Mayor Bradford of Quincy, Mass., presented a bill to Secretary Davis yesterday for $50,000 for money which he says the government agreed to pay in lieu of taxes on the assessed valuation of the housing project built in the city during the war.

Senator Lodge and other congressmen from Massachusetts have interested themselves in collecting the money, and Secretary Davis said yesterday that Mayor Bradford had indicated his intentions of remaining in Washington until he got the money.

WILL'S LESSON

ANY DAY IN EARLY SPRING WATCH WILL IF HELL LET YOU COME NEAR

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
Will Woodpecker learned a lesson he never forgot when Howly Thunder and Jumpy Lightning knocked him down in the maple tree, because he was just about to steal Chick's apple syrup sap. He vowed he would never do so again, and said that he would learn to do his own tapping, that is, that he would learn to drill his own holes in the bark for the sap to run into. So now Will does two kinds of tapping, you see.

Any day in early spring, watch Will, if he'll let you come near. He drills a hole, sitting on his tail in the rough tree bark and holding it with his claws, and then waits for the sweet sap to run in. Then he sticks in his bill and drinks it up. When it's gone he moves over an inch or two and does the same thing. Will is a good carpenter and has an eye for measuring. The holes are exactly the same distance apart and go around the tree as evenly as a necklace. Will has another name since then; he's called Sippy Sapsucker. But we are away off our story.

The question was, what should poor Mr. Sprinkle-How do to get the Nutsauce Fairies back home again, for once Howly Thunder and Jumpy Lightning get loose, you can't do much with them but let 'em have their own merry way. They go running over the sky, jumping from one black cloud to another. Howly Thunder beating his big base drum while he always carries, and Jumpy Lightning flashing his enormous flashlight down into folks eyes! Nancy couldn't think and Nick wouldn't think and Chick said he certainly couldn't think, and if nobody cared he'd go and have a sip of the sap that Will didn't get. "After all," said he, "the Nutsauce Fairies did me a good turn."

CHAS. A. PROUTY DEAD

Prominent Vermont Man on Interstate Commerce Commission 17 Years

NEWPORT, Vt., July 9.—Charles A. Prouty, aged 63, director of valuation of the interstate commerce commission, a member of that body more than 17 years, died at his home here yesterday morning.

Mr. Prouty arrived here from Washington about two months ago in a private car. He has been failing steadily since that time.

Mr. Prouty was the man who gave the commission standing both in law and government, and organized it into the force it has become; the man who, in 1912, conducted the investigation into the affairs of the New York, New Haven and Hartford system which resulted in the retirement of President Mellen; the man through whose efforts something like an equitable rate system was established on all the railroads, and finally the man on whom was placed the responsibility of figuring out the valuation of the railroads of the entire country—one of the biggest jobs ever placed on the shoulders of one man in this country.

He was born in this city in 1853 and was graduated from Dartmouth college in 1875. He taught school for several years, practiced law here and served one two-year term in the Vermont house of representatives. For some time he was general counsel for the Rutland and the Central Vermont railroads. In 1915 Dartmouth college conferred upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

In his capacity as interstate commerce commissioner Mr. Prouty presided over many hearings of the utmost importance to New England's complicated railroad affairs. He thoroughly understood railroad conditions in this section of the country, having also a remarkable grasp of the details of railroad management, through his long association with the Central Vermont and Rutland roads, as well as a knowledge of the problems of transportation rates, finances and much else.

ASKS MAYOR TO EJECT STRIKE BREAKERS

FRANKLIN, N. H., July 9.—An arrival of 50 strike-breakers for work in the local mills of the International Paper company now brings the number here to around 65. They were out under guard yesterday walking and yelling from sympathizers with the strikers.

A petition was passed yesterday asking the mayor to eject the strike-breakers from the city on the ground that they were undesirable citizens.

DISORDERS IN MEXICO

HAVE SUBSIDED

MEXICO CITY, July 9.—Disorders that occurred at Zacamixtla, state of Vera Cruz, on Thursday when workmen at a petroleum camp attacked oil properties in the district, have subsided and the situation there is tranquil. It was announced last night by Plutarco E. Calles, secretary of the interior. He declared the demonstration on Thursday was of a minor character.

Secretary Calles characterized rumors regarding the trouble at Zacamixtla as "another attempt by oil companies to place difficulty between the United States and Mexico."

A statement issued by the war office last night relative to the situation in Tampico was reassuring, although it was stated troops were being rushed to that district as a precautionary measure.

DEBATE ON SOLDIER BONUS IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Passage by the senate of the Willis-Campbell anti-bill was believed to be indicated by the vote of 42 to 16 yesterday to begin debate on the measure.

Ten republicans and six democrats voted against beginning discussion of the bill, which passed the house last week. They were:

Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota, in charge of the bill, insisted upon opening debate yesterday, despite the three limit of one hour.

Attacks on the bill were made by Senators Spencer and Wadsworth. Senator Knox wanted to know whether the government could legally guarantee the purity of liquor prescribed. The Pennsylvania senator said he planned to propose an amendment which would make sure that the sick obtained pure liquor. Senator Gerry, democrat, Rhode Island, declared the bill "an outrageous smirch" on the medical profession.

The end of the hour allotted to the bill, inquiry was made of Senator Stirling whether he expected to get a vote "right away."

"I assure the senator he will not," Senator Wadsworth interjected, and the bill was laid over.

The police commission made the appointment on recommendation of Chief M. J. Healey.

HEARING ON TUFTS CASE TO OPEN MONDAY

BOSTON, July 9.—The hearing of charges against Dist. Atty. Tufts of Middlesex county will be begun Monday in the big room used for the full bench of the supreme court. The court will sit daily from 9:30 a. m. till probably 4:30 or 5 p. m., with an hour for lunch.

The five judges who will hear the case are Chief Justice Arthur P. Rugg and Justices Henry K. Brainer, Charles A. Crosby, James B. Carroll and Chas. F. Jenney.

For the first time in the history of the Massachusetts courts, the witness stand has been moved from its traditional place close to the bench and is located at the entrance to the bar enclosure directly in front of and about 15 feet from the bench. Tables for counsel are in their usual position, but the attorneys will be obliged to turn their backs either to the court or to the witness.

"Because of the great number of attorneys, witnesses, stenographers, etc., the space available for the public will be necessarily limited," said Sheriff John A. Kellher yesterday. "There will be accommodations for about 150. When the available space is occupied no one will be admitted until a vacancy occurs."

Sheriff Kellher will be in court wearing his regalia and sword. The court clerk, James F. McCarthy, and Court Officer Ryan also will be on duty.

The corridor leading to the full bench room will be blocked off down to the equity merit session of the superior court. The stairs leading down to the probate court will also be closed to avoid any possible crowding in. The equity session room of the supreme court will also be closed.

that an accident of any kind had taken place.

The pulmotor was applied by Officer John McManus and Instructor Daniel P. Brennan. Dr. Thomas B. Smith, medical examiner, was notified by Officer John Sullivan, and a member of the Lowell General Hospital physicians staff also was called to the scene. Accidental drowning was the finding made by the medical examiner. He explained that no marks of any kind were upon the body. The boy was wearing a blue bathing suit, with a skirt similar to that worn by girls. The remains were removed to the undertaking rooms of C. H. Molloy's sons in Market street. Here identification was made.

The Lannon boy is survived by his parents, together with four brothers, Charles, Thomas, James and Gerald, and also by six sisters, Margaret, Anna, Kathleen, May, Rita, and Irene. He was a pupil at the Bartlett school.

It was stated by people who were in the vicinity of the pool yesterday afternoon that although three lifeguards are supposed to be on duty there, only one was actually on the bathing beach. One of the others was patrolling the bathhouse, it was stated, and the third was giving out bathing suits, leaving only one man to watch the hundreds who were in the water.

SPRINKLING SYSTEM SAVES BUILDING

The sprinkling system in a manufacturing plant in Thorndike street saved the plant from destruction by fire last evening.

The fire was on the third story of the old suspender factory at 287 Thorndike street. It started shortly after 11:30 o'clock and is believed to have been caused by rats, matches and paper. The origin of the fire was in the pocket of a coat hanging on the wall of the weaving department of the Deavitt Mfg. Co., and when the flames were discovered by the night watchman, the wall and ceiling were ablaze. A telephone alarm was sent in and Engine 1 responded, but in the meantime the automatic sprinkler got going and poured a strong stream on the fire. The blaze reached the roof of the building, but the sprinklers prevented it from piercing through and when the firemen reached the premises they finished the job with chemicals.

The damage to the building is estimated at more than $1,000, while considerable damage was done to the machinery in the room by water. The floor below, occupied by the Churchill Mfg. Co., was flooded and this company also suffered great damage by water. The firemen are of the opinion that the sprinklers saved the building, which is a three-story wooden structure.

The American baby carriage is said to be an offspring of the Chinese basket.

THE U.S.S. MARYLAND, WORLD'S GREATEST WARSHIP, AND ONE OF ITS GIANT TURBINE-GENERATORS. INSET IS PICTURE OF CAPT. CHARLES F. PRESTON.

(By Newspaper Enterprise)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., July 9.—Queen of the Seas!

That's what the new, electrically driven, U.S.S. Maryland, most modern battleship of the world, will be when she points her nose seaward, off the Virginia coast, early in November. She has already had her builders trials and, according to Captain Charles F. Preston, who has been assigned to her command, staged a perfect performance in every detail.

The Maryland is the latest completed achievement of American naval architects. She carries eight 16-inch guns, the largest ever mounted on a battleship. They fire a shell weighing 2100 pounds a distance of 20 miles. They measure 57 feet in length.

The secondary battery of 14 five-inch guns is for use against torpedo boats, submarines and smaller craft. There are also four three-inch anti-aircraft guns and two underwater 21-inch torpedo tubes for firing the largest and longest range torpedoes.

Naval architects believe it will be almost impossible to sink the Maryland by an underwater attack. Armor plate will stave off all but the largest caliber shells.

The ship, with its electric driving power, installed by the General Electric company, will have a speed of 21 knots an hour and a cruising radius of 10,000 miles. She will burn oil, her fuel capacity being about 1,392,500 gallons. The main propulsion machinery consists of two Curtis steam turbine-generators which supply power to four 7000 horse-power induction motors, directly connected with four propellers.

The ship is 624 feet long, has a beam of 97 1/2 feet and weighs 32,000 tons.

electrical disturbances, fell over this city in two hours following 2:15 o'clock this morning. $15,000 Loss at Townsend TOWNSEND, July 9.—The farm buildings, house, barn and garage of Lawrence Morgan, situated a mile and a half out of this town, just over the Pepperell line, were destroyed by fire this morning, started by a bolt of lightning. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Houses Struck in Maine

BIDDEFORD, Me., July 9.—One of the worst thunder storms in years in this section passed over York county early this morning. The storm was accompanied by an unusual electrical display and houses were struck at Old Orchard, Camp Ellis and in the northern part of the city where the farm buildings of Artisan Rumery, together with their contents including several head of stock, were burned. Mr. Rumery estimates his loss at $10,000. Only minor damage resulted at other points. The rainfall was heavy.

Struck By Lightning

MEDFORD, July 9.—Lightning struck in several places in this city and Malden during a severe thunder storm early today. Several fires were started. The most serious was at the wool working plant of W. C. M. & Co. in this city. The lightning struck a sawdust bin on the second floor and burned through the building causing a loss estimated at $3000. The cupola of the Centre school in Medford square toppled over and are caused $1000 damage to the building.

The first civil marriage in the United States is said to have been performed at Plymouth in 1521.

MUST PAY FOR PARKING AUTOS AT THE DEPOT

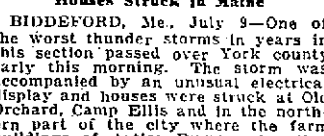

Automobile owners who were accustomed to use free of charge the large parking space at the Boston & Maine depot in Middlesex street must now pay a fee of 50 cents for the privilege. The land, which is situated between the depot proper and Thorndike street, is owned by the railroad and was formerly used by many people who wished to leave their cars in the vicinity. Now the railroad has decided that this must not continue and has placed the space under the direction of the Depot Coach company with authority to charge for the privilege of parking. It is reported that the number of people who have paid for parking is very small as compared with the crowds who used it when the privilege was free.

Greek Offensive Against Turks Begun

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 9.—(By the Associated Press)—According to an unconfirmed report from Greek official circles, the Greek offensive against the Turkish nationalists began yesterday in the Ushak sector. This section lies just to the west of the Bagdad railway about midway in the Anatolian peninsula.

Fire Damages Church During Storm

NORTH ADAMS, July 9.—Damage which may exceed $10,000 was caused by a fire which broke out in St. Francis Catholic church during a terrific electric storm early this morning. Lightning struck wires outside the church and passed into the edifice, shattering the lighting system and causing a blaze in an ell to the right of the main altar. Damage to the main part of the church was mostly from smoke. Several hours after the first blaze was extinguished, fire broke out a second time but was quickly squelched.

She spends her days in the midst of a busy clicking of typewriters and crisp columns of figures.

But as the cool of evening comes and she seeks her home on the outskirts of Kansas City, Kas., Miss Harriet Jacobs forgets the figures, and the typewriter and the office routine and becomes a ministering fairy.

For there at her home, huddled on all sides by foliage and colorful flowers, a little world of animal folk await the coming of Miss Jacobs. They know that then it is time for dinner and perhaps to show off a new stunner or two taught them during the day by Miss Jacobs' sister, Miss Sarah.

Families

The Jacobs home is a sort of refuge for animals which have become, as humans sometimes do, wanderers. There are now about ten dogs, 20 cats and two parrots huddling around together on the enclosed acre which the sisters own. It isn't at all unusual to see a family of kittens napping between the huge shaggy paws of Peter, indeed Peter feels a sort of responsibility in their up-bringing and if he can't purr to the family he does the best he can with a low fatherly growling.

Peggy has a downright affection for the parrots and instead of following the feline tendency toward feathered folk, she shares her chair with them and when they are caged puts a dainty paw in for friendly inspection.

Faithful

Harmona, an English shepherd dog, lost his sight, but Miss Sarah Jacobs from a rattlesnake. The dog, named after the snake and suffered the poisonous bite which was intended for Miss Jacobs. Cinderella, when she limped into the home, was so wounded that they believed chloroform would have to be given her. But

Fighting Disease Germs

There is a popular idea that most sickness is caused by a germ of the disease finding entrance to our bodies through the food we eat, the water or milk we drink or the air we breathe. This is true as far as it goes, but it is also true that disease germs are entering our bodies every day without causing disease.

The reason for this is that there are forces within the body that are constantly fighting these disease germs and it is only when this defense is weakened that the germs get the upper hand and we become ill. One of the most powerful of these forces that work for health is rich, red blood. Food, healthy blood increases the resistance of the body to the diseases that are always threatening. It is easier to keep up this resistance by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, eating proper food, avoiding articles of food that do not agree with us and getting plenty of fresh air day and night, than it is to cure the disease after it gets a foothold. Keep up the resistance of your body to disease by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which you can get at any drug store, and you will avoid such sickness.

REPUBLICANS IN TURMOIL OVER TARIFF BILL IN CONGRESS

Senator Walsh On Speaking Tours---Mrs. Rogers Popular Worker for Disabled Soldiers---President Harding Travels In Pullman Like a Private Citizen

(Special to The Sun.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9th.—With the republicans sparring and fencing for factional advantage, the top-heavy majority in the house shouting for recognition of the one hundred or more new and inexperienced members, it's not all a great and glorious feeling that the leaders of that party are experiencing. President Harding is unquestionably a great hand to smooth out difficulties, and is doing his best to cut in and save the day, but even then Senator Lodge in the senate and Mr. Mondell in the house are not treading an easy path. Take the matter of a senate adjournment for instance. Mr. Lodge proposed a four weeks' adjournment while the house backed and hewed the tariff bill into shape. That suggestion met the favor of the old timers, who knew the uselessness of trying to get miscellaneous legislation through congress in a mid-summer session called to consider the revenue and tariff. But the new man balked and joined in with senators who have an axe to grind in the way of bills already out of committee, and the proposed recess or adjournment fell through, although the plan may be revived in a short time. Norris of Kansas is apt to kick over the traces, and in this case proved a powerful "off-horse," declining to enter into any such agreement until the farmers of his section have secured certain legislation for which they are clamoring. Kenyon of Iowa, another man who often refuses to follow in the path laid out by conservative leaders, served notice that his bills dealing with uplift and welfare movements must be shoved to the front before he would consent to a recess. This upset all the tactics of the leaders and now other plans must be employed to bring about the July-August recess, for which congress, as a whole is still hopeful.

Senator Walsh's Statement

Senator David I. Walsh, who is one of the most forceful democrats in the senate, has been away most of the week on a speaking trip which took him to New York and elsewhere. Mr. Walsh was selected by the leaders of New York democracy to sound the keynote of the next campaign. He did not hesitate to put the defeat of the democratic party last fall squarely on the shoulders of supporters of the Wilson League of Nations. Before leaving for his New York trip Senator Walsh said: "I shall urge democracy to return to all old fashioned democracy; to defend the country against class legislation; to work against the spread of radicalism and oppression; and to bring about the return by special democratic principles and policies."

Senator Walsh has been foremost in advocating an investigation of two very important subjects. First, the care of wounded and sick veterans of the great war, and second, coal and cost of living, including coal and meat, the two latter topics commanding his special attention.

Congressman Rogers' Speech

Congressman Rogers of Lowell made a stirring speech in favor of the amended peace resolution, when it came up for final passage. He praised the democratic party for its support of the measure and urged the dissenting democrats to change their views and follow the path their leader had chosen. Flood of Virginia, an original League of Nations man, and former chairman of the foreign affairs committee, worked hard to keep his men in line, against the resolution, or Mr. Rogers would have made many converts and the democratic score in favor of the peace resolution would have been much larger.

(Special to The Sun.)

BOSTON, July 9.—Two important state highway improvement projects have been completed during the past week, the highway commission state house announces today, and two routes, which are in great demand with motorists are once more open to travel.

One of these is the route between Boston and Plymouth via Hanover. This route, seven miles shorter than the shore route and practically free from dangerous curves, has recently been reconstructed or resurfaced, and now presents a fine smooth means of approach to the festivities at Plymouth.

The second is the Newburyport turnpike, which, while not open throughout its length, nevertheless at

Mrs. Rogers Aids Soldiers

Hon. John Jacob Rogers, member of congress from the 5th Massachusetts district, has the double good fortune to be a man of prominence and recognized ability and also to have a wife who holds a position second to none in the hearts of the wounded soldiers out at the Walter Reed military hospital. Mrs. Rogers donned a Red Cross uniform and began work at the hospital when the United States entered the war. Since then she has been a daily attendant there, notwithstanding the temptation to let-up when the armistice was signed. Early every day Mrs. Rogers pilots her little electric car from her attractive apartment on 16th street out to the hospital, and it is after sun-down before she returns. She is a wonderful worker and has done wonderful work for the boys at the Walter Reed, and to say they idolize her is not over-stating it. Mrs. Rogers is young, with a charming personality and a smile that brings hope and comfort to the maimed boys she so tenderly mothers.

A little while ago they had a big celebration out at the hospital, under the auspices of the Massachusetts club, which is composed of residents of that state, temporarily living in Washington. It was Mrs. Rogers and Secretary of War John W. Weeks, who were the star guests, and every speaker paid a tribute to the work done by Mrs. Rogers. After the usual speech-making was over, Congressman Rogers got the floor, and said he was perfectly content to shine in the reflected glory of Mrs. Rogers, especially since it saved him from a trip to the guard house as a suspicious character. He then told how he went out to the Walter Reed and night to bring Mrs. Rogers home, and how he was strolling along in the darkness, was suddenly challenged by the sentry, who called "Who goes there?" Rogers said the only reply that popped into his head was "I am the husband of Mrs. Rogers"—and that got him past the lines without trouble.

New Pace For Summer Brides

When Mrs. Reginald Forster of Boston, step-daughter of Speaker Gillett, was recently married in Washington as one of its most exclusive fashionable social set, she set quite a new pace for summer brides. Mrs. Forster not only wore slippers instead of high-heeled shoes, but her train of cloth of silver was spread out and artistically adjusted by the colored butler of the family who followed the bride procession up the aisle, and, after bending low and spreading out the gown at a proper angle, quietly melted from view through a side door, leaving the guests in wide-eyed astonishment over the innovation.

President Travels In Pullman

President Harding has set a new pace in the matter of railroad travel. No one can remember a president who did not travel either by special train or private car when going from place to place, but President Harding has changed the custom.

When he went to New York to deliver an address, and when he spent the Fourth with Senator Frelinghuysen in New Jersey, he made the trip in a Pullman, taking Mrs. Harding and his senatorial friends who made up the traveling party, along with him. The Pullman was made up in dignity or a sense of his high position as president, but there isn't a trace in him of what old Senator Stone used to call "upper-middle-classness." Neither he nor Mrs. Harding are afraid to be cordial and friendly to all those they meet.

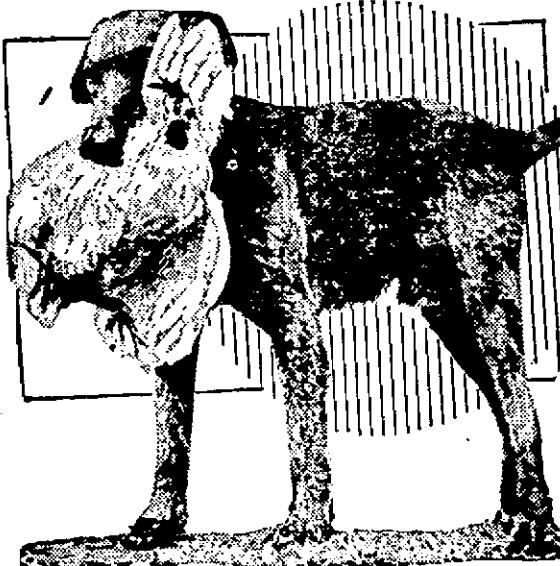

There has only one detour and this ever reads in fine condition. At South Lyndonfield, a detour through Peabody is necessary, but is stated above the surface of the detour is in good condition. This detour is eight miles in length, but adds only four miles to the trip over the turnpike, so that for persons going to Newburyport or beyond this presents the shortest route.

During the past week reconstruction has been begun in Winchester on the Boston-Lowell route, and all traffic is diverted through Winchester Center and Woburn. Motorists from Boston to Lowell have several alternative routes, the best of which is that through Lexington and Bedford.

HEN HOUND!

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—"Dash, go get us a chicken for dinner."

And "Dash," being a well-trained Airdale, dashes into the pen, selects the plumpiest one in the flock, chases it down and brings it to his master, T. Anderson, chicken rancher of Petaluma, Cal. He makes his catch without harming a single feather, and fetches in the chicken by grasping a wing in his mouth. "Dash" is claimed to be the only dog chicken-catcher which can be thus trusted.

Quarter Century Ago

Twenty-five years ago there was a balloon ascension at Lakeview and the wife of the "professor," Mrs. Roberto, in making a parachute jump alighted in the lake. Something happened as the balloon was released from its moorings so that she was dragged through trees and was nearly pulled out of the basket.

The incident is thus described by the old Sun:

"The airship sailed away towards Mountain rock. When near the woods Mrs. Roberto pulled the cut cord and the parachute began to descend directly over the lake. The spectators rushed to the shore amid the greatest excitement and all held their breath when she shot into the water with a loud splash. She came to the surface in a few seconds, but so tangled up in the ropes of the parachute that she could neither swim nor float.

"Finally Joseph Parley, John Stanton and John Weeks in a flat boat went to her assistance and finally succeeded in rescuing her when she had come to the surface after sinking a second time.

"When Mrs. Roberto recovered after her experience she gave this explanation of the accident:

"It was all on account of a yellow dog that ran into the enclosure just as I was about to ascend. A similar occurrence happened in Ohio a few years ago, when I broke my hip." She declared that she would never go up again with a yellow dog in the enclosure, not if she lost an engagement and disappointed ten thousand people."

Twenty-Five Years Wed

The marriage of John J. Cahill and Miss Mary C. Short occurred at St. Peter's parochial residence last evening (July 6), Rev. Fr. Ronan performing the ceremony. Miss Katie Short, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Edward S. Toye was best man. Leslie G. Hill and Miss Alice B. Sanderson were united in marriage Tuesday, July 7, by Rev. George Keenigot at his residence, 296 Liberty street.

Robert J. Deane of Epping, N. H., and Miss Daisy E. Hadley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hadley, were married last evening, July 8, at the home of the bride, 204 Tenth street, Rev. J. M. Greene performing the ceremony.

In a rural tower, for into such was the parlor transformed, in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sheldon of North Chelmsford, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss S. Alice Sheldon, to Henry S. Reiss, a successful young jeweler, of Boston, at high noon yesterday, July 8. Rev. S. I. Briant performed the happy ceremony.

A very pretty wedding service occurred in St. Anne's church yesterday noon, July 8, the happy couple being Edward M. Waterhouse and Miss Viola Campbell, both of Cambridge.

Bear Escaped on Common

One of the features in the midway on the South common in observance of the Fourth quarter of a century ago, was entitled Noah's Ark. It was supposed to have a specimen of every animal in creation and to convince the outsiders that it did have some fierce animals, the management had a mechanical arrangement for making a noise resembling the growling of a lion and various other animals. After the close of one of the years escaped from the ark and created considerable excitement as indicated from the following from the old Sun:

"One of the huge grizzly bears that performs in Noah's Ark in the South common became tired of his surroundings and without the formality of leaving, he took himself to the outer world with a dash.

"There were thousands on the common at the time, but it just took one sight of bruin to make them clear off. The attendants of the ark chased him all over the common and finally captured him. During the excitement several women fainted and one woman was found hours afterwards under a peanut stand afraid to look out lest the bear should grab her."

The Bicycle and the Motorcycle

Some 25 years ago the bicycle was condemned by the Women's Rescue league of Washington as one of the great instruments for the degradation of girls and women who used that mode of conveyance. The following from the old Sun indicates how strongly the bicycle was condemned at that time on account of the supposed dangers into which it brought the women who used it.

"The Women's Rescue league intends to begin a national crusade against the use of the bicycle by women. There are fully forty-five thousand bicyclists in Washington, and fifteen thousand are women. Soon there will be a bicycle parade there in which 40,000 wheelmen are expected to participate.

"Miss Charlotte Smith, president of the league, has achieved considerable notoriety on account of her effort in the lobby of congress to secure legislation to protect fallen women. She has been in the city about two months and in that period has devoted herself exclusively to bettering their condition."

From a long series of resolutions the following was taken:

"Whereas, even moderate bicycling by young women is to be deplored, because of evil associations and opportunities offered by cycling sports;

"Whereas, bicycling by young women has helped to swell the ranks of reckless girls, who finally drift into the standing army of outcast women of the United States more than any other medium.

"Therefore, we condemn the use of the bicycle by women as a fruitful source of degradation as yet unsuspected by the general public."

I wonder how the women of that Rescue league feel today over the use of the automobile which is very commonly driven by women without any restriction whatever they put on their consciences in what the women of the Rescue league said at that time in regard to the bicycle; but nowadays the bicycle has been discarded for the motorcycle with the side car so that the woman can bring her companion with her or perhaps take a seat in the side car while her companion drives the machine.

Bryan Nominated

It was just 25 years ago on July 7 that William Jennings Bryan was nominated for president by the democratic convention at Chicago. Mr. Bryan carried the convention by storm by his "crucifixion" speech, entitled "The Cross of Gold." He was regarded as a very brilliant man and undoubtedly he was; but when tried out, he lacked the qualities of a real statesman. He seemed to lack more than anything else, the manly character shown by some men such as Rooco-

RIBBONS! RIBBONS! MORE RIBBONS

BY MARIAN MALE

NEW YORK, July 9.—In her hair she wore a yellow ribbon—but that's only the beginning of the ribbon story.

Ribbons, this year, are more than holding their own.

Indeed, not only the summer gowns with their ribbon loop trimmings show the popularity of this form of trimming, but the new models for fall and winter are very much beset by them.

One striking model by Grauer brothers is of the new and popular satin-faced crepe. Its color scheme alone is startling, but the use of plaited ribbon is something to make youth look longingly at the particular frock. Although this gown has the appearance of a straight-lined dress, it is really shirred on at the waist with a narrow ribbon belt tying in the back. Down the skirt are two panel effects formed by pointed cut-outs of the goods. These points are tied over henna georgette which forms the lining. The waist has a similar effect forming a vest. The sleeves, which are short and kimono, have two cut-outs tied with the plait ribbon.

Another Grauer Bros. model uses moire ribbon in a novel straight-line effect resembling pleats. The straight-lined dress with pocket side effects set on, has a narrow belt which interlaces with the straight rows of black moire ribbon, back and front. These rows reach from the neck to skirt bottom and are held in place by has the appearance of a straight-

IT'S AWFUL SAD TO BE FUNNY!

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Peck's famous mischief-maker is welcome to all the renown he has won, so far as Billy Brownlee, amateur "bad" boy, is concerned.

Billy, 7, tried to emulate Jackie Coogan, juvenile film comedian, with a number of extra innovations thrown in.

Jackie gets oodles of money for being mischievous. Billy got spanked and sent to bed, to say nothing of stern looks from the cops.

"Shucks," spoke Billy, "what's the use of trying to be funny! Jackie Coogan gets about a billion dollars for doing things, and all I get is a paddling."

"I just sneaked away from home and acted up and showed off to some other kids, and then Ma missed me and sicked the police onto me, and they chased me and had longer legs. I guess you got to get into the movies for that stuff. Being funny isn't much fun. I'm through. 'Jiggs,' my dog pal, and I are going to be serious—until I get older."

TRUSTEES HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the trustees of the United Real Estate trust took place yesterday afternoon, at the office of the trustees in the Hilditch building, at which a financial report of the year's business and financial condition of the present date were submitted. A dividend of twelve per cent, on each share was declared, leaving an earned increment of 33 per cent, which will be devoted to the extension and operation on a larger scale the purposes for which the trust association has been formed. The financial report as agreed upon and accepted by the trustees, shows a rapid growth in the year's business and indicates a healthy condition of the holdings of the trust. The purpose of this trust association as outlined by E. Gaston Campbell, founder and one of the trustees, is to operate and develop attractive real estate

Real Estate Transactions—Building Notes and Permits Issued

CONDITIONS FAVORABLE FOR BUILDING

That fundamental conditions are favorable to building operations, is indicated by the attitude of S. W. Straus
& Co., who continue to provide capital
for building purposes when the borrowers comply with the requirements
and safeguards set up by the lending institution.With the underwriting of a first mortgage six per cent. bond issue of
Chicago, S. W. Straus & Co. have rounded out approximately $10,000,000
in new building loans recently made in various parts of the country, the larger share of which have been on residential structures. The new loan in Chicago is made on the Emerson store and office building, which will be erected at once. In commenting on the building situation S. W. Straus &
Co. say:"We have attested our faith in the building situation in this country by the continuous loans we are providing on new structures where the borrower
is able to comply with such requirements as we believe necessary to safeguard completely the interests of the bond holder and make ample and adequate provision for the payment of principal of the debt and the interest
thereon."There is no fundamental reason
why building operations in a large way
should not go forward. While construction work has been conducted this year on a scale of considerable magnitude, taking into consideration the operations throughout the country, the housing shortage is still alarming.
Our American cities have continued to grow and develop no matter what general conditions have been either domestic or world-wide, and, with the upbuilding of these cities and communities there is an ever present demand for new building. It is the policy of this house to do what is possible, consistent with sound business practice, in assisting in the upbuilding of the nation through providing funds
for buildings. We are happy to say that we have found the present season
productive of many splendid opportunities for underwriting building
loans which comply with our requirements. In our opinion the general situation, so far as building work goes,
is improving and we anticipate considerable activity between the present time and the close of the building

WORLD'S GREATEST GUN

This is the mightiest gun ever invented. Though it looks like a bicycle pump, noted American inventors and engineers, who gave a public test in the Woolworth tower, New York, call it a weapon that will make war "too terrible for nations to risk." The invention, in the form of a small riveting gun (as shown here) drove three-inch steel slugs through a three-quarter-inch steel plate.
Thus in peace-time it can be used as a riveter in building construction and shipbuilding—and in war-time its giant counterpart, experts say, can hurl five-ton projectiles or explosive gas bombs from 200 to 300 miles. It uses smokeless powder, makes no more noise than the click of a cash register, and dwarfs "Big Bertha."

Woman Made Long Pilgrimage to Secure Authentic Christ Life Play

LOS ANGELES, July 9—Mrs. York Stevenson, authority on sacred history, has just returned from a nine months' pilgrimage of the Holy Land with authentic atmosphere costumes and settings, to be woven into her Christ Life play soon to be produced here. Mrs. Stevenson's research took her through Egypt, Turkey, India, Ceylon, Palestine and every nook in the territory known to have been frequented by Jesus.

In producing her pilgrimage play on "The Life of the Christ," Mrs. Stevenson says she will not devote a hair's breadth from history. She has written the play herself, and has secured the most eminent actors and actresses in the country to assist her in the production.

The play will be shown only in Los Angeles, and will run indefinitely. Henry Herbert of New York, an actor of note, accompanied Mrs. Stevenson and her party on the trip, gathering data on types. Mr. Herbert's impersonation of the Christ has been declared the most wonderful ever witnessed on any stage.

MRS. I. A. McALLISTER

(By Newspaper Enterprise)

MISSOULA, Mont., July 9.—The voice of the people, by the people, and for the people!

That is the controlling policy of the "New Northwest," new community daily newspaper, which is being published here.

Under its charter society is classified in 13 groups, each of which must be represented on the board of directors. Readers themselves will pick one director, and take a hand in running the sheet.

"The columns of the 'New Northwest,' says Mrs. I. A. McAllister, board member for professional women, 'are open to all within the limitations of space and there is no censorship save that of good taste.'"

She contends that the national future rests upon freedom to think, to act and to worship. "A newspaper, to function properly, must stimulate these prerogatives," she says.

"The 'New Northwest' is a paper which owns its own soul and dares to say so. With us there are business men, laborers, farmers, professional people and white collar workers. There are already nearly 400 stockholders.

"The board of directors is pledged to place before readers uncolored facts. We give them credit for having brains enough to think for themselves."

BE YOUR OWN LIFE SAVER

Nothing that we recall having been done by the park department, deserves quite so much praise for its vital and practical benefit to the community as the arrangements made for teaching young girls and women to swim. The Sun most cordially congratulates Supt. Kernan and the members of the park board for taking this step to enable every man and woman in Lowell to learn the life-saving art of swimming. The men had previously been provided for. It was but right that the women should have equal consideration. Women are daily entering more and more into the avocations of men, and more and more are they exposed to the dangers of accidents of various kinds. Among these are the accidents by which people are thrown into deep water and consequently drown if they are unable to swim. Women should be prepared to avail themselves of the pleasures of boating and canoeing without the risk of immediate death if their craft be overturned. The ability to swim is the only real protection in such cases; and this art should be made compulsory for the reason that if, as occasionally happens, a small child falls into deep water in view of its mother, the latter should be able to go in and save it.

There was a child drowned in the Concord river in full view of its mother on Thursday afternoon. As it happened, she saw the accident from the third story of a building; but if she had been on the bank, she would have been unable to rescue the child, as she cannot swim; but she would undoubtedly have risked her own life in the attempt.

Accidents of this kind are heart-rending, and yet they are not uncommon. At Providence, R. I., also on Thursday afternoon, a thirteen-year-old girl was drowned under the eyes of her mother who, because of her inability to swim, was unable to save her child.

It would seem that it should be wholly unnecessary to urge girls and women who cannot swim to avail themselves of this opportunity placed within their reach by the park department. The engagement of a special instructor in swimming to teach the women and girls at certain periods, should appeal strongly to all those who have not already learned to swim; and they should show their appreciation of this offer by attending in large numbers.

There was great sympathy for the families of the two young ladies who were drowned up the river recently and there was also deep sympathy for the poor mother who saw her child drown in the Concord. Yet such a sad fate may overtake any girl or woman at some future day, if through carelessness, thoughtlessness, or any other cause, she fails to take advantage of the opportunity now offered at the public bathhouse on the Merrimack river.

"How much is this service worth?" some may ask. How much is a life worth? Answer that question and then you can answer how much the ability to swim may be worth to you. If you get over your depth in the river or at the beach, or if you should happen to be dumped from a boat with no lifeline in hand, the service that provides every man and woman with a means of escape from drowning, cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. The city now providing this protection for its people and all who need such service should gratefully embrace the opportunity.

When a man, woman or child who cannot swim is rescued from drowning by a young man, he is hailed as a hero; but through this new move by the park board, every woman and girl can be her own life-saver if she should happen at any time to be carried into deep water by the undertow or from any other cause. Be your own life-saver.

PIRATE MARAUDERS ACTIVE

Shipping interests in the United States and other countries have been thrown into a sort of panic by the announcement of Capt. Giles of the Minson liner Imogene, that he has passed a suspicious looking craft supposed to be a pirate ship responsible for the disappearance of nearly a score of vessels recently reported missing.

Capt. Giles reports seeing "a low, rakish, suspicious looking craft, apparently very swift," some 300 miles east of Philadelphia. This announcement has caused the commissioner of navigation at Washington to take a more serious view of the message picked up in a bottle a few weeks ago, which read as follows: "Deering captured by all burning boat, something like chaser, taking off everything, handkerchiefs, crew. Crew hiding all over ship. No chance to make escape. Finder please notify headquarters of Deering!"

No tidings have thus far been received of the fate of the Deering, the Hewitt and several other ships; and now the greatest solicitude is felt for the fate of the steamer Callao, en route for New York from Buenos Ayres, with seventy passengers. The fear that she may have been captured is increased as a result of failure to reach her by wireless.

This situation puts the matter squarely up to the navy department, the necessity of protecting American shipping against any marauder of this kind. It is presumed that the pirate ship must have come from the soviet regime in Russia and that her attacks on American shipping may be in the nature of reprisals on account of the refusal of our government to recognize the Bolshevik government controlled by Trotsky and Lenin. If one or more soviet raiders are abroad on the Atlantic, we surmise that it will require but a short time to round them up and capture them or else send them to the bottom. It will be necessary to adopt some method of preventing them getting back to Russia and this, no doubt, the British navy may look after. The navigation of all nations is equally menaced by the fact that a raider of this kind is at large and attacking vessels along the sea lanes of the Atlantic.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS

Postmaster General Hays has announced a reorganization of the Postal Savings bank of far-reaching importance. He says that if congress will back him up with the necessary legislation he can add hundreds of millions to the country's usable wealth. This money, he says, is now hoarded because its possessors are foolishly afraid of private banks and do not consider the Postal bank's terms sufficiently attractive.

Hays proposes to raise the Postal bank's interest rate from two to three per cent. and to so liberalize the bank in other ways that hoarded money will flow into it.

The Postal bank now has 503,000 depositors, 70 per cent. of whom are of foreign extraction. Mr. Hays may be mistaken as to the amount of money hoarded and also as to efficacy of a slightly higher rate of interest to bring hoarded money from his hiding place.

SAVE THE BABIES

Now is the time to give due attention to the babies so as to save them from the summer fatalities. It usually causes a large infant mortality in August and September.

The baby needs relief from the roasting heat and it should not be exposed to the direct heat of the sun. Seneca babies left with older children are carried about the streets in the broiling sun or taken to the parks and commons during the hottest hours of the day. That alone is sufficient to bring on illness. The baby taken out in a carriage in hot weather should at least be well protected by a shade.

The best time to take little ones to the parks is in the early morning or in the evening. A day's outing in the hot weather would save the lives of many of the waifs that will otherwise fall victims of cholera infantum or some other disease due to the intense heat.

If the work of the Lowell Guild were generously supported by the public the rate of infant mortality might be greatly reduced. Much has been done in the past but much more can be done by education, co-operation and practical sympathy for the mothers who have to battle against adverse conditions to save the lives of their infants in small tenements where the heat becomes almost unbearable and where there is not a breath of fresh air.

TO SAVE CONSTANTINOPLE

England and France are changing their minds in reference to the conflict between Turkey and Greece. They are not caring particularly for Greece because of the recall of Constantine to the throne; but they find that Russian Bolshevism is backing the Turks. Here, then, is a menace almost as bad as that for which all Europe went to war. If Turkey should win, then the Bolshevik horde would support her in any campaign she might enter in an effort to find a pathway to the Mediterranean and the Indian ocean. To prevent any such possibility, the allied powers must move quickly in the Near East in order to protect their mutual interests. Greece would prove unequal to the task of defeating the Turks, backed, as they are, by the Russians. Hence this move by the allies is meant to deal with a very vital problem—that of saving the Dardanelles and holding the Bolshevik within the boundaries of Russia.

TARIFF BILL ATTACKED

That was a very severe arraignment made against the republican tariff bill by the democratic members of congress. It appears that the bill was concocted in private in collaboration with the various interests to be served, and that its provisions are flagrantly unjust to some interests while offering to others an advantage little short of the power of levying taxes.

It seems that opposition to the measure is not at all confined to democrats inasmuch as the alarm has been sounded by Gov. Cox that the bill, if passed in its present form, would be highly detrimental to New England industrial interests. The republicans, however, have the majority and they can carry the measure. In whatever form they may be able to agree upon it is quite probable that the party may split up during the discussion of the measure, so that the democratic members will be liberally reinforced by republicans in opposing the worst features of the bill.

TAR AND FEATHERS

The men who resorted to the use of tar and feathers for a fellow townsman whose conduct they considered scandalous, have learned that no citizen is allowed to take the law into their own hands in such cases. If the man whom they treated in this rather disrespectful way was doing wrong or violating any law, there was a legal remedy that would assuredly reach the culprit. One crime is not atoned or amended by another. The tar and feather experts, with a jail sentence hanging over their heads on an appeal, will have time to meditate upon the orderly processes of law as applied in the courts of Massachusetts and as opposed to the application of the unwritten law as practiced in the Pepperell case. If the lynching mobs of the south were similarly brought to justice, the lynching disgrace would soon be wiped out.

THE LUMBER BUSINESS

The lumber business is now suffering from the mid-summer lull. There is a small building under way in various parts of the country, but in most cases the retailers have been able to take care of this from their stock on hand, so that the lumber mills have not received the orders they expected. The retailers by supplying material for small jobs, will soon exhaust certain dimensions of lumber and have on hand only the larger and less used. It is this condition that has caused many of the mills to curtail and that holds production to 25 per cent. below normal. Nevertheless, it is expected that as the season advances, the business will show greater activity. The announcement has gone out that building materials

SEEN AND HEARD

When an electric car gets a hot box now, they just switch it over on the Fletcher street line to cool off.

A slumberer awakened by a police officer on the common, early Friday morning, rubbed his eyes and said: "Gee, I didn't intend to fall asleep with so much money in my pocket. He then produced a wallet containing over $100.

THE SALES TAX

Whether for better or worse, both branches of congress seem to be veering toward a sales tax as a substitute for the present tax system framed to produce revenue during the war. Senator Smoot believes that a sales tax of one per cent. on all goods, wares or merchandise sold or leased would bring the necessary amount of revenue to supplement that accruing from the income tax, the inheritance tax, the amounts collected at ports of entry, and the proceeds of a normal tax upon business. This is a great question, and one that congress must tackle very soon. The excess profits tax is killing business all over the country, but this tax problem will not be reached until the tariff question has been settled in some form. Then haste the tariff talk.

LAUNDRY PRICES

It does seem rather strange that the cost of laundry service should have reached such high figures, and hence the commission on the necessities of life has started a thorough investigation of the prices charged by laundries throughout the state with a view to ascertaining whether their prices are justified. The increase in some cases reported to the commission has reached 600 per cent. over the rates prevailing in the same establishments in 1914, which seems to be excessive.

PRESIDENT IMPATIENT

President Harding is reported to be getting impatient at the slow gait at which congress is moving. He certainly has reason to be perturbed. He is a man of calm temperament; but when the delays of congress are considered in reference to the widespread business depression, it is not surprising that he shows impatience. He may find it necessary to get hold of that big stick formerly wielded by Roosevelt and swing it occasionally. It is about the only thing that will bring the politicians to a realization of what the nation expects of them.

If the supreme court of Massachusetts should decide against District Attorney Tufts, we surmise the supreme court of the United States would not be likely to find any cause for reversing the decision, should the case be brought before that tribunal.

Mothers whose babies are sick as a result of the heat may get valuable aid by applying at the Lowell Guild. It is generally conceded that the Guild nurses are great life-savers in baby-land.

News from the western states shows that there are cities much worse off than Lowell from the effect of the business depression. That, however, is no consolation to the Lowell people, who are out of work.

Still the drivers of death cars escape serious penalty. If death results from reckless driving, what degree of recklessness could have any worse consequence?

Will tomorrow bring a new list of auto fatalities and drownings, due to the reckless quest of pleasure that has become the Sunday habit in hot weather?

The city like an individual should be free to contract for work on its streets when it appears that this method is preferable.

Labor strikes at this time injure chiefly the strikers and usually stand defeated in advance.

URGES "TRUTH IN FABRIC BILL"

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Plans for enactment of the French-Capper "Truth in Fabric Bill" were presented to a senate committee today by retail clothiers and wool growers.

Herman S. Ritter, of Youngstown, Ohio, former president of the National Retail Clothiers' association, declared that with the wool content marked on the goods, customers would know what they were buying.

U. G. Warner, secretary of the Iowa Flue & Wool Growers' association, blamed the depression in the growing industry to the unrestricted use of shoddy, while George E. Briggs, of New York, representing the National Sheep and Wool Growers' bureau, said such a law would "drive to honest dealings, unscrupulous manufacturers of textiles."

GATHERING DATA ON PLUMBERS' STRIKE

Perley Knight, agent for the state board of arbitration and conciliation, was in Lowell yesterday gathering data from both sides involved in the local plumbers' strike. Mr. Knight came here solely on his own initiative, neither side having taken any action toward settling the dispute. He said that the state board endeavor to bring about a settlement, after weighing all the facts in the matter, but if they fail sometimes the full board meets and publishes its findings, placing the blame on one side or the other. The resultant effect of public opinion usually brings the strike to a close, he said. Mr. Knight visited Mayor Thompson during his stay here.

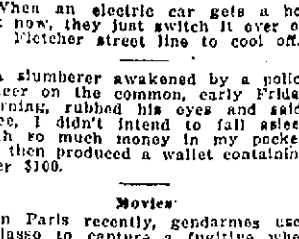

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

The two most important articles in the warrant for the special town meeting of the residents of Tyngsboro, which will be held next Wednesday evening, are as follows: To see if the town will authorize the selectmen or some committee to execute a contract with the Tyngsboro Electric Light Co. for a continuation of street light service, and to see if the town will vote to raise and appropriate $5000 for rebuilding the Tyngsboro road from the state line to the Hudson line, providing the county and state will each provide a like sum.

STITCH IN TIME

The Eastern Massachusetts street railway company is rebuilding a section of its track on the Lawrence line just below the Lowell and Braintree boundary. The track in that vicinity has not been repaired since it was built and it is felt that a little repair work will not be amiss.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

How beautiful is the tolerance of woman! Unmindful she regards the newspaper jests relative to her slowness to fashion. Unperturbed she listens while the vandeville pantaloon makes supposedly humorous remarks about her obedience to the least demand of style. Yet the fact of the matter is that, compared to man, she is sublimely, utterly free from convention. She wears what she likes, she wears what she feels, she wears what she needs. She is the bird superior to the regulations of attire. All of the foregoing was brought forcibly to my mind today as I watched him in office, courtroom, on street cars and trains, and in restaurants and other places, going about with the aspect of boiled live lobsters, and wearing heavy, dark coats, and stiff, towering collars. The woman was coolly arrayed in light, shirt-waists; the men could have been analogously dressed by discarding coats and turning down the necks of shirts. But how many did so? A few desperate desperados, wild rebels, intrepid souls. The remainder perspired and suffered, as slaves and cravens, millions of fashion, deserve, to suffer. How dare we make sport of women as the lackey of dress? They are goddesses of liberty, every one of them, when placed beside us ridiculous men.

It is really astounding what imbecilities the earth is found to contain. At a local movie house, strangely enough, there is an excellent film which embodies clearly and impressively the latest scientific developments in the treatment of insanity. Daringly it projects itself into the very mind of a madman, speculating upon the world as he sees it, and finally shows the light of hope for recovery which modern experiments have made possible. What a cheering thing is this play, "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," for those whose dear ones may suffer from a delusion, a mania of some sort. Here is the representation of a madman whose hallucinations are of the wildest sort. Yet the physician who is treating him promises him recovery. "This is all sound science. The newest field of soul research, psycho-analysis, has already accomplished startling results on the basis suggested by 'The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari.'" People thought beyond hope have been added measurably. And yet I heard a man say yesterday that he did not like this film, that there was no sense to it, that it was all Greek to him. There is no accounting for tastes.

The thunder storm of last night brought a happy relief to a great many families that suffered from the heat in the congested districts, more especially those in which young babies are numbered. Already many of the little ones are reported ill as the result of the spell. Last night the parks and commons were crowded with baby carriages, the mothers having taken their little ones there in hopes of finding relief from the heat and humidity in the congested districts. The thunder storm was terrific but it saved lives.

It is hard to manage a crowd of boys at the swimming beach or anywhere else because they cannot be made to obey any set of rules or regulations, however simple. The life guards will have to adopt strict rules in order to insure safety when a large crowd of youngsters get into the water. Some of the latter insist on doing the very things they are forbidden to do. That type should be denied the privileges of the bath house.

FIGHTS REMOVAL AS MASS. DRY DIRECTOR

BOSTON, July 9.—"I shall either return from Washington as state director of prohibition or I shall return looking for a new job," was the emphatic declaration of war made by Harold D. Wilson, state director of prohibition, last night, speaking of the order he received from Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair, relieving him of his office and instructing him to turn over his records and property to Elmer C. Potter, at present federal supervising agent for New England.

The telegram from Commissioner Blair, which was received by Mr. Wilson Thursday night, follows: "Mr. Wilson: I am relieving you of your duties as federal prohibition director for the state of Massachusetts. Please turn over all property and records and have director's force report to Elmer C. Potter, who will assume duties as director."

"Blair," "Commissioner."

But Mr. Wilson does not intend to do any such thing without a fight. He promptly wired to Commissioner Blair positively refusing to accept his "summary dismissal" until informed of the reasons for it and requesting permission to go to Washington last night.

Before this permission was received, Mr. Wilson got Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes on the long distance telephone and was advised by Mr. Haynes to wait and come to Washington Sunday. This Mr. Wilson consented to do.

The removal of Mr. Wilson as director was part of the new plan of consolidating the prohibition law enforcement agencies under one head in each state. Mr. Potter was recently named state director in charge of all prohibition activities in Massachusetts, and Mr. Wilson, it was understood, was to be chief of the field forces, acting under Mr. Potter's direction.

Everything worked out smoothly until Mr. Wilson threatened a crowbar into the machinery yesterday, and not only threw it in but began to gather the forces which had endorsed him for appointment to contribute all the crowbars and monkey wrenches they could spare. All day long a succession of telegrams from the supporters of Mr. Wilson were despatched to Washington, mostly to Commissioner Blair, Senator Lodge and Bay State congressmen.

Wholesale druggists, individually and by associations; pharmaceutical societies with which Mr. Wilson has done his business, ex-Gov. John L. Bates, Mrs. James D. Tillingshast, executive chairman of the woman's division, Republican state committee; Dr. E. T. Redding, Boston executive secretary of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches; Rev. William Reid, director of Baptist churches in Massachusetts; Darnus Scudder, executive secretary of the Greater Boston Federation of Churches; representatives of the Anti-Saloon league, the Churchmen's union of Greater Boston and the W.C.T.U. are among those who have telegraphed to Washington and who have informed Mr. Wilson they will see him through to the finish.

"There is nothing personal in this," Mr. Wilson said last night, "as far as the consolidation theme is concerned. I believe in it as the logical thing to do, but I do not intend to stand by meekly and be thrown out of an office in which I have made good and which I have just taken over, without demanding a showdown. I am state director of prohibition now and I think I am entitled to an explanation."

"Between Mr. Potter and myself I have no personal feeling. I am only asking a fair investigation of our respective services to date and a reasonable canvass of public opinion in Massachusetts as to his or her ability to carry on. It is a final fight for a sane and effective enforcement of prohibition. I will not countenance making a farce of the law enforcement."

To supplement his remarks Mr. Wilson dictated a statement to a stenographer setting forth his point of view. It follows:

"You may state as emphatically as you please that I am still federal prohibition director in Massachusetts, and that I shall continue on the job regardless of any instructions that may be issued from Washington until I am forcibly ejected."

"I gave up a fine position at the state house to become director and I do not propose to be thrown into the street without cause."

"I received this appointment on the recommendation of Senator Lodge on his assurance that he would stand behind me as long as I conducted my office honestly and efficiently."

ATTACK RULING OF U. S. RAILROAD LABOR BOARD

CHICAGO, July 8.—Recent rulings of the United States railroad board were criticized today by representatives of the Pennsylvania railroad who appeared before the board to reply to allegations of the Federated Shop Crafts that the Pennsylvania had failed to make proper efforts to hold conferences and negotiations with employees for rules to replace national agreements under the federal control.

Negotiations were directed by the board in its decision No. 119, issued April 14, 1921. In a summary of the Pennsylvania railroad's reply, E. T. Winter, assistant to the vice president in charge of personnel, stated that while the Pennsylvania is anxious and willing to assist the board in carrying out the transportation act, it cannot consistently comply with the law and at the same time carry out recent rulings of the board which it regards as opposed to the law as well as the public interests of the railroads, the public and employees.

The board exceeded authority given it under the transportation act when it continued in effect the rules, working conditions and national agree-

SPORTING NEWS AND NEWSY SPORTS

GEORGE DUNCAN

George Duncan, English professional, thinks he has a good chance to win America's National open golf title this fall.

He won the English National open a year ago at Deal. But the peppery Jock Hutchison took his measure in the recent matches at St. Andrews.

Hutchison is a fast golfer, but Duncan is faster.

The Briton's rounds around the links so fast his caddies can't keep up. He doesn't waste any time in making his shots.

Like Ball Player

His idea of driving the ball is the same as that of the ball player who hits the first ball pitched.

Ted Ray, present holder of the American National open title, plans to return to defend his honors.

He toured this country in 1911, playing over 10 matches on this side. Together with Abe Mitchell, England's long distance driver, Duncan will tour again.

They have scheduled 55 exhibition matches, most of which will be played in the east and middle west.

If it is possible to arrange a flying trip to the Pacific coast, the English invaders will take it.

Good Team

Duncan and Mitchell as a team are rated higher than the Ray-Vardon combination which invaded America last summer.

Ray and Vardon traveled over 40,000 miles and played 26,000 holes of golf while here.

Everywhere they went they were big drawing cards. They played a record of nearly $50,000 on the American links.

American golf fans will see more speed when Duncan sails around the course than they've ever watched.

And after American caddies see him in action he'll have his troubles in hiring them.

HOBBS BAKER'S BODY IS BROUGHT HOME

HOBOKEN, N. J., July 9.—The body of Capt. Hobbs A. H. Baker, ex-Princeton football and hockey star, is among the war dead brought from France on the transports Somme and Wheaton. He was killed in December, 1918, near Toul, the day before he was to start for home.

His airplane developed trouble at low altitude and crashed before he could regain control. He brought down three German airplanes in the last 10 days of the war. The French government awarded him the Croix de Guerre.

Memorial services for the 7264 veterans whose bodies are here will be conducted Sunday afternoon. General Pershing will be present, as will Major General Robert Lee Bullard, Major General C. B. Sumner, and National Commander John G. Emery of the American Legion. Every overseas division is represented among the dead.

REPORT MAYOR BADER TO MANAGE DEMPSEY

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 9.—Jack Dempsey emphatically denies reports originating in Atlantic City that Mayor Edward Bader of Atlantic City would manage Jack Kearns as his manager. Dempsey was seen here last night en route to his home in Salt Lake City.

"Jack Kearns will be my manager as long as I am a fighter," the champion said.

"Mayor Bader is a fine fellow and a fine sportsman, but as for my manager, well, Dempsey and Dempsey shrugged his shoulders.

SOCCER STARS TOUR

NEW YORK, July 9.—The Lankar soccer team from Scotland has opened an extensive tour in this country following the successful invasion of Canada.

The Scots played 11 games against the best teams in Canada and won them all.

They are conceded by soccer critics to be the strongest aggregation of players in the world. The men receive no salaries other than their actual expenses.

Canada called them a "team of Babe Ruths."

SPEAKER IS LEADER

throned Heilmann for Battery Honors in A. L.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Trit Speaker, pilot of the Cleveland world's champion, has dethroned Harry Heilmann, the Detroit slogging outfielder, for batting honors in the American league, according to a special release today which includes games of Wednesday.

The averages are those of players who have participated in 45 or more games. This increased his batting mark from .312 a week ago to .415, while Heilmann suffered a slump, and now is batting at .409.

Babe Ruth has advanced to fourth position, behind Speaker, who was clouting .324 before he was forced out of the game because of an injury. Ruth is hitting .318. He cracked out three home runs during the past week and brought his slugging to .51. Ruth also is proving the best run-ketter in the Johnson circuit, having scored 84. He has made 97 hits for a total of 216 bases, which includes his four-ple home runs, including 22 doubles and seven triples.

Other leading batters: Slater, St. Louis, .361; Williams, St. Louis, .361; Tobin, St. Louis, .350; Veach, Detroit, .355; Severid, St. Louis, .357; E. Collins, Chicago, .351.

The veteran George Cuslaw of the Pirates enjoyed a great week with the willow and has become the runner-up to Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, among the batters of the National league. Although numerous players are ahead of the slugging Pittsburgher, they have not played in as many games. Cuslaw, who was in 10th place a week ago, boosted his average from .347 to .359. Hornsby, however, faded well at bat, and jumped from .407 to .423. Cy Williams, the Philadelphia outfielder, also moved from 15th place to fourth with a mark of .357, compared with .332 a week ago. He is four points behind Emil Meusel, a teammate, who is third with .351.

George Kelly, the Giants' home run slugger, cracked out a brace of circuit drives and has caught up with Meusel, who added only one to his string. They have a dozen each.

Other leading batters: Young, New York, .355; Roush, Cincinnati, .354; McHenry, St. Louis, .353; Grimes, Chicago, .351; Maranville, Pittsburgh, .350; Fournier, St. Louis, .347; Mann, St. Louis, .347.

BEARVILLE PULLING FOR

PIRATES TO WIN

BEARVILLE, W. Va., is pulling for Pittsburgh Pirates to clinch the National league pennant this year.

Pitcher Wilbur Cooper was born there 22 years ago. The best year he has had with the Pirates since he came up to Smoke Town in 1919 from the Columbus American association club. Cooper just now is the National league ace. Up to July 1st he had won 13 starts and lost 2 for an average of .557.

Last season he worked in 44 games, winning 24 and losing 15.

Cooper is not a giant for size. He weighs just about the same as Georges Carpentier stripped for when he fought the battle of Jersey 112 pounds. He is five feet 10 inches tall.

But Cooper has uncommonly long arms and tapering fingers. This gives him an excellent leverage and grip on the ball which most pitchers this year are finding so lively.

"The Pittsburgher has a good lead to be the first 30-game winner in either league this year."

DEMPSEY DRAWS THE COLOR LINE

OMAHA, Neb., July 9.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion pugilist, who passed through here yesterday on his way to Salt Lake City, in a statement to newspapermen said he was unwilling to fight Jack Johnson, "or any other negro fighter."

"I will never fight a colored man," Dempsey said. "There is nothing to this talk of meeting Jack Johnson. I don't care if the public don't want this fight and while I will govern myself to a large extent according to the public wishes I can't see my way clear to fight Johnson or any other colored man."

"I will meet anyone else that Kearns picks for me. Gibbons, I understand, is a good man, although I have never seen him. As I have drawn the color line I am going to say that I think Harry Wills is a great fighter, and will whip the very best of them. As for Willard I'll fight him any time, and lick him, too."

HUTCHISON HOME WITH GOLF TROPHY

NEW YORK, July 9.—For the first time in history a trophy championship of the British open golf championship today began a year's residence in the United States. It was brought by Jock Hutchison of Chicago, who with the other American golfers arrived on the Carmania, after their matches with the Britons at St. Andrews.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Wonders defeated the Roberts 15-0 on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and would like to challenge them again. The following is the lineup: McDonald, Desautels, Gillie, H. Gillis, J. Morrison, R. Simo-neau, A. Desautels, R. O'Malley, Jocky Brady.

LOWELL BOXER MAKING

GOOD IN BIG TOWN

Al Diamond, the local flyweight boxer, who is enjoying great success in the rings in New York and New Jersey, is looked up by the experts in the "big town" as a comer.

Since going to New York several months ago, Diamond has appeared in a number of bouts, meeting some of the best boys of his weight in the vicinity and he has piled up a splendid record.

When performing in and around Lowell he made a great impression. In a game with Philadelphia the other day, Big Bum socked one so high it had snow on it. Jimmy Dykes had time to run in and take a shower bath before grabbing the comet, but he missed it when it finally settled back to earth.

They gave Dykes an error for failing to pitch camp in the right spot. "How do you get hits around here, anyway," yelled the disgruntled Babe. "By breaking a guy's leg, huh?"

Yeah, the big fellow likes his hits as well as the .140 hitter.

Nothing would please him better than to make Harry Heilmann, Ty Cobb and Tristram Speaker take a back seat in the hit column.

Gibbons Sentiment

Since the Jersey City embargo there has been a rising sentiment all over the country that Tom Gibbons has gone too far in his determination to prove his own strength against either Dempsey or Carpentier. And Gibbons is mighty willing.

He has been after Bill Brennan for several months. Brennan wanted $30,000 to raise what raising to new holds among heavier. But no promoter could be found to handle it.

Gibbons believes he is ready for Dempsey. And he may be.

It's our opinion that he is better than Brennan, that he and Carpentier would put up a battle really worth watching. And either way, he can meet the champ at even money.

Speed Limit

Charley Paddock seems to be able to set a 100-mile record most any day he kicks up his heels.

But the standing record of 9.3 seconds apparently is the maximum for humans.

The California flier stands the best chance of any man living to clip it down another fraction of a second.

Good thing is variable thing depending on the running gear.

"This chap, Paddock, will step on a new gear one of these days and fly faster than the watches have so far credited him."

No False Alarm

Long George Kelly of the Giants has come back to the life again in the box for manufacturing business.

He had a long layoff after his glorious start.

It's far from being a false alarm as "Hilphockets" George has a fancy account book just the same.

He took him all year to garner 11 in 1920. He's already passed the dozen mark this season.

But he's got the home run knack now. He ought to get half as many as Babe with start.

In another year or two, after Babe has quit knocking boards off of fences, Kelly may sit on the swat throne.

Say It in "Blah"

Pitcher Carl Mays of the Yankees has coined a new word to hurl at umpires.

"Blah."

When he umpire ruffles the submachine gun pitcher, he gets the "Blah" stuff submachine at him.

That's a good tip to other quick-witted ball players.

Just say "Blah." It gives you the satisfaction of showing just how you feel about a thing without having to take a vacation and a fine.

$514,325 PAID TO BOXERS AND REFEREES

NEW YORK, July 9.—Promoter Tex Rickard announced yesterday that he had paid $514,325 to the boxers and referees at the Dempsey-Carpentier bout last Saturday.

Dempsey and Carpentier received $300,000 and $100,000 respectively. The boxers in the preliminary received $125,000. Billy Mike and Gene Tunney were the highest paid, receiving $200,000 each.

Referee Harry Erll received $1000. And the other referees, including an alternate, a total of $125.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACE

New Racing Record for Season Established in Free-for-All Event

NORTH RANDALL, O., July 9.—A new racing record for the season was established in the free-for-all number, the feature of the closing program of the Grand Circuit meeting here yesterday.

Single G, the Hoosier stallion, veteran of dozens of great turf battles and making his ninth campaign, paced away from the other stars in the first heat in 2:01 3/4, coming back the second heat, only half a second slower. It was the 100th race in which the horse has participated and he has never been out of the money. In each of the heats yesterday he was in front all the way and he paced the last quarter of the second heat in 29 seconds, the last half in 59 1/2.

In the auctions on the race Single G was a $200 to 400 favorite over the field. Jai Mahone was easily the best of the balance of the field.

The 2:30 pace was not much of a race, the half-mile Black Burnz winning handily.

The local four-year-old Peter Heller was in a soft spot in the 2:20 trot and took a record of 2:07 1/2 in the first heat.

One of the classic pacers which has shown up at the meeting appeared in the 2:14 pace, in Lord Bussy, which which Valerine landed first in the two necessary heats, the first in 2:03 1/4.

The pacer Governor Durbin, Jr., which started in the 2:20, was posted and his winnings held up Secretary Husted of the Union Trotting association demanding that the horse be identified.

Practically all of the horses have been shipped to Toledo, where the Grand Circuit meeting opens on Monday.

BABE RUTH LIKES HIS BASE HITS, TOO

BY DEAN SNYDER

Babe Ruth likes his base hits as well as his home runs.

In a game with Philadelphia the other day, Big Bum socked one so high it had snow on it. Jimmy Dykes had time to run in and take a shower bath before grabbing the comet, but he missed it when it finally settled back to earth.

They gave Dykes an error for failing to pitch camp in the right spot. "How do you get hits around here, anyway," yelled the disgruntled Babe. "By breaking a guy's leg, huh?"

Yeah, the big fellow likes his hits as well as the .140 hitter.

Nothing would please him better than to make Harry Heilmann, Ty Cobb and Tristram Speaker take a back seat in the hit column.

Gibbons Sentiment

Since the Jersey City embargo there has been a rising sentiment all over the country that Tom Gibbons has gone too far in his determination to prove his own strength against either Dempsey or Carpentier. And Gibbons is mighty willing.

He has been after Bill Brennan for several months. Brennan wanted $30,000 to raise what raising to new holds among heavier. But no promoter could be found to handle it.

Gibbons believes he is ready for Dempsey. And he may be.

It's our opinion that he is better than Brennan, that he and Carpentier would put up a battle really worth watching. And either way, he can meet the champ at even money.

Speed Limit

Charley Paddock seems to be able to set a 100-mile record most any day he kicks up his heels.

But the standing record of 9.3 seconds apparently is the maximum for humans.

The California flier stands the best chance of any man living to clip it down another fraction of a second.

Any day Paddock will get all the break of the sun, wind, and rain and plunk his name down beside a new record in the little book.

Good thing is variable thing depending on the running gear.

"This chap, Paddock, will step on a new gear one of these days and fly faster than the watches have so far credited him."

No False Alarm

Long George Kelly of the Giants has come back to the life again in the box for manufacturing business.

He had a long layoff after his glorious start.

It's far from being a false alarm as "Hilphockets" George has a fancy account book just the same.

He took him all year to garner 11 in 1920. He's already passed the dozen mark this season.

But he's got the home run knack now. He ought to get half as many as Babe with start.

In another year or two, after Babe has quit knocking boards off of fences, Kelly may sit on the swat throne.

Say It in "Blah"

Pitcher Carl Mays of the Yankees has coined a new word to hurl at umpires.

"Blah."

When he umpire ruffles the submachine gun pitcher, he gets the "Blah" stuff submachine at him.

Umpire Chili contends that this newly coined word is just the same as "Blah" with him as it doesn't mean anything.

That's a good tip to other quick-witted ball players.

Just say "Blah." It gives you the satisfaction of showing just how you feel about a thing without having to take a vacation and a fine.

$514,325 PAID TO BOXERS AND REFEREES

NEW YORK, July 9.—Promoter Tex Rickard announced yesterday that he had paid $514,325 to the boxers and referees at the Dempsey-Carpentier bout last Saturday.

Dempsey and Carpentier received $300,000 and $100,000 respectively. The boxers in the preliminary received $125,000. Billy Mike and Gene Tunney were the highest paid, receiving $200,000 each.

Referee Harry Erll received $1000. And the other referees, including an alternate, a total of $125.

Warships Withdrawn From Tampico

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The situation in the Mexican port of Tampico is not at this time such as necessitates the maintenance there of an American naval guard to protect American interests. This was the explanation given in official circles today of orders returning the cruiser Cleveland and the gunboat Sacramento now at the port to their home stations.

More Senators Favor Bonus Delay

WASHINGTON, July 9.—With the senate in recess today, developments in soldier bonus legislation were not expected before next week, when President Harding will send to congress a special message giving his views upon this, as well as tariff and tax legislation. In the meantime the number of senators favoring recommendation of the bonus bill appeared to be steadily growing.

Re-open Hearings on Bergdoll Case

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The house committee which investigated the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft dodger, has decided to reopen hearings, but no date has been fixed for calling witnesses. Names of persons expected to be called have not been made public.

U. S. FIRM FOR OPEN DOOR IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Formal declaration of the intention of the United States to continue its support of the principle of the open door is contained in a note from the state department to the Chinese minister here in respect to a contract entered into with the Chinese government by the Federal Telegraph company, an American concern, for the erection of wireless stations at Shanghai and other points in China.

The note, which was dated July 1, was in reply to one of June 9 from the Chinese minister, inquiring whether the United States intended to withdraw its support from the Federal Telegraph company in its rights accruing under the contract, in view of protests which have been made in the British, Japanese and Danish governments. The text of the American reply was made public yesterday.

The reply not only makes it clear that the United States does not propose to withdraw from the position hitherto taken in support of the rights of the American company as a result of the protests of the three governments, but carries the assurance that "it is the purpose of this government neither to participate nor to acquiesce in any arrangement which might purport to establish in favor of foreign interests any superiority or rights with respect to commercial or economic development in designated regions of the territories of China, or which might seek to create any such monopoly or preferences as would exclude other nations from undertaking any legitimate trade or industry, or from participating with the Chinese government in any category of public enterprise."

The protest of the British government was in behalf of the Marconi company and asserted the concessions granted to the latter were of a monopolistic character and that the contract with the Federal Telegraph company was an infringement of the American rights. The Japanese and the Danish governments also protested, in behalf of companies organized in Japan and Denmark.

The note, made public yesterday, also revealed that the United States had inquired of Great Britain, Japan and Denmark the reasons for their protests.

"In its view," the note reads, "the communications, which it has received from the other interested governments, tend only to confirm this government in its belief that the adverse claims which have been urged are founded upon assertions of monopolistic or preferential rights in the field of Chinese governmental enterprise, which cannot be reconciled with the treaty rights of American citizens in China or with the principle of the open door."

A LITTLE BIT ON THE SPECTACULAR

A flash of white light and a burst of steam startled pedestrians in Merrimack square shortly after nine o'clock this morning, when a large Depot and Car House car had a grounded conductor, which disabled it. The trouble was located between the floors, so that "first aid" could not be administered. After being shunted on to Central street, to allow traffic to proceed, the car was towed to the barn. It is stated that the heavy rains of last night caused some large puddles in Billerica, and while the car was passing through the wet streets water got in and resulted in the accident. The car has been newly made over. It would have been possible to continue to run it after the grounding of the conductor, but this would have involved danger, as it would have to be propelled under direct power and could not reverse.

The first passenger elevator ever built was installed in the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, in 1854.

FIGHTS TILL DEATH IN BARRICADED HOME

NEW YORK, July 9.—John Grubacz shot and killed himself late yesterday afternoon in Bloomfield, N. J., after he had barricaded himself in a one-story frame building in 458 Broad street and had stood off a dozen firemen and policemen for almost an hour. Grubacz fired twelve shots at the firemen and policemen and the crowd that gathered to watch the fight, but none of them took effect.

The building in which the man killed himself is occupied by a dry goods store conducted by his wife, Mrs. Caroline Grubacz, from whom he had been separated for some time. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Grubacz saw her husband, drunk, approaching the store and she believed he was coming to harm her. She took her eight-month-old baby and went to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Martha Wyman, who telephoned to the police.

Chief Collins sent Sergeant Huddy and Patrolman Collins to arrest Grubacz, but in the meantime the man had locked the doors and windows and barricaded them. Patrolman Collins tried to force open the front door, but Grubacz shot at him. The bullet missed. Collins retired to another building for protection. Grubacz then went to a window and shot at Sergeant Huddy, who was standing in front of a store across the street.

Sergeant Huddy then telephoned to Fire Chief Kober to send the "nose company," and also asked Chief Collins for more policemen. Excelsior Hose Co. No. 3 went to the house, as did Patrolmen Barry, Tappan and Stocko. As soon as the firemen reached the house they began pouring streams of water against the windows of the building, hoping to smash the glass and flood the structure so that Grubacz would have to run out where he could be arrested or shot. Grubacz appeared at the window several times while this was going on and fired ten more shots while the policemen returned the fire from the sidewalk. A large crowd gathered to watch, but left for shelter as soon as Grubacz began shooting from the window.

After 45 minutes Patrolman Stocko went to the rear of the house and shouted to Grubacz in Polish. The man replied:

"I will never leave this house alive!"

There was silence for a few moments after that, and then another shot was heard. Sergeant Huddy went to the front door, broke it down and entered the building. In the back room he found Grubacz sitting on an overturned wardrobe with his head on his left hand and a revolver in the right hand. He was dead from a bullet wound in the right temple.

TO PROCLAIM PEACE WITH CENTRAL POWERS

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Although President Harding and his legal advisers are understood to have virtually decided upon a presidential proclamation as a means of promulgating the state of peace with the central empires, it was indicated yesterday the document would not be ready for issuance until some time next week.

A partial draft of a proclamation was taken to the cabinet meeting yesterday by Atty. Gen. Daugherty, together with a number of memoranda prepared by department of justice officials relative to the points of law. It developed, however, that so many considerations were involved as to make further study of the statutes necessary.

The president and many of his advisers were represented as holding that so far as actual termination of the war was concerned, the peace resolution passed by congress and signed last Saturday by the president was sufficient. In a number of the emergency laws passed during the war, however, specific reference is made to a peace proclamation as the instrument which will terminate the war powers conferred on the executive branch of the government. It is understood that this latter consideration has weighed heavily as an argument in favor of issuance of a proclamation.

GUILTY OF ASSAULT
IN MAKING ARREST

BOSTON, July 9.—Convicted of assault and battery upon Patrick A. Collins of Newton, Patrolman Edward Neskey of Station 14, Brighton, was fined $50 yesterday by Judge Connelley in Brighton. Neskey appeared.

As a result of some trouble on a Brighton car, Collins was arrested by Patrolman Neskey on May 29 on a charge of drunkenness, and it is alleged, that the patrolman assaulted Collins while placing him under arrest.

The following statement in regard to the case of Patrolman Neskey was issued yesterday by Police Commissioner Edwin J. Connelley: "I am convinced from my knowledge of the facts in the complaint against Patrolman Neskey, that he used no more force than was necessary and shall therefore take no further steps in the matter."

LOWELL HAS LOW
INFANT MORTALITY

There was a remarkably low infant mortality in Lowell this week despite the excessively warm weather. Out of a total mortality of 20 there were only three deaths of children under one. There were five deaths of children less than five years old.

This week's total of 20 was slightly less than last week, when 23 deaths were recorded, but greater than two weeks ago when there were only 15 deaths.

There was one death from pneumonia, but there were no other deaths from contagious diseases. The contagious diseases reported included five cases of diphtheria, one of typhoid fever and two of tuberculosis.

Robbins, principal of a preparatory school at McKeesport, Pa., who last Tuesday was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $100 for his part in the tarring and feathering of Percy England of Pennington, was found guilty today on an additional charge of carrying a loaded revolver. A fine of $100 imposed by the court was appealed.

England was a witness today. He said a revolver shot was fired at the time he was seized and bound, also a threat was made that he would be killed if he sought to escape. The Robbins brothers are alleged to have resented England's attention to their sister.

COMMUNICATION

The Editor, Lowell Sun.

Sir: May I say a few words through your columns about the picture that is being shown at the Strand this week, entitled "Wing Top?"

A picture of such a nature is not only an injustice to the Chinese people, their customs and honor, but also a deadly weapon of those that try to create an ill-feeling between China and this great republic of yours. There have been repeated attempts to ridicule and disgrace China by one of our neighboring nations and it is a pity that one of the greatest transmitters of knowledge—the moving picture shows—should fall into the trap of being her ally.

No one can deny that this picture gives the deep impression to thousands of Americans that the Chinese are kidnappers and murderers. As such, the Chinese people are to be despised and hated. While your churches and other organizations are trying to foster good relations between China and this country, some of your theatres are teaching the people to hate the Chinese by means of false representations of their customs and life. Making of this kind of pictures, your famous actress, Pauline Bush, who is in China now, says "they show the most absurd ignorance of Eastern customs and thought." Is needless for me to say that "Wing Top" is also a false representation. But I want to call your attention to the fact that it is very bad policy to create in the minds of our people a hatred against the Chinese while your government is working for the harmony and peace of the world.

Deny Permit Granted to Land Cable

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Western Union Telegraph Co., has not been granted a permit to land its Barbadoes cable at Miami, Fla., it was said today at the state department. Western Union officials at Miami said last night that such a permit had been issued.

State department officers explained that permission had been given the company to make certain repairs to cables across Biscayne bay under the causeway after certain assurances had been given by the company. It was added that there had been no change in the status of the controversy between the government and the company over the landing of the Barbadoes line.

With work on the roof of the new building well under way and all other exterior work practically completed, it will be but a matter of a few weeks when workmen on the new high school addition in Kirk and Anne streets will be able to concentrate all their efforts on the interior of the building and start on the last lap of the race against time to have everything in readiness for high school students in September, 1922.

A portion of the stinging which has surrounded the new building for many months past has been removed and one can now get a very clear idea of what the structure will look like when completed. The stinging has been removed from that part of the new building which adjoins the old high school in Kirk street and 'gradually' the other walls of the new structure will be torn down. One of the most interesting features of the building now discernible is the ornamental design worked into the stone near the roof. There is nothing blatant or overwrought in the decorations, but rather a quiet exhibition of the skill of an artist in stone arrangement.

An appealing feature of the exterior of the new structure is the artistic design of the various entrances to the building. A pretty arch-effect has been employed here and is most attractive to the eye.

A glance at the roof of the building from a distance discloses scores of workmen busily engaged in putting the final touches on the exterior of the structure. The mammoth elevator erected by Contractor Daniel H. Walker in Kirk street soon after operations on the new building started is still in position and is conveying bricks, cement and other supplies to the top of the building as needed.

The territory surrounding the site of the new school addition is now congested with materials and supplies than ever before. In Anne, Kirk and Paige streets and portions of French street there are piles of stone and various other materials that will be used before the building is finished. Added activity is given the scene by a large gang of sewer department workers in French street who are now installing the sewer that will drain the big building. A few weeks ago some fear was expressed by the high school building commission that the basement of the new building would be flooded in the event of heavy rain because of the lack of proper sewerage, but City Engineer Kearney at once made arrangements for a temporary drain in Kirk street and thus the impending difficulty was eliminated. The new sewer will be ready for use early next September.

Although there is no set time specified for the completion of the building in his contract with the high school building commission, Contractor Walker says he has every reason to believe that the new addition will be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall term in September, 1922. There is a great deal of interior work to be done before that time but it is believed this can be accomplished as weather conditions will not interfere with interior work in any way.

With the completion of the roof in the near future, attention will be turned to the basement and the heating apparatus. Then will come the finishing and equipping of the three floors of the structure.

The completion of the new building is being looked forward to eagerly by the high school authorities. Next fall the school will face the most crowded condition of its career and various temporary arrangements will have to be made until the massive addition can be used.

The new building makes the present high school building look very small and miniature in comparison.

MRS. MARGARET CONWAY

Estimable Old Lady Passes Away at Her Home in Billerica

A large circle of friends in Lowell and Billerica will regret the death of Mrs. Margaret Conway, widow of the late Martin Conway and mother of Chief Martin Conway of the United States Cartridge Co., which occurred last evening at her home in High street, North Billerica, after an illness of three days. Mrs. Conway was 50 years and 4 months old. Death resulted from permanent pneumonia, following a shock. Mrs. Conway was taken seriously ill last Tuesday and gradually became worse until Thursday morning when she lost consciousness.

Postessed of an admirable character and loving disposition, Mrs. Conway easily made friends whose respect and esteem she always maintained. She was one of the best known residents of Billerica and had hundreds of friends and acquaintances in this city. She had been a resident of Billerica since 1856 and always took a keen interest in the activities of the community.

Her long span of years gave her many opportunities to do little acts of kindness that were known usually only to herself and the beneficiaries. She was an ideal mother and brought up a family of five children, all of whom have won places of respect and esteem in the communities where they live. She leaves three sons, Martin Conway, deputy sheriff and the well known chief of police of the Cartridge Co. here; John R. Conway of North Billerica, Capt. Thomas F. Conway of the Lowell fire department, and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Reilly of 68 Varnum street and Mrs. Thomas J. Callaghan of North Billerica. She also leaves seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mrs. Conway was a native of Ennis County, Ireland, and in 1856 she emigrated to America with her husband and settled in Lowell. Six months later she moved to North Billerica and resided there until the time of her death.

Throughout her life Mrs. Conway took a great and active interest in the affairs of her native land. Last February she observed the 90th anniversary of her birth at a family reunion in North Billerica and at that time she was one of the liveliest and most light-spirited of those present.

The time of the storm says that there were really two storms. The first began at 2:10, when rain fell and the second, the more serious, started shortly after 2:30. The downpour accompanying the second storm followed a terrific crash of thunder that seemed to rend asunder the earth. It was this crash that aroused most people and for the next hour or so sleep was out of the question.

Despite the fury of the storm and the abundance of lightning in the air, not a single alarm of fire was sounded here this morning. The lightning seemed to have the faculty of striking places and doing its damage without causing any ignition.

CASES CALLED IN THE POLICE COURT

Emile Demers, charged with larceny of $15 from Donna Donnette, was given a $100 fine and costs of $10 by the police court today. The sentence was suspended for two months in order to afford him an opportunity to make restitution. Donnette testified that the defendant sold him a sewing machine for $15, and that he afterwards learned that the machine was stolen property of Demers' sister, with whom the latter has been living, while out of work during the past six weeks. The sister, it was stated, was not concerned with Demers' fate, and did not appear in court. Demers promised to repay the money as soon as possible.

The case of Jan Jajuga, of Brown's court, charged with neglect of his wife, was continued for a month to give him a chance to make amends. The wife testified that he has given her no money since June 15, and that when she asked him for funds he responded that he had plenty of time in which to present her with some. The defendant explained that he needed new clothes, and for that reason had failed to contribute to the finances of his household.

Sarah Cryan and Frank Desautel were each sentenced to two months in the house of correction on drunkenness charges. They both appealed, and were held in $200 bonds. It was testified that together with Joseph McGinn, who was fined $10, they were acting in a disgraceful manner on the South common. Three drunkards were released by the probation officer.

The case of Stanislas Gackiewicz, charged with assault and battery on William Pupkis, a small boy who exhibited to the court a large bruise on his right leg, was continued to July 14. Both parties in the case are Tewksbury residents.

William E. McCarthy and Edward F. Waters were each sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction on charges of disorderly conduct. McCarthy had been charged with glass breaking at two Middlesex street stores. Continuance was taken on some time ago to permit of restitution by the defendants, the latter two of whom settled today to the amount of $1752 each.

The case of Frank P. Curtis, charged with drunkenness and also with driving an automobile while intoxicated, was put over to July 12 at his request. He was advised to get counsel, as

Gardens Laid Low

The storm pelted down with such fury that gardens in all parts of the city and in most of the surrounding towns were laid low and much damage caused. Corn, which was just beginning to attain a considerable height, was flattened to the ground but with the return of the sun they will rise again, expert gardeners say. However, other more delicate growths were uprooted and destroyed in many places.
